not. This saying of the Savior, so often quoted not. This say is to disprove any knowledge of his coming before the event takes place, is the great argument of our Lord to make the importance of watching appear a necessity among his followers. Let us hear him a few moments: 'Watch therefore (i.e., for this reason); for ye know neither the day nor the hour hour wherein the Son of Man com. eth.' 'But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father only. Take heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is. For the Son of Man is as a man taking a far journey who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch. Watch ye therefore; for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cockerowing, or in the morning: lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping; and what I say unto you, I say unto all, Watch.

But what is the benefit of this watching if no information is obtained? Let us hear the testimony of Paul about it; he ought to know. First he tells of some being overtaken by the day of the Lord as a thief in the night, and then adds the contrast: 'But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief. Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day; we are not of the night, nor of darkness. 2nd Thess. 5. Oh that this light and truth may to us shine in its glori. ous splendor, and that we may show it to our fellow mortals.

Advent and Sabbath Advocate.

"THY WORD IS A LAMP UNTO MY FEET AND A LIGHT UNTO MY PATH."

VOL. IX.

Marion, Iowa, Third-day, February 16, 1875.

NO. 24.

The Advent and Sabbath Advocate,

IS PUBLISHED SEMI-MONTHLY BY JACOB BRINKERHOFF, at Marion, Iowa, to whom all communications should be addressed.

TERMS.-One dollar and a half per year. Free to those anable to pay. Specimen copies sent free.

THE ADVOCATE is devoted to the promulga-Christ, The Signs of the Times, The duty of mankind to observe the Bible Sabbath (the seventh day of the week,) together with the other Commandments of God, The Nature of Man, his Unconscious state in Death, The End of the Wicked, The Earth restored to its original glory and condition as the future inheritance and abode of the Redeemed and the Kingdom of God, The Atonement and Redemption by Jesus Christ, The Prophecies, The Christian Life, and kindred Bible subjects.

To Britain's Sabbath-keepers.

S. E. BRINKERHOFF.

COME, strike your harps, ye noble ones, Who fight on British soil; Arise and gird your armor on-Like valiant soldiers toil. Ye lonely ones who love the truth, And keep God's blest commands, Go onward in the strength of God-He will uphold your hands.

Go sound aloud the Sabbath truth. Where once your fathers bled, Where martyrs at the stake were burned, Like sheep to slaughter led. They died that you might have God's word, Untouched by Popish creeds-Go sound aloud this hallowed truth, And imitate their deeds.

Take courage, faint not by the way, Though lonely you may be, Though few may hear your loud appeals From man-made creeds to flee. But few the truth of God will heed-But few his laws obey, But few will turn from Papal creeds To keep the seventh day.

But courage take, ye lonely ones, God will his law maintain, The Sabbath truth will yet shine forth, Though long in darkness lain. From Scotland's hills and Erin's isle, And London's busy streets, Shall songs of praise to God arise, Who with his people meets.

Then faint not, fear not by the way, Though loud the billows roar; Be valiant for the truth of God, Think what your fathers bore. Think of what God has done for you-How Jesus bled and died-And may you still God's law obey, And in his love abide.

Six Angel Messages.

SAMUFI, DAVISON.

ted the righteous vengance of God upon incorrigible transgressors. It was therefore in full acsaw the seven angels which stood before God; and to them were given seven trumpets.' These were all alarm trumpets, such as the seven priests blew when the army of Israel marched around the city of Jericho. As those alarms warned the Canaanites of the judgments of God gon of the doctrines of The Second Advent of coming upon them, so in these alarm trumpets of Revelation, chapters 8, 9, are given warnings to those Christian nations which have perverted Christian doctrines, and corrupted the whole earth with their adulterous admixtures of paganism with the doctrines of Christ the Lord. Four of the seven announced the calamitics that befel the ancient Pagan empire of Rome, until they produced a revolution professedly in favor of Christianity; but as they repented not of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts, the three following trumpets an nounced woes to come upon them to torment them, until in the end they should utterly perish from the earth.

