Christ's Apostle in the Philippines

By Stanley R. Rader

MANILA — Christ's apostle will be leaving Manila today [Jan. 29] having delivered to the Filipino people a message of hope — in fact, their heritage.

Just a few short weeks prior to the impending visit of Pope John Paul II, Christ's apostle has delivered the TRUE GOSPEL to thousands of Filipinos — eager to hear the Truth that has been suppressed for some 1,900 years.

Culminating his two-week visit to Manila was Herbert W. Armstrong's two personal appearances at the Philippine International Convention Center (PICC). Christ's apostle delivered two powerful messages before capacity houses on Jan. 24 and 25.

Every day Christ's apostle was tracked by the local television and press — and not a negative vibration was to be heard or seen.

Mr. Armstrong's first appearance was before an SRO (standing room only) crowd at Adamson University, where Mr. Armstrong spoke for approximately one hour on the spiritual values that alone would give to university students everywhere the opportunity to live happy and abundant lives.

Next, Christ's apostle was the keynote speaker before the Philippine Constitution Association — 750 guests and members, including the chief justice of the supreme court and many cabinet members, heard Mr. Armstrong proclaim the only way to world peace. During the evening, Mr. Armstrong and I were made lifetime members of the association, which was responsible for the 1973 constitutional changes and, under the strong leadership of President Ferdinand Marcos, the lifting of martial law on Jan. 17, 1981.

The following day Mr. Armstrong spoke for one hour before the combined Rotary Clubs of greater Manila — again, he stressed that only the intervention of Jesus Christ — who will return soon to rule — as a King and High Priest — will prevent mankind from destroying itself.

In the evening, Minister of Labor Blas Ople hosted Mr. Armstrong at a private dinner party. Also present were the minister of agrarian reform [Conrado Estrella], minister of the budget and the minister of justice, as well as various directors of other ministries and selected assemblymen.

The minister of agrarian reform was so impressed with Mr. Armstrong's post-dinner comments that he invited him to speak a few days later before 450 of his own employees at a specially convened conclave.

The minister of agrarian reform requested that Christ's apostle deliver a spiritual message — you can bet he did — with his inimitable power.

On the Friday before the first public appearance, Mr. Armstrong and I were received by President Marcos in a 45-minute televised interview. I will not spoil the surprise in store for you by telling you what was said, because you will be able to see all after our television film has been developed and edited.

Mr. Armstrong's picture appeared the next day, Saturday, Jan. 24 — the first day of his personal appearance — on the first page in all newspapers in Manila, above the center fold.

A short meeting took place at the palace with Mrs. [Imelda] Marcos. She will of course be present tonight at the special benefit performance of The Sea Wolf — proceeds of which will go to local charities selected by the first lady. The British ambassador will be present and the Colombian ambassador will be one of the co-hosts.

HWA honors ministers for 25 years of service

PASADENA — Five men were awarded plaques of merit from Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong denoting more than a quarter century of service in the ministry of Jesus Christ, during recent sessions of the Ministerial Refreshing Program, according to evangelist Joe Tkach of Ministerial Services.

Dean Blackwell, Jim Friddle, Burk McNair, George A. Meeker Jr., and Norman A. Smith were presented plaques by Mr. Tkach on behalf of Mr. Armstrong.

"These men have touched the lives of many people in God's Church," Mr. Tkach related. "Their combined years of dedicated service represent more than a century as ordained ministers in service to God, God's Church and God's apostle. Their examples in pioneering many aspects of the Philadelphia era of God's Church under Mr. Armstrong are to be looked up to."

Mr. Tkach praised the wives of the ministers, stating: "A minister's wife performs an extremely important role in her husband's ministry. The dedicated wives of these men deserve equal credit for years of service to both their husbands and the congregations they serve together."

The following are biographical sketches of the ministers:
Dean C. Blackwell, 49, was baptized in October, 1952, and married Maxine Tankersley shortly after his ordination in June, 1953. A 1954 graduate of Ambassador College in Pasadena, Mr. Blackwell says that "the Church is my adult life."

