Always improving grounds

Work on the World Wide Church of God festival grounds never ceases, as truck brings another load of fill to pack around newly installed sewerage manhole in upper photo, while grader smooths filled sewer line trenches through parking lot in lower photo.

HARRISBURG — One of the lectures of the 103rd annual State Sunday School Convention, coming to Allentown (October 21-23), will be a Friday morning service of recognition to pay tribute to Pennsylvanians who have contributed 50 or more years of service to their Sunday Church School.

The brief ceremony will be included in a 9:30 a.m. business session scheduled for the sanctuary of the convention headquarters, First Presbyterian Church, 523 1/2 Tigheman Street.

A service pin, the gift of The Pennsylvania State Sunday School Association, will be awarded to those Sunday School teachers, workers, and officers whose cumulative years of devotion to the cause of Christian Education through the local church total 50 or more.

All of Pennsylvania's church school teachers who meet the half-century requirement are eligible to receive the pin, regardless of their denominational affiliation. The presentation ceremony has been a part of each annual convention since 1932, when the 48th annual gathering met in Philadelphia.
