

SENIORS ARE ALIVE — BEAT FROSH 101-69

Wednesday night, February 11 became a fateful night for the Freshmen.

The Freshmen, who were coming off a loss to the mighty Faculty, were looking for their first win of the second semester. The only obstacle they ran into was the shields of the Black Knights, better known as the "old men," or Seniors.

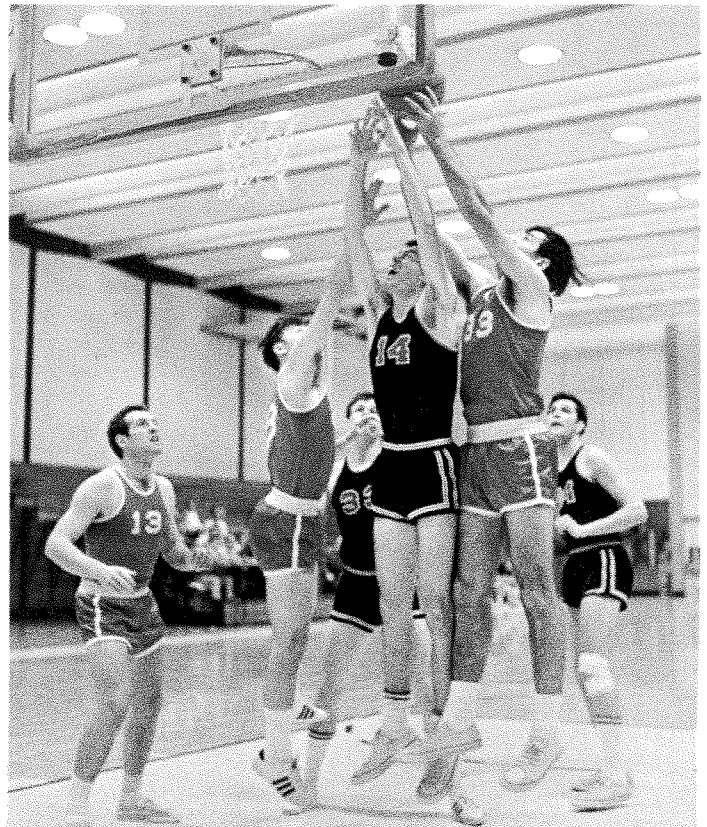

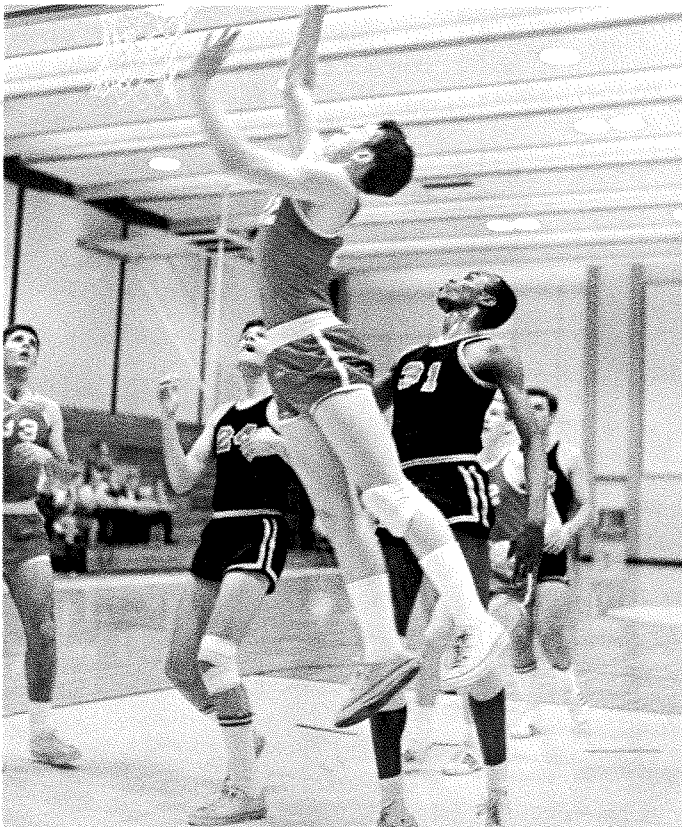

As the game got under way, one thing was clear, neither team was playing very well. Both teams had an amazing number of turnovers. The majority of these consisted of walking! As one walking call after another was called, one of the referees was overheard to ask if anyone knew how to dribble the ball. This was no overstatement. Combined, both teams had almost 50 turnovers!

A look at the statistical part of the game reveals this: The Freshmen were out-rebounded, out-assisted, out-turned, and most important of all, out-pointed. The Freshmen did not come out on top in any category. The Seniors had three times as many defensive rebounds as the Frosh. As the offensive rebounds were pretty close, this proves one thing: The Seniors were not missing very many of their shots, and the Frosh, on the other

Yes, it was another verse of the same song. This time the verse was about the Sophomores. At the very first of the game, it looked like there would be different music sung, however.

At the opening tip-off the Sophomores took it away from the Faculty but didn't score. Down the floor the Faculty rolled for their first try at a basket. They missed also! Again the Sophomores took off and this time they didn't miss. First blood. They were leading 2 to 0! Two points and they were on their way. But the Faculty came back on a foul. Then the Sophomores took over the game for five minutes. The Faculty were missing their shots and the Sophomores were hot. With Steve Gereaux hitting from his favorite corner baseline shot and Mike Portune driving around, popping them in from 20 feet, the Sophomores drew ahead. But, the Faculty soon proved why they are unbeaten. Fast breaks, fine assists soon broke the Sophomores' backs and the Faculty soon caught up and passed them. They pounded the Sophomores unmercifully and led by 21 points at the half. The Sophomores just could not stop the rolling faculty.