He has raised up and pastored several churches, including those in Big Sandy, Tex., South Bend and Indianapolis, Ind., and others.

He served on the faculty of the Big Sandy campus and currently teaches at the Pasadena campus.

LONG OVERDUE ANNOUNCEMENT

By Herbert W. Armstrong

This is a belated and long overdue acknowledgment of outstanding service to God's Church and His Work by a faithful, competent and honored servant, Virginia Kinston, serving in the Executive Office as secretary to Treasurer Stanley R. Rader, performed a truly heroic self-sacrificing service on Jan. 3, 1979, the day the court-appointed "receiver," with armed deputies invaded the headquarters complex of the Church in Pasadena.

At even the risk of her own life, before armed men, she held them off until word could be gotten to our attorneys. Since then her secretarial performance has been impeccable, and has exemplified outstanding professional capabilities. I know her to be a woman of highest moral and ethical integrity and professional in her abilities.

The whole Church owes her a debt of gratitude.

Qadhafi Arab empire expands; 'Green Book' guides conquests

PASADENA—A dramatic thrust by Libya's unpredictable, mercurial leader, Col. Muammar Qadhafi, is unsettling leaders in Africa as well as the Western world, which is dependent upon African resources.

Late last year Mr. Qadhafi intervened in the civil war in Chad, dispatching 4,000 troops, tanks and Soviet-built MiG-23 fighters. Chad lies to the immediate south of Libya. Mr. Qadhafi took advantage of a power vacuum created when France decided not to help either side in the civil war raging in its former Saharan colony, and pulled out its 1,200-man force.

Not long afterward, President Goukouni Oueddei—the winner of Chad's power struggle—announced "full unity" between Libya and Chad.

Expansionist ambitions

Radical Libya's southward thrust may only be the first step in Mr. Qadhafi's expansionist ambitions. It is widely believed that he will use Chad as a springboard in an attempt to infiltrate and destabilize the entire sub-Saharan region. Most of the countries in the area have large Moslem populations, considered susceptible to Mr. Qadhafi's wild-fire propaganda.

Especially troublesome is the indication that Mr. Qadhafi's strategy was planned in concert with Soviet and East German assistance. Libya's leader is by no means in Moscow's hip pocket. Nevertheless, the Communists stand to gain by any destabilization in the region. Egypt and Sudan are especially concerned. Sudan is caught in a pincer between Soviet-backed Ethiopia to the east and Chad to the west. A stable Sudan, controlling the headwaters of the Nile, is absolutely essential to Egypt's security.

Nigeria, too, is worried. About 40 percent of its population is Moslem, considered subject to Libyan radicalism.

The United States is not uninterested in Mr. Qadhafi's attempt to create a pan-Islamic "Greater Libya." Libya is America's third most important source of imported oil. And Nigeria, now threatened by the Qadhafi foray, is the second largest source.

France, taken aback by Mr. Qadhafi's move, has since dispatched troops to bolster French units stationed in the Central African Republic, the Ivory Coast, Gabon and Senegal.

In response, Col. Qadhafi backedtracked on making a formal announcement of a Libya-Chad merger. But, Libyan troops remain in Chad.

Friend of Idi Amin

Col. Qadhafi is a dangerous person, a throwback to radical imperialists, largely missing on the world scene in the post World War II period. His hatred of both the United States and its Mideast patron, Israel, knows no bounds.

Mr. Qadhafi consented to an interview one year ago with Italy's Oriana Fallaci (perhaps the world's top interviewer). In the interview, published in The New York Times Magazine Dec. 16, 1979, Mr. Qadhafi unleashed his rantings and was caught in one untruth after another.

He denied the well-known fact that he offered asylum to Uganda's deposed President Idi Amin. Defending Mr. Amin, Mr. Qadhafi countered that "all the news about Amin is false, false and artificial, the result of Zionist propaganda."

15 minutes at the most. It's so small. My powder compact is bigger than your little Green Book... How long did it take (to write it)?

