Bricket Wood's Press Chief Visits Pasadena

Here for a fortnight's stay and intensive training in the Ambassador College Press programme is the head of the Press in England, Mr. John Butterfield.

Mr. Butterfield, you might say, is a bit of a traveler by anyone's standards. He knows the British Isles by heart and has traversed the Continent as well. Italy, Switzerland and Germany are a few of the countries he has visited. One of the many persons he has entertained in his home is Sir Winston Churchill, a rather important figure in English history.

The purpose for his coming abroad is to learn new techniques to be employed in improving the quality of the La Pure Verite Expands To Thirty-two Pages!!

This coming June will mark the first anniversary for La PURE VERITE. As Mr. Dibar Apartian said in this exclusive interview, "It's amazing how fast God's Work can grow! For this coming June issue will increase in size from 24 to 32 truth-filled pages!"

In just twelve issues it has become worthwhile and necessary to keep up with the growth of the French Work to take this big step forward!

Mr. Herbert W. Armstrong has written a special editorial for the forthcoming magazine. It describes the TREMENDOUS GROWTH of the French Work in Europe, French Canada, and throughout the French-speaking areas of the world, like Mozambique on the east coast of South Africa. With the expansion of the French Department and the acquisition of the Geneva office—

“Whazzit?”

The Israelites had their “what’s it” in the wilderness, but we have a new “what’s it” on Ambassador College campus!!

The Construction and Maintenance office is USING this peculiar looking creature. It is not edible, but makes conglomerate, squeaking noises at times. In the hands of the wrong individual, this object could be trouble. The long, rectangular, box-like apparatus has an odd looking wire sticking out of it that protrudes into the air, but suddenly stops short. It is not a telephone, because the wire is not long enough to reach another audible telephonic apparatus. “What’s it?”

It can be used by a “ham,” but he doesn’t dare put the “squelch” on it. You think you’ve guessed “what’s it?” No, it is not a band of pigs squealing in a rectangular pen with an electric fence around it. This device indirectly walks and talks, however, and is called by the name walkie-talkie. It has been instrumental in preserving precious seconds for the Construction and Maintenance office. Don’t be alarmed if you see “what’s it”!!

Are You Satisfied With Mediocrity?

by Walter Sharp

God has called YOU here for a vital purpose. You are to be molded in just four short years into a highly competent leader of scores and probably even hundreds of people—people called to attain a goal far greater than any human could naturally envision!

Knowing this, can you afford to be SATISFIED WITH MEDIOCRITY? A leader of people with such a goal cannot be content with just slipping through, but must be outstandingly productive.

A person who is mediocre is not a leader! He cannot and will not be fit to lead anything if he is satisfied to just get by—satisfied to produce with a run of the mill precision and rate. People need a leader. They pattern themselves after him. If you are satisfied with yourself and your rate of growth and production, the ones you will be leading in the future will be self-satisfied as you are!

Students, we have got to be outstandingly productive NOW or we can NEVER be a productive leader in the future. We have got to be “ALL THE WAY” in everything we do—not content with mediocrity!

Jesus Christ was the perfect producer. He has produced the most—with the highest quality. He is our example and we need to follow Him a great deal more closely! Christ is not satisfied with being mediocre!

Here are some positive things you can do to cease being mediocre—to begin producing more:

BE DISSATISFIED WITH YOUR PRESENT RATE OF PRODUCTION! The person who is mediocre is usually self-satisfied. Analyze yourself honestly. Are you really doing as much as you could? Everyone of us could produce more if he had the desire!

HAVE A GOAL AND WORK HARD TOWARD IT! The first law of success in any undertaking is having a goal. Realize you are not producing what you should be and determine a goal of more production. Realize mediocrity is not good enough and do something about it!

ORGANIZE YOURSELF! One of the biggest causes for wasted time is lack of organization. Get organized! God Almighty has every minute detail of this universe and every intricate happening set on schedule—God is the perfect organizer and does not waste time. Be you followers—imitators—of God!

CONCENTRATE ON WHAT YOU ARE DOING AT THE TIME YOU ARE DOING IT! Work hard when you work—put your whole being into the job at hand. If you are in class, don’t be satisfied to sit and do nothing. When you can contribute, do it! Throw yourself wholeheartedly into that class—into that Ambassador Club! Don’t sit with a pleasant smile and nod your head, acting interested—jump in and participate.

The trouble with many is that they lack the desire to accomplish any more than they are already doing. They may delude themselves into thinking they do, but if they really did, there would be more produced. What a human being wants to do, he will do!