When the sixth angel had sounded, and the second woe was being inflicted, 'another mighty angel came down from heaven, clothed with a cloud, and a rainbow upon his head; his face as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire, and in his hand a little book open; and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot upon the land, and cried with a loud voice as a lion roars. The two woes that are passed arose in the east, and the prophecies accompanying them had respect mostly to the state of the eastern churches; but the position in which this great angel appears indicates that what is to follow is mostly concerning the western part of the Empire of Rome. To John in the Isle of Patmos, his face would be toward the east, consequently he must have been standing over the western part of the empire, and his mission was evidently concerning events in that part of the world. The sixth angel's trumpet announced the loosing of four angels to the conquest of the Euphratean part of the empire; and by them the third part of men, i. e., men of mark, and of office were killed; and the rest of the men which were not killed by those plagues must, by correspondence, have been the powers of the western part of the empire.

To the west, then, we look for the seven voices and the seven thunders. These we find in the movements of the German and British Protestants, who lifted up their voices against the corruptions of the papal church; and the thunders we find in their wars with the Catholic nations against the claims of the Catholic church. The purport of the oath that he swears, is, that the mystery of God which was showed to his ser-THE ministry of angels is a doctrine recog- vants the prophets, shall be finished in the days nized in all the holy Scriptures, containing the of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall Hebrew and the Christian faith. ets. And as one event follows another, we are prone to say, How long, Lord, dost thou not cord with the Jewish faith that John said, 'I avenge the wrongs suffered by thy people, upon them that dwell upon the earth? What wonder then if when this mighty angel appeared with a little book in his hand, indicative of other prophecies to be announced, John should feel a disappointment at the apparent delay it must make ere the kingdom of God shall be revealed! To assure him and all the servants of God that come after him of the exact fulfillment of all his prophetic words, he sets one foot on the sea, and another on the land, as an as-urance that his commission extends over both; and swears by him that lives forever and ever, who created heaven and the things therein, and the earth and the things therein, and the sea and the things therein, that all that God hath showed to the prophets shall be finished in the time of the sounding of the seventh angel. John would have written the things which the voices of the seven thunders uttered, but a voice from heaven torbid him; the same voice now spake unto him again, and told him to go and take the little book out of the angel's hand; and as he took it the angel bade him eat it up, telling him it would be sweet in his mouth but bitter in his belly, and that he must prophesy again concerning many nations, and tongues, and kings. These are, without doubt, the western nations, and tongues, and kings, where the most important affairs of the church would, from that time forward, transpire. Accordingly there is given a direction to distinguish the true servants of God from the mass of outside worshipers; and a history of the two witnesses which God has chosen to testify for him through a period of darkness and superstition and persecution; until in the end of the time alloted to their ministry, an earthquake shakes down a tenth part of the great symbolic city of the nations; and seven thousand men of name; men of the title of nobility, were slain, never more to rise again. Here it is said, The rest became afraid and gave glory to the God of heaven. After the fall of the French royal family, and the destruction of their nobility, the rest of the titled families of the nations have been afraid to push their assumed prerogatives too far, lest they provoke similar disasters upon themselves.

At this period of the prophecy it is announced that 'The second woe is passed, behold the third woe cometh quickly.' From this circumstance it appears that although the second woe brought in the Turkish horsemen, and gave them a period of 391 years for to slay the third part of men, it does not follow that their empire was then to be overthrown, nor that the woe was confined to them; they began their conquest in 1281, and ended in 1672; but if the second woe reached down to the fall of the tenth part of the city, or the fall of the kingdom of France, it extended to 1791. This I suppose is so; and the reason why this is reckoned with the second woe, is, ness and mercy to the ancient fathers of the whose life are given as threescore and ten, the that it was the second wee that brought gunpow der and firearms into use; and by these were the third part of men killed. And in the great southern rebellion of the Confeder. ate States of America, many were put to death becase they would not worship that bloody of. igarchy; and it is probable that in apparently approaching convulsions, similar scenes will yet transpire. All through these scenes of judg. ment there have been many who have kept the faith of Jesus, not only as he now is, the media. tor between God and man, but many have also continued to look for him as the king of Zion, the ruler of the world redeemed from the dominion of the princes of this world; and in so doing have need of patience until his coming takes place. At length John sees the Lord himself in a waiting posture. He is sitting upon a white cloud, having on his head a gold. en crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