Qadhafi: Many years. Before finding the definite solution, I had to meditate a great deal on the history of humanity, on the conflicts of the past and of the present.

Fallaci: And how did you come to the conclusion that democracy is a dictatorial system, that parliament is a fraud, elections a mockery? There are a lot of things in that little book I don't understand.

Qadhafi: Because you did not study it well, and you did not try to understand what Jamahiriya [meaning "congress of the people"] is. You have to stay here in Libya to study how a country works when there is no government, no parlia-pens to me if I refuse this Jamahiriya.

Qadhafi: But you cannot refuse it. Jamahiriya is the destiny of the world. The authority of the people is the final stage. The day of the revolution has inevitably arrived, thanks to the Green Book. In the whole world. And the masses will seize power, and their guide will be the Green Book...

Fallaci: Colonel, Colonel, tell me: Is there any place for freedom in all this?

Qadhafi: Freedom? What freedom? This is freedom. The only true, real freedom. Why do you ask such a thing? ... The Green Book is the guide to the emancipation of man. The Green Book is the gospel. The new gospel. The gospel of the new era, the era of the masses.

Fallaci: You're not very humble, are you?

Qadhafi: No, I'm not humble. Because I can resist the attacks of the entire world and because the Green Book has resolved the problems of humanity and of society.

Fallaci: Well, then, you're a kind of messiah. The new messiah.

Qadhafi: I don't see myself in those terms. But the Green Book is the new gospel. I repeat. In your gospel it's written, "In the beginning there was the word." The Green Book is the word... the Third World only needs my Green Book. My word.

Fallaci: Colonel, may I ask one last question?

Qadhafi: Sure, but be brief...

Fallaci: Do you believe in God?

Qadhafi: Of course, why do you ask me such a question?

Fallaci: Because I thought that you were God.

Commenting on the interview a columnist for the National Review said, "Wait till he gets his bomb."

WORLDWATCH

BY GENE H. HOGBERG

Mr. Qadhafi then went on to defend the deposed ruler of the Central African Empire, Jean-Bedel Bokassa, a man so evil he even roasted and ate schoolchildren who disobeyed his commands.

The interview concluded with an excursion into the theater of the absurd, including Mr. Qadhafi's explanation of his "new gospel."

Fallaci: Colonel, since you don't consider yourself a dictator, and not even a president... tell me, what are you?

Qadhafi: I am the leader of the revolution. How evident that you did not read my Green Book.

Fallaci: On the contrary, I read it. It doesn't take very long, you know, ment, no representation, no strikes, and everything is Jamahiriya.

Fallaci:... Who elects the representatives?

Qadhafi: Nobody! In the Jamahiriya, nobody is elected. There are no elections, there is no representation... You are not even ready to understand the new era, the era of the masses. First there was the monarchy, right? Then men's struggle led to the republic with its governments and its presidents, correct? Now humanity has passed to another stage and created Jamahiriya, which is the final solution.

Fallaci: I want to know what hap-room. She placed a special Sabbath blanket on the floor while the boys were still young enough to take naps. There were "quiet toys" to go with the blanket.

At the same time every day she would sit down in "church," have her Bible to study and the boys' blanket and toys. She would sit them in the chairs and explain to them even as toddlers that this was a quiet time just like church. Later they could play quietly and nap on the blanket.

Sometimes it would seem like it just wasn't working. But, in this training time, if one wouldn't be quiet she would pick him up and leave the room. After a short talk and a quick swat, they would go up and sit down. Sometime it seemed it was up and down for the whole half hour. But when Sabbath came, we knew it was well worth the effort.

She didn't make this a daily ordeal for our sons either. The boys enjoyed "helping" her set up the chairs, running and getting the Sabbath basket and picking out the toys for that day.

Another tool we used was listening to the broadcast or recorded sermons during this time. They were accustomed to hearing someone talk when they were to be quiet. Even when they took a nap, they didn't have to have absolute quiet in order to fall asleep. This was also an excellent opportunity for their mother to study and review.