Realize you CAN and need to produce more—become dissatisfied with your present rate of production—change it! Once you are dissatisfied and have the desire, you are on your way.

World Tomorrow Broadcast Has Special Audience

The WORLD TOMORROW now thunders around the globe with over 22 million watts of power every week!

This represents a TREMENDOUS investment!

How can we be sure that God's message is being faithfully sent out in a creditable fashion by a station over 3000 miles away?

By over 125 radio station monitors! These specially selected members and co-workers listen intently to every program. They then report in detail on the quality with which each station airs the broadcast.

Special news stories—such as the recent meeting between President Lopez Mateos of Mexico and President Lyndon Johnson—may pre-empt The WORLD TOMORROW. But ordinarily there should be no interruption of the program schedule. Here's where the monitors come in.

From Asia, from the United States, from the Caribbean, even from Latin America, the station monitors airmail their reports to Pasadena.

Upon arrival they are carefully checked by our monitor co-ordinator,

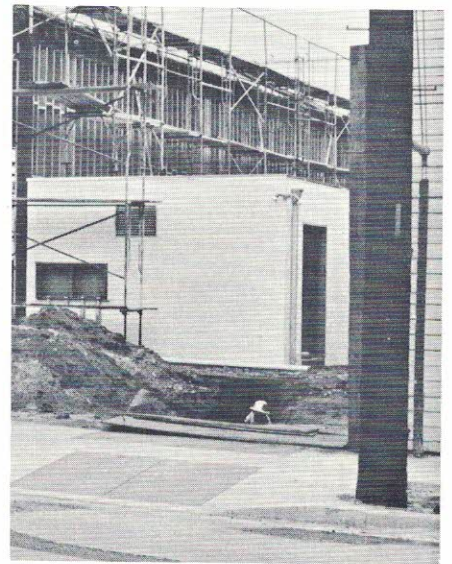

Mr. Marion McNair. Especially noted are discrepancies involving program order which are harmful in retaining audience interest.

Out of the 125 weekly reports, an average of 25-30 stations make the "discrepancy list." This results in a sizeable credit coming to God's Work—a credit which would not be possible without the monitor system.

The discrepancies are relayed to Mr. Norman Smith, manager of the radio studio, and to Mr. Milton Scott, our advertising representative. Mr. Scott then makes the necessary financial adjustments with the stations.

With nearly a third of the annual budget going into radio broadcasting, an alert monitor system is vital. It is a serious task—yet the team of church members and reliable co-workers who fill this function do so without any remuneration.

They regard their great responsibility as a tremendous OPPORTUNITY—a chance to help and serve! And they make up the special audience of The WORLD TOMORROW!

One tin hat descends into the pit.

"Mo-holes" Dug And Filled

As night drew near on March 7, four sinister-looking characters met on the corner of Vernon and Green, site of two recent "bottomless pits." A short parley was held in the shadows. Then, one at a time, they leaped into one huge abyss. From the yawning chasm came the words,

"Is the turtle gassed up." (Turtle is a slang term for tamper!)

"Yes!" was the eager cry.

"OK. start her up."

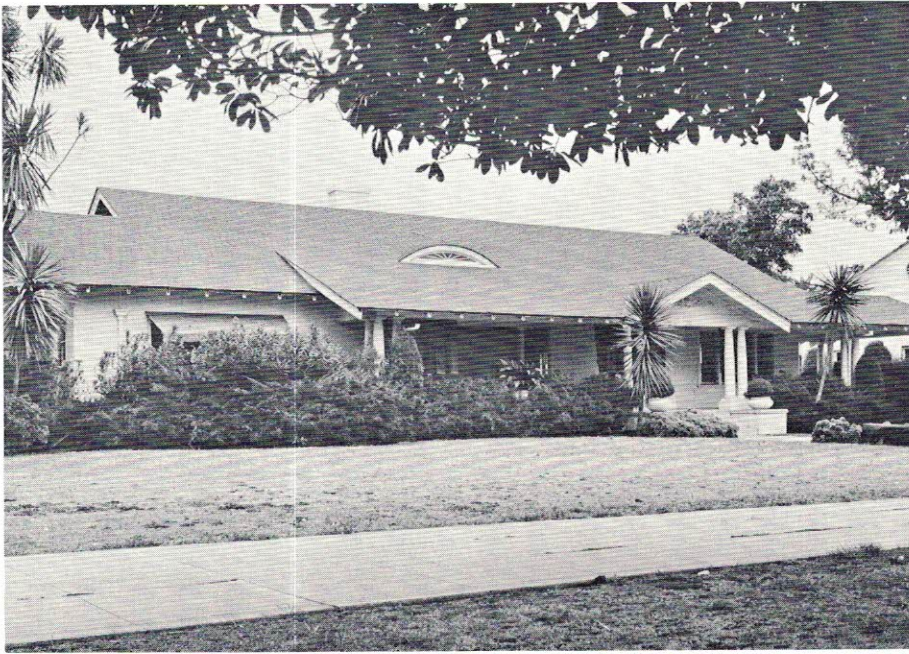

Soon a deafening roar penetrated the serene March night. The ground began to vibrate as if a volcano were about to erupt. THE CONSTRUCTION CREW HAD STARTED WORK!