4. 'And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in thy sickle and reap, for the harvest of the earth is ripe. And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle and the harvest of the earth was reaped.' The whole connection and the drift of these prophetic scenes, all show that it was not a harvest of converts to the faith of the gospel; for in the ultimate issue of this reaping, blood flows, or spirts, so as to reach to the horses' bridles. It is a judgment scene, to show the nations that God's day of vengeance upon the perverters of his word is hastening on; nd that if they would escape the vengeance of eaven it is time they turned from their iniquiies to worship him that made heaven, earth, eas, and all that are therein.

The ripening harvest is like that of the anent Canaanites; it comes when their iniquities re full. Such, I suppose was the state of France ad of most of the papal nations when the judgents of God came upon them in the latter part the last century and the beginning of this. nd so, if this view of the matter be correct, e harvest of the earth is reaped. The Bourbon inces of those nations are overthrown, and ost of them have perished. The Napoleons, st, second, and third, are gone the way of all e earth. Change of the Sabbath and the Jews.

The professed change of the Sabbath from the seventh day of the week to the first is a great barrier in the way of the conversion of the Jews to Christ. The greater part of the professed Christno reason why he should renounce the Sabbath had planted or imprinted his foot." God gave to his fathers in order to become a Christian. He cannot see why, in the sacrifice of Jesus as the veritable atonement for the sin of the world, and in his sacrifice taking the place of the Ceremonial law, and faith in that work being the basis of salvation, why that should in any way affect the keeping of the Sabbath-day. The Israelite knows that under the Mosaic dispensation the weekly Sabbath was no part of their system of types and shadows prefiguring the death and atonement of Christ, that "handwriting of ordinances," which he took "out of the way, nailing it to the cross," and therefore can see no reason why a Christian should consider the Sabbath abrogated or changed from its original day to the day of the Savior's resurrection. Can see no reason why the day of Christ's resurrection should be a sacred time more than the day of his crucifixion, or why the resurrection day should take the place of the Sabbath more than the crucifixion day, and can see no reason for keeping first day instead of the seventh if he embraces Christ-

We believe that the teaching of the change of the Sabbath, or its abrogation, is a great barrier in the attempt to Christianize the Jews or individuals among them. Let the Christian world cease their opposition to the Bible Sabbath and the observance of a day in its stead whose highest authority, as a celebrated church historian (Neander) has said, is from the heathen world and was only a heathen festival. Let them show that Christ came to fulfill all righteousness, and "not to destroy the law;" that he came as the antitype of the offerings and sacrifices of the Mosaic dispensation, and they have made an advance in gaining the attention or the sympathy of the Jew, and the work would be much easier accomplished. In the prophecies relating to the office of Christ, his humiliation, death, and resurrection, there is nothing said about his coming to change his Father's law, or abrogate a part of it, and the Jew can see no propriety in dropping the Sabbath of the Lord and keeping another day in its place, if he becomes a Christian. And when Jesus gathers all the Lord's people into one fold in the great day of redemption, the two divisions made one will not observe two different days for the Sabbath, but the redeemed host will celebrate their deliverance in the marriage supper of the Lamb, and will continue to observe creation's memorial throughout the endless ages of eternity.

Though the Papacy has lost its temporal power it does not cease to speak as a dragon. The following speech of a Catholic priest in Germany was called out on account of the suppression o the Jesuits in that country, and was published in the Kempteur Zeitung:

"We, the priests, are as high above the gov ernments, emperors, kings, and princes of this world, as the heavens are above the earth. Kings and princes of this world are as much beneath us as lead compared to the purest, finest gold. Angels and archangels are far beneath the

JERUSALEM-AS IT IS-THE MOUNT ZION.

"Therefore shall Zion for your (Israel's) sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps." "Zion shall be redeemed with judgment. and her converts with righteousness." "Thus saith the Lord of hosts, I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy, . . and the Lord the son of perdition, who opposeth and exalteth shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Je. rusalem."-Micah 3: 12; Isa. 1: 27; Zech. 1: 14, 17.