Much more could be said about teaching and being an example to our children. However, whether physical or spiritual examples are used, the necessity of parental involvement cannot be overemphasized.

Too many parents are relying on others to fulfill this God-given responsibility. Again, whether we refer to physical or spiritual teachings, Deuteronomy 6:1-9 and Proverbs 22:6 are strong reminders that we, the parents, are held responsible by God—our Father—for the teaching and training of our children.

Importance of prayer
I had sometimes thought that I didn't play a big part in God's Work—but I've realized that praying is a big part in the Work. If that's all I can do now, then I'll do it with fervor and all my heart—for I've experienced God's answered prayer in my life recently.

Just one more thing

By Dexter H. Faulkner

A friend's daughter was watching her mother wash dishes one night and commented on how many times she had seen her do this, along with her other household tasks. "Mom," she asked, "don't you ever get tired of washing dishes?"
"I'm not doing dishes, I'm building a home," she said.
"Your children are learning from us daily."

A significant amount of that learning occurs at home in informal conversations and situations. Even though the parent may not be aware, he or she is "teaching," and the child is learning.

As Christian parents we mustn't minimize the benefit of everyday learning experiences with our children. For example, taking time to show your very young child the different shapes of vegetables or fruits is the foundation for his or her learning to observe similarities and differences.

Do you realize how intensely your young child hungers to learn? I recall a personal experience a few years back. We decided one night to view some of our family slides. As I began to set up the projector, my oldest son Nathan asked, "Dad, can I operate the projector?" Then Matt, our youngest, asked if he could, too.

My first inner reaction was that I should operate it. It would be easier, less risky, less complicated. However, a second, wiser response occurred when I realized that it would be more profitable for them if, with my instruction, they could operate the machine. The second thought won out!

If you have taken the time to teach children about physical things, they will listen when you teach a spiritual example.

Our children learn from us. They learn from the whole range of words we use, how we use them, the attitudes we express, the situations we explore and the information we share. Therefore, we would do well as Christians to evaluate what we are teaching.

A colleague of mine tells of a little boy and girl who were fighting and screaming at one another. The girl's mother came out in the yard to stop them. She asked why they were fighting. The explanation: "Oh, we weren't fighting; we were playing family. He's the father, and I'm the mother." We may smile, but it's a sad commentary on our home life.

Teaching situations are available all around you. Take advantage of them while your children are in their early years.

For example, do you teach your children to sit still and be quiet in church?

From the beginning we tried to make the Sabbath a special day with our two boys. It has always been a day of different routine, extra-special toys (that were only played with Sabbath morning), while daddy and mommy were "busy" studying.

Sitting still in church doesn't just happen. Our oldest son was 2½ when his brother was born. Our concern was, what are we going to do with two in church if one won't sit still?

As any new mother knows, there is little time in the daily routine to just stop and sit down. But, my advice is take time to do it!

Each day my wife "played church." She put three kitchen chairs side by side in the living

675 brethren celebrate Fresno's 25th anniversary

FRESNO, Calif. — Greeted by drab, uninviting surroundings, 35 members gathered for the first Church services here in the old Labor Temple Jan. 28, 1956, according to pastor Alton B. "Don" Billingsley. A quarter of a century passed, and Jan. 31, approximately 675 persons met in the Fresno Convention Center to commemorate the church's 25th anniversary.

Norman Smith, now pastor of the San Diego, Calif., church, gave the sermon on that first Sabbath. He gave the sermonette at the 25th anniversary service, after which evangelist Herman L. Hoeh from Pasadena delivered the sermon.

Following the sermon, brethren listened to a tape sent by Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong from Southeast Asia. "If I were in Tucson, I would have come to be with you all in Fresno," said Mr. Armstrong on cassette.

"Not many people were dry-eyed when he talked about the tragic death of his son, Richard D. Armstrong," noted Mr. Billingsley, Fresno pastor since 1975. Mr. Billingsley was in the 1958 car accident that claimed the life of Richard Armstrong, Fresno's first regular pastor.