Because of the urgency of completing the renovation of the housing for the new web-fed press, many of the men working on the project are having to work every spare minute. This particular evening it was mandatory to finish filling and tamping the excavations on the west side of the buildings. These excavations were to permit the drilling of a hole 20 inches in diameter under both Vernon and Green Streets. Tubes for electrical conduits were inserted to provide electricity for the northeast area of the campus.

The monumental task of preparing the building for gigantic presses continues and will be completed in the near future.

Handball Tourney begins: See page 8 for details.

Mr. Portune receives beautiful new home.

Mr. Portune Blessed With New Home

The comfortable looking house at 310 South Orange Grove appears almost deserted, with its boarded-up windows. But it won't remain that way long, for Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Portune and family will soon be moving in.

The college recently acquired possession of this residence, and it is undergoing remodelling by the Thomas P. Reid Company. Mr. Dwain Bechthold, employed by the drafting office for the construction office, is helping with contractor plans.

Spacious is the best description of this white house nestled among cedar shrubs and trees. It has a large living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, and guest room, plus a long hall in the right wing that leads to three bedrooms and a study for Mr. Portune. In back is a patio, plus a garage with another room attached.

The residence is located to the south of Dr. Hoeh's home and across the street. In approximately two months, the Portune family will be moving from their present cramped quarters to one more fitting their needs.

Ambassador Clubs Plan Activities For Spring Recess

"Hey, John! What's your club doing during the break?" "I don't know yet—it depends on what we adopt in New Business tonight." But the fact is most of the clubs have decided on some activity for the break. Here's what is on tap!

Sunday A and Thursday A are planning a combined "Grunion Hunt." As soon as they know when the Grunion will be co-operating, final plans will be made. Sunday A is also planning a mountain hike.

Sunday B, the Spanish Ambassador Club, is planning to open up to the student body a trip to see the world's most famous guitarist, Andrés Segovia.

Monday A and B show that they are using originality in what they have chosen to do. Both have scheduled trips to Marineland and San Pedro for a Harbor Cruise.

Tuesday B has planned to have a Ladies Night at the Pepper Mill. Each member is looking forward to an evening of "wine, women, and song" . . . well, at least SONG!

Tuesday A and Thursday B are still thinking!

Confidential . . . Men Only!

Do you have those springtime dol-drumms? Does your hand feel just like a ten-pound weight as you pick up the telephone to call for a date? Friend, what you need is not a kick in the pants, but a get-your-date-system.

There is more than one way to skin a cat. As you stand in line at Mayfair, you may break into the conversation with a hearty, "And say, how about going to Sabbath Services with me this week?" This method must be used judiciously; but where is a more likely place to encounter a charming co-ed?

For the less daring souls among us, the casual meeting-as-you-walk-the-campus method is fine. As you zoom toward work, to make the 8 o'clock bell, take notice of that co-ed five steps behind you. As she dashes along with you, how can she say "no" when she's half out of breath.

Last but not least, there is the telephone, man's best friend at Ambassador. By perseverance and resourcefulness, the telephone can be like a tool in the hands of a master craftsman. Diligently, call each floor of the women's dormitories, exhausting all the possibilities. Then a stroke of genius may be necessary. Have a friend dial a floor for you and ask for your prospective date. When she comes to the phone, your friend may hand the phone to you—an artful and purposeful deception. The women will never suspect this is your second time around.

Life is the art of drawing without an eraser. —John Christian

GERMAN BAPTIZING TOUR PLANNED THIS SUMMER

According to present tentative plans, Mr. Ronald Kelly and his wife have a BIG summer ahead of them. They will be flying to New York for Pentecost, and after a three-day stopover there, will go directly to the office in Germany. Then, while Mrs. Kelly remains at the office, Mr. Kelly and Mr. Frank Schnee will embark on a five-week baptizing tour among the German people.