WHAT a host of associations and recollections arise in our mind when we think of the "Zion of and in this effusion from a Catholic priest a part God," and the numerous promises of the Lord concerning Israel which are clustered around it. in connection with our first visit to its special bounds. No one locality in all of Israel's land is so clearly defined, and fixed by the fiat of the Almighty God to abide; and none of the prophecies of the Scriptures of Israel are more, or so distinctly, stated than those respecting the abasement, REthe Lord be God follow him: but if Baal, then VIVAL, and EXALTATION of Mt. Paul's "Desire to Depart."

In the "Improved Version" of the New Tes tament, we find the following note in connection with the translation of Phil. 1: 22-24. The translation reads: "But if it be given me to live in the flesh, this preaching of Christ is the fruit of my labor; yet what I shall choose I know not; but I am in a strait between two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ; for this would be very far better."

The words in italies are thus in the translation. The following is the note in the margin:

"The Apostle probably thought that the advent of Christ to raise the dead was very near. See 1 Thess. 6: 13-18, and therefore judged that foundation is in the holy mountains. In the margin is the following note on the foregoing:

"Observe here, that all the consolation which the apostle administers to the bereaved and mourning Thessalonians is derived from the Christian hope of a resurrection, and from what would happen at that awful and glorious period. He takes no notice of an intervening state of perfection and felicity of which their deceased friends were even then in posession. A circumstance which the apostle could hardly have omitt d had the existence of such a state been revealed to him."

We think the foregoing sensible remarks com. mend themselves to every candid reader, and are in strict harmony with the teachings of the

The Harvest of the Earth.

THE harverst of the earth is ripe, The golden hues appear; From North to South, from East to West, The cheering sounds we hear-The reapers now with joy may come, And shout the welcome harvest home.

The earth a dark and dreary waste, Age after age did lie, While scarce a trace of verdure cheered The longing, anxious eye. The future naught of promise gave, As all was cheerless as the grave.

An eye of pity viewed the scene, A mighty arm did save-For God in boundless, matchless love, His best beloved gave, To spend on earth a life of toil, To renovate its moral soil.

He came, and on Judea's hills, First sowed the precious seed, Which was o'er all the earth to spread, The famishing to feed. The great commission then he gave

"Go reap,-the precious harvest save." While here and there a reaper goes, Obedient to the word, Toils faithful on through life's rough day,

To gain his sure reward, The multitude pass heedless by, And let the golden harvest lie.

Where'er we turn, the ripening fields Would urge the reapers on, While weak, and few, the fainting cry, "Help ere the day is gone, For see, the gathering storm is nigh, Oh, hasten-to the rescue fly."

The harvest, how abundant, rich! The laborers, oh how few! Great Ruler of the harvest, come, Again thy call renew, Till not one sheep forsaken be, But all is gathered safe in thee. Selected by AMANDA L. KEMP.

DEAR BRO. BRINKERHOFF: As I am a reader of your paper I thought I would try to write to you. It seems quite an undertaking for me, as I am a poor scholar; but if the Lord will direct me I will try to write, and say I am truly thankful for having the privilege of reading the ADVOCATE, but sorry that I could not pay for it when I subscribed last spring, but I will now send you the money to pay for the paper which in Christ, I have had. I should like to have the ADVO-CATE continued for this year; but dear friend, as I am alone in the faith, and in a new place, it is hard to meet expenses at all times. As you have been so kind to send the paper to me I can't ask you to continue it, although it seems to me that I can't think of having the good old news stop, as I am away some nine miles from my dear brothers and sisters. I meet once in a great while at Ottawa. I am striving to do God's commandments and striving for the faith of Jesus. I had a dear sister, Mrs. M. A. Fuller, a notice of whose death Bro. Remington spoke of in the ADVOCATE, who kept the Sabbathwith me, but she has fallen asleep in Jesus, that blessed sleep that the world can never re ceive. Her faith reached within the vail. It seems to me I am left all alone since my dear sister has fallen asleep. She was a faithful Christian. I cannot help but mourn to think I am deprived of her comforting society, but the blessed Lord knows what is best for us. But dear brothers, I need not mourn as those who have no hope, for these are comforting words Jesus says, "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them." What comforting words these are to the Christian! Jesus can heal the broken hearted. He can soothe our wants and wipe from John 11: 25. our tears away. DEAR BROTHERS AND SISTERS: I thought I would write a few lines for the ADVOCATE. I have been a believer in this faith for eight years, been buried with Christ in baptism nor united and I am still striving to keep the commandments of God and contend for the faith of Jesus. I love to read the letters from the brothers and sisters scattered abroad. Let us prove faithful a little longer and the conflict will soon be over. Soon we shall behold our blessed Master in the clouds of heaven, and my prayer to God is that and hear from brethren and sisters, as we have lamps trimmed and burning. Pray for me, that no church here. We may pray for one another, I may be kept in the road that leads to life. Yours in hope of eternal life, B. M. DAVIS.

