

AMBASSADOR COLLEGE

Ambassador College is a liberal arts college founded in 1947 by Herbert W. Armstrong, Chancellor. It is not molded in the traditional "rubber stamp" image of European and American colleges and universities. It is free from the shackles of tradition. It is also free from student protest, violence, drugs and immorality.

Ambassador College was originally affiliated with the Worldwide Church of God, but has, since 1951, been incorporated as a separate institution, empowered by the State of California to confer degrees.

The College is still largely supported by the membership of the Worldwide Church of God. In addition, the College receives unsolicited contributions from interested peoples worldwide who want to help support Ambassador's worldwide extension program of education in the home.

The 750 resident students of our three campuses (Pasadena, California; Big Sandy, Texas; Bricket Wood, England) won't accept the idea that we must live in a chaotic world of frustrating problems with no solutions. They don't accept the "no future" and "no absolutes" philosophies. They believe there is TRUTH! They believe in laws for right living that guarantee happiness and abundant well-being -- and they apply them.

Ambassador College is a unique educational character-building institution. It teaches not only how to earn a living, but HOW TO LIVE -- because an abundant, happy, purposeful life IS worth living.

#

Ambassador College was originally affiliated with the Worldwide Church of God, but has, since 1971, been incorporated as a separate institution, empowered by the State of California to confer degrees.

The College is still largely supported by the membership of the Worldwide Church of God. In addition, the College receives unanticipated contributions from interested people worldwide who want to help support Ambassador's worldwide expansion program of education in the home.

The 180 resident students on our three campuses (Bastrop, California; Big Sandy, Texas; and Wood, England) won't accept the idea that we must live in a chaotic world of frustrating problems with no solutions. They don't accept the "no future" and "no solutions" philosophy. They believe there is TRUTH! They believe in laws for right living that guarantee happiness and abundance well-being -- and they apply them.

AB1