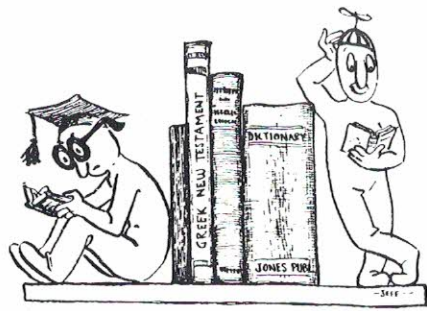

At the end of the five-week period, plans are to take a week off and possibly visit Rome. This would be a welcome break, as well as valuable experience.

After this, two or three more weeks, depending on the need, will be spent in completing the tour. Besides providing an opportunity for some much-needed visits to possible members of God's Church in Germany, the trip will allow Mr. Schnee to be in contact with one of God's ministers for a period of eight weeks. This contact will be very influential in improving Mr. Schnee's usefulness and capabilities in the German work.

The trip will also enable Mr. Kelly to become more thoroughly acquainted with the German language. Living among the people who speak a language is the quickest way to learn that language, and Mr. Kelly will be taking full advantage of this factor in preparation for the classes in German he will be teaching at Ambassador College—Big Sandy!

At the close of the tour in late July or August, the Kellys will probably spend several days at Bricket Wood. And then—home! But home will not be Pasadena. It will be a beautiful new house overlooking Lake Loma on the Big Sandy campus!

Library Lookout

It is true that certain animals are numbskulls, Grade A morons. But on the other hand, several psychologists have found themselves being outwitted by chimpanzees on their own tests! And one psychologist who pitted a group of college students (obviously not Ambassadors!) against a group of white rats on a maze test was astonished to find out that the students came out a poor second! Certain animals, like man, are prone to vanity, jealousy, snootiness and impishness. So says the brilliant author, Vance Packard, as he unfolds for you, in the pages of The Human Side of Animals, many of the more surprising findings about the way animals really behave. This book is a highly recommended, quickly read, new illustrated paperback.

The New Century Classical Handbook, 1162 pages, 6000 entries, over 200 illustrations, describes the personalities, ideas and accomplishments of Classical Greece and Rome. Entries, in alphabetical order, range over archaeology, art, history, mythology, philosophy, religion, and other such subjects. It also contains special articles on religion, gods, heroes, monsters, and depicts ancient ideas on these subjects. The goal of the Handbook is stated as "to combine in one reference work information now scattered through hundreds of books, to arrange it so that this information will be quickly and easily found, and to present it in a stimulating and informative manner." The editors are to be commended for their achievement. Look up this volume—you'll be glad you did!

Ambassador Club Visits KNBC

The men in the Thursday Night Ambassador Clubs, with their dates, visited KNBC (channel 4—T.V.) in Burbank Thursday night, March 12th.

After a quick Mayfair meal at 5:45, they piled into busses headed for the studio. They sat among the studio audience witnessing two half-hour programs of Your First Impression being recorded on video-tape. After seeing this quiz show, they were given a special tour of the television studio, and were taken through various departments. As the tour progressed, the students were amazed at the detail required to produce a top-notch broadcast!

Everyone returned to the campus shortly after ten with a clearer idea of the HUGE TASK television will be.

printed material sent to the English, French and German listeners of The World Tomorrow programme in each of the respective languages.

He arrived in Los Angeles after a flight in an aeroplane from London. A brief ride in the MTA tube, then a short motor tour to the campus offered a brief look at the Los Angeles basin.

He'll be returning to Britain shortly with a large supply of slides and pictures of the Pasadena Campus. Be sure you visit with him while he is here. You'll find him quite an interesting man.

BASKETBALL IN REVIEW

The Juniors clinched the basketball tournament Sunday with an 80-61 victory over the Faculty. Their record stands at 9-0 contrasted to the Faculty's 6-3 with one meeting left between the two squads. All other action is completed. A last game loss to the Juniors will throw the Faculty into a 3-way tie for second place with the Sophomores and Freshmen.

The Freshman five finally put the damper on a six game Faculty winning streak—69-61. Mr. Armstrong poured in 21 points for the losers, but it wasn't enough to offset Nelson Haas' solid 28. To further consternate the floundering Faculty, the Sophomores nipped them 71-69 in a squeaker; the Juniors 80-61 in a run-away.

And the Juniors kept rolling . . . not only wanting to protect their impeccable record, the Junior squad seems determined to rewrite all the record books. They buried the Seniors under an avalanche 112-45 with six men hitting double figures and Petty, Pyle and Crosswell over 20!