DIED, of inflammation of the lungs, in Bangor, Mich., Jan. 8th, 1875, Sister Rachel Greenman, widow of Bro. Hallett Greenman, in the 53rd year of her age. She was sick but four days. She leaves a family of children besides a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her loss. Sister Greenman embraced the Advent faith many years ago, and maintained the same until her death. We believe she has fallen asleep in Jesus and will have a part in the first resurrection. Funeral services were attended at the M. E. Church in Bangor. Sermon by the writer

A Letter to the Editor of 'Advent Review.'

POLLY G. PITTS.

FREDERICKSBURG, IOWA, June, 1874. (Concluded.)

I HAVE written this because I feel a love for all of God's children, and I would rejoice to see them one in Christ Jesus, that the world might take knowledge of them that they have learned of him who is meek and lowly. Especially do I feel for those who are set in high places, whose accountability must be great, because of their opportunities. You know, my brother, the trials we had in Wisconsin, and what divisions there were caused in the little flock, and in a great measure it was the visions that did it. You know that a teach what God has not said and diseard what we may be ready to meet him when he comes, brother offended is harder to be wen than a strong and have on the wedding garment, with our city, and the'r contentions are like the bars of a castle. If it had been said at that time, 'They do not make them in any sense a test of fellowship, knowing very well the prejudi e which exists against every thing of this kind, and that the people have been witnesses to many false manifestations. They leave every one perfectly free to come to their own conclusions concerning them; there would, in my opinion, have been thousands now keeping the Sabbath of the Lord, and of course all of the commandments, who are now far from it. Neither should I have walked alon? so many years; not that I have been alone, a Jesus said, for God has given me strength to hold good and glorious cause. I am trying to keep on to his promises, and has said, 'I am thy salvation.' Bless his holy name! O my brother, I feel the commandments of God, and am still looking that love is the great foundation of union in the for the appearing of our blessed Master when he church of God. Love is the fulfilling of the law, and worketh no ill to his neighbor. And 'though I speak with the tongues of men and angels, and have not that love I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal [things giving great sound pain and death, are felt and feared no more? yet having no life]. And though I have the gift Pray for me that I may overcome the beset- of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so I could remove mountains, and have not that love, I am nothing. [God grant that we may lay this to our heart!] And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my bedy to be burned, and have not love, it prefiteth me nothing.'

Think you, brother, that I could believe a vision that gives the pre-cminence and the highest position to a few now? say 144,000, and the chief and most glorious place in the temple of God? Yes, and then shout Hallelujah! because none enter but themselves! To me it is supreme selfishness. Think you that they are worthy to stoop down and unloose the latchet of the shoes of those who had trials of cruel mockings and scourgings; at the fireside of every family. Although I am yea, morcover of bonds and imprisonment? They not counted a religious man yet I have an eter- were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword; they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins, being destipreparing myself to meet my God in peace and tute, afflicted, tormented; of whom the world was love, through Christ, whom I know is my Savior not worthy; they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, in dens and caves of the earth. Think you that the 144,000 that stood with the Lamb on Mt. Zion were those that are now keeping the commandments? Remember they are the firstfruits unto God and the Lamb. They are virgins. They are not defiled with women. There are none here now who have not been defiled more or less with the doctrines of the harlot and her daughters; and the cry is not ended yet, 'Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins and receive not of her plagues.