The second half was all Faculty's. The lead didn't show any change at the end of the game, but they were substituting freely, as were the Sophomores.

In the second half Mr. Armstrong was the hottest man on the court. He hit a record 7 out of 8 for 14 points before he was pulled out for a rest.

Mr. Williams was another bright spot for the Faculty. He pulled down an amazing 21 rebounds, 17 of which were defensive rebounds.

The one item that stood out above all else again was the fine teamwork hand, were missing a considerable amount.

The Seniors seemed to be out to prove once and for all they were not the old men of yesteryear. With seven minutes remaining, and a very commanding 30-point lead, the second string came in.

The one real exciting point of the game came then. Could the Seniors break a hundred? They only had to score seventeen points to do it, and they had seven whole minutes.

With only seconds remaining, seven to be exact, and only one more basket to go, the Seniors got the ball at the Freshman end of the court. The now-familiar zone press went into force to try to hold the Seniors down below the hundred mark. The ball was thrown in to Wild Bill Kelly, who immediately drove down the floor all the way to the basket. Up he went for the shot and MISSED! The rebound went to balding Virgil Williams and he didn't miss his shot. The Seniors had won! The final score: 101 to 69.

of the Faculty. The final score was 94 to 72.

The next challenge the Faculty faces will be the Kosanke-led Juniors. Will these men-in-gold be able to stop the mighty Faculty?

First Half, Second Half, & the Other Half: Radiant Reds Battle Beautiful Blues

The Radiant Reds defeated the Beautiful Blues in a spine-tingling game of exciting basketball. And I do mean radiant and beautiful — this was none other than (gulp) girls' basketball at its finest!

Marsha Whitley and Kay Jantzen with 14 points apiece led the Reds (in uniform only) over a great individual effort by the Blues' Pam Moss. Pam scored 22 of her team's 30 points. In fact, after Pam no one on the blues scored more than 2 points!

In girls' basketball there are four quarters — each 7 minutes long. The first quarter of the first Saturday night went into the second quarter leading by 10 points, 14-4!

The second quarter was a complete reversal of the first, as the Blues outscored the Reds 12-4. Pam Moss led the Blues' comeback with her beautiful running drives, including 2 clutch baskets in the last 35 seconds. Half-time score: Reds 18, Blues 16.

Pam began the third quarter with an over-the-shoulder shot that threaded the loop and tied the score 18-all. Then Marsha and Kay went on a rampage, scoring 10 points between them and shooting the Big Red to an overwhelming 28-18 lead.

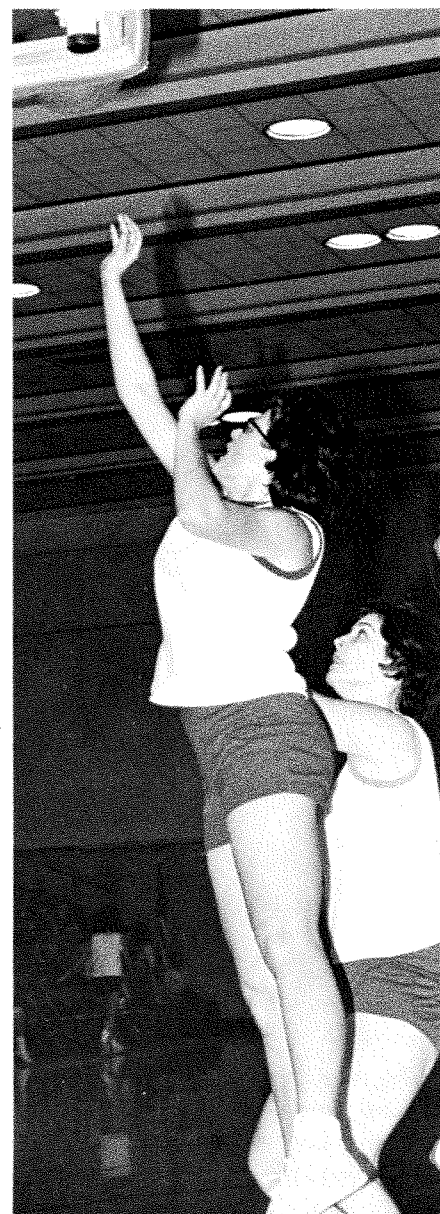

girls' basketball game in history for the Pasadena campus began with the Reds inbounding the ball. After a minute and a half of fierce defensive action and missed shots, Cindy Dubry passed to Kay Jantzen cutting across the key. Kay drove toward the basket, flipped the ball up and — SWISH! The Reds were on the scoreboard first!

Sheryl Kelly followed with a stumble-shot to tie the score for the blues. But the rest of the first quarter was all Reds. Marsha Whitley scored 4 baskets — all within one minute's time. Kay Jantzen scored 2 more and the Reds Things looked blue for the Blues. Suddenly they found a combination that clicked. Sheryl Kelly fed Pam Moss with three assists, Marilyn Williams scored a basket and the Reds' big lead was gradually whittled down to only 2 points, 30-28 with 3:20 left in the game!

Could the Blues keep their momentum and surge past the Reds? The jam-packed stands buzzed with excitement!

Just as the Blues looked like they were going to run away and hide, none other than Jill Conover came in and saved the game for the Reds. She scored a basket and then promptly stole the Blues' in-bounds pass. After stealing the pass, she went up (the closest thing to a jump shot seen in the game) and scored again!

Marsha Whitley and Laureen (Lollipop) Houghtaling added insurance buckets and the Reds finally won by 8 points 38-30!

Most observers of the game agree that the Reds definitely need more practice before they take on the Faculty. However, what the girls lacked in finesse they made up for in enthusiasm! This enthusiasm was shared by the spectators — it was fun to watch all the way! Better luck next time, Blues. All you need is to gather more Moss!