Then they yawningly took on the Freshmen only to find themselves in dire straits 68-68 with a minute left!! A couple of rapid-fire fast breaks turned the tide in time to preserve their record—BARELY. Jim Petty led scorers with a whopping 31 points.

Finishing strong, the Sophomores won three games, the unprecedented victory over the Faculty giving them impetus to coast over the Seniors 75-60 in a free-wheeling contest. Jerry Baker racked up 28 points and Ken Westby reinjured a bothersome knee but it wasn't good enough. In a "slaughter" they called out the bench jockeys and still mercilessly mangled the woebegone graduates 94-56.

The Seniors finally settled the cellar-door question by vanquishing the Graduates 61-30 to wind up their season with a 2-8 record. The Freshmen planted flowers on the Graduate grave 62-50 and sealed the tomb at 0-10 for the season.

administration offices have been divested of all resemblance to offices in order to transform them into a darkroom and film-processing plant. The gigantic 102 x 150-foot building will be face-lifted with sheetrock and plaster walls to match the "press building" across the street. The new wall will extend high enough to form a façade, shielding from view the antiquated, saw-toothed roof. Inside, the crude-looking rough-hewn pillars will be sheetrock encased. Acoustical tile will form the ceiling.

Gymnasium

Workmen scurry about as final forms are being constructed to lay the foundation for the new multi-purpose gymnasium. Thirty-foot "pillars" have already been poured—underground. And the foundation for the dressing rooms has already been run.

Press Annex

A golden Monarch has emerged from its cadaverous cocoon! By the time this article is published, the remodelled Press Annex will have been completely refurbished.

The new decor epitomizes the personality of Letter Answering Department which will occupy the structure.

The birch-paneled entrance is enhanced by an attractively designed planter box. From the tile entrance, luxurious golden carpets wend from room to room, up the stairs, and throughout the second story. Brilliant rays of the sun filter through two skylights which lend an uplifting natural light.

Now with over 150 letters per week coming in, it is becoming increasingly vital to wake the French people up to the significance of the fast-approaching end times. Mr. Armstrong's editorial shows how important this move in the magazine is in view of the end-time prophecies.

In addition, it is planned that La

Most people would enjoy living the simple life if the way back to it weren't so complicated.

On the Agenda... Don't Miss it!

The vast White Wilderness is the home of some of the most savage as well as some of the most gentle creatures on our continent. From the mysterious, frost-bitten Arctic regions comes this magnificent True Life Adventure. The polar bear, gray wolf, musk ox, wolverine, caribou, whale and reindeer are the stars of the amazing wildlife epic.

Rounding out an all-Disney program is the precedent-setting production which tells the story of Our Friend the Atom and its potential future in the service of peace and progress.

This two-hour film program in big screen and technicolor is one of the best yet. Better jot down the date and plan for a wonderful evening—April 11, at the Shakespeare Club. Don't miss it!

Handball Tourney Now Under Way

Field Day, 1964, for Ambassador College has already started! Mr. Bernell Michel made up a schedule for singles and doubles handball tournament play-offs. Those students signed up for this tourney are giving it "all they've got"—trying to give their class an early lead for Field Day. Whether individual class teams or upper class vs. lower class will be used this year is still undecided. However, Mr. Michel took this into consideration when arranging the schedule.

The faculty, department heads, and ministers will be in a different tournament, playing the employees of Ambassador College.

Plenty of action, suspense, and fine handball playing is promised, so come down to the courts and cheer your favorite players to victory.

Tarzan of Grove Manor!

In the dim light of the morning, a Sophomore of Grove Manor made his way to the prayer rooms. They were occupied. Undefeated by this little problem he used a closet instead. There seemed no need of wasting time or altering his schedule.

A few minutes later, he found himself locked in. Rather than disturb his roommates, he squeezed through a small window leading out to the balcony on the second floor. After much straining and pulling, he discovered the balcony doors were locked also. "Ah—a tree!" Our beginning Tarzan swung stealthily out on a limb and slid the remaining twelve feet to the ground—none the worse for wear—except a red face and torn pants. He crept back up to his dorm.

COMPLAINT FROM THE GARDENERS

The Sophomore man who has been swinging in the trees around Grove Manor in the early morning hours—try to avoid this as much as possible. We are sorry that, as you were using the clothes closet for a prayer booth, the door became stuck and you had to crawl out the little window onto the second floor balcony. Even if the balcony doors were locked from the inside you didn't have to swing out, grab a limb and slide down a tree. This weight puts a terrible strain on the trees. By the way, there is a girl in 390 who is pretty good at repairing torn pants. Good luck!