You have plainly told us what is apostasy; it is taking the Bible and the book. And have you not the book stereotyped into all of your belief? I do not wonder that you said this last is perhaps (having the book or creed,) the worst error of all, for it is a step backward toward the spiritual tyranny of Rome: How much I have felt in times past that the Seventh-day Adventists were making to themselves an infallible head besides the Lord Jesus. Do not blame me for speaking what you have said yourself. I do not think that you see it of yourselves; nevertheless it is as plain to me as the sun at noon-day. If I had not seen it so I never should have taken up my pen to thus address you. But feeling some as you say, That it would be inconsistent to suppose that God would suffer this state of things to close, and the end to come, without bringing out a church in whose bebe an overcomer. Elder Grant's Work against the Sabbath.

WE have received, and it now lies before us, a copy of a late work from the pen of Elder Miles Grant, one of the editors of the World's Crisis, called "The True Sabbath: Which day shall we Keep? an Examination of Mrs. Ellen G. White's Visions," of 104 pages. Though the two subjects are connected in the title, they are argued separately in the body of the work, that against the Sabbath embracing 61 pages, after which he treats of the visions, quoting mostly from Bro. Carver's work on that subject. But by classing the two subjects together the first impressson to one unacquainted with it is that they are intimately connected, and that the evidences of the seventh-day Sabbath depend upon her visions; but they are its being so connected.

He commences his argument against the Sabnew covenant. In speaking of the laws of the Israelites, or the Jews, he makes no distinction between them, but has them all abrogated with one bold sweep. No definite day in the Sabbath commandment. No iacred time further than the Christian world have taken for their rest-day the first day of the week. His arguments, or a part of them, may be reviewed at some future time.

B. came to Kansas like the rest of us, with but little means, in order to get him a home of his own. Going on to new land of course he could raise but little the first year. Last year, like the rest of us, he expected to reap a bountiful crop; but alas! he was sadly disappointed, the grasshoppers taking everything except a small amount of small grain. This left him in a very poor condition to pass through a long cold winter, and part of another summer, until he can raise something for his family to live upon. But this is not all his troubles, he has he was expecting to put in his spring crops. This loss is extremely hard on him at the pres ent time. With no grain in his bins, even for his own use, or at least but little, and no money with which he can buy another borse, it leaves him with a family dependent upon him in a very poor shape to make a living. Bro. B. has no more connected than those visions are with one cow only, which he would be willing to the doctrine of the sleep of the dead. Eld. Warlike Preparations.

Notwithstanding the millennial auguries of the peace-loving prospects, the present preparations of the crowned heads of the earth are not particularly assuaging. In Russia the Czar has enormously increased his army within the year, and is now arming his Cossacks with the most vicious breech-loading short rifles. Armament of all calibres is being procured and ports and strongholds fortified. The Brittish government has appropriated more millions, this year, than usual for the construction of sea monsters of DEAR BRETHREN AND SISTERS IN CHRIST: army, too, has been increased, and the most Perhaps you are all acquainted with the fact murderous of the mitrailleuse, the Martini rifle, that the crops in this section of the country were has been ordered in unstinted quantities. A Refuge in Jesus.

MES. SUSAN W. HORNE.

WHEN the dark waves of trouble surround To Jesus my Lord I will go; He has promised that if we will trust him His mercies and love we shall know.

And when I am most sorely tempted, On Jesus my Lord I will call; He has promised to be with his children, And lead them that they may not fall.

When afflicted and almost discouraged, To Jesus my Lord I'll repair; His promises are a sure refuge, The suffering can find comfort there.

Then brethren, be not desponding, But hold up your heads by the way; For Jesus has promised to keep us, If we continue to watch and to pray.

Then let us be faithful, dear brethren, And keep the commands of our God; We will find that he always is precious, As long as we trust in his word.

Then let us move onward, dear brethren If we only have faith in his word, We can take hold by prayer of the promi-Till Jesus shall give the reward. Independence, Ka