After services Jan. 31, 450 brethren enjoyed a filet mignon dinner, socialized and danced to music by the Royal Ambassador Band.

"The social was a smashing success," said Mr. Billingsley. "Fresno is really the grandmother of the valley churches."

Citing some Fresno church history, Mr. Billingsley noted, "Every Sabbath between 1956 and 1960, ministers and Ambassador College students would drive over 200 miles from Pasadena to Fresno because Fresno had no pastor then."

"They would drive to Roeding Park or eat lunch at the E.J. Flower residence before services," Mr. Billingsley continued. "After services the Herbert Andersons or the Bert Halls would often offer scrumptious dinners and overnight lodging to the visitors from headquarters."

Following the 1960 Feast, Ronald Kelly began pastoring the Sacramento, Calif., church and copastoring Fresno, then pastored by Mr. Hoeh.

Other ministers and associate pastors since then included Alvin R. Dennis, Herb Teitgen, Mitchell Knapp, Randy Schreiber, Delfino Sandoval and Ted Herlofson.

Four California churches have grown from the Fresno congregation. They are Oakland, Bakersfield, Modesto and Visalia.

80 teams vie in tourney

By Sammy O'Dell

AMARILLO, Tex. — As many as 80 teams from 23 congregations met here Dec. 26 through 28 for the seventh annual Amarillo invitational basketball tournament. "It may be the largest of its type in the world," stated Jim O'Brien, pastor of the church here.

With four courts in use simultaneously in the West Texas State University Activity Center, Church and Youth Opportunities United (YOU) teams participated in basketball, volleyball and cheerleading.

The weekend also featured Bible seminars, a Bible bowl and a singles' Bible study.

A YOU Bible bowl took place Friday night with Jan Gully as master of ceremonies, and Texoma, Tex., emerging as the winner. That same evening, Leroy Neff, an evangelist from Pasadena, conducted a regular Bible study, while Wichita, Kan., pastor Judd Kirk gave a singles' Bible study.

Sabbath morning, Denver, Colo., pastor Ron Kelly and Big Sandy and Tyler, Tex., pastor Don Ward conducted two marriage seminars.

Other seminars and studies were given by the following ministers: Keith Walden, Lubbock and Midland, Tex.; Kelley Barfield, Liberal and Scott City, Kan.; Roy Dove, San Angelo, Tex.; Russell Duke, Kansas City, Kan., East; David Carley, Lawton and Ada, Okla.; Tom Tullis, Wichita; Norvel Pyle, Big Sandy; Greg Sargent, San Antonio, Tex.; Arnold Clauson, Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Gerald Witte, Texoma.

Following the afternoon sermon by Mr. Neff to 1,126 brethren, more basketball and volleyball games were played. That same evening Jim Maddy and Dale Pack organized a family square dance contest, which Lubbock won.

Division finals ended the next day with Big Sandy winning the men's A division and Dallas, Tex., coming in second. Texoma won the men's B division and Big Sandy II finished second.

Wichita was victorious in the boys' A division with a win over the Oklahoma City teens. In the boys' B division, Texoma was first and Big Sandy second.

Texoma also wrapped up the girls' basketball title with Big Sandy placing second. The San Antonio peewee team won its division, and Big Sandy came in second.

In YOU volleyball, Big Sandy emerged victorious, followed by Albuquerque, N.M. Oklahoma City defeated Wichita in the women's volleyball championship. Kansas City beat Amarillo in mixed volleyball competition.

Cheerleading results saw Wichita A in first place, followed by Big Sandy A, Denver A and Big Sandy B.

The volleyball team-spirit trophy went to Wichita, and the Lawton-Ada team won the same for basketball. An overall trophy for scoring the most points in all activities was awarded to Big Sandy with 35 points, narrowly edging out the Texoma congregation with 34.5 points.

No technical fouls for misconduct, bad attitudes or any other reason were called throughout the entire tournament.

One basketball referee commented, "I hate to call a foul on the Church people because they take it so well."

70 youths ski Austrian slopes

By Linda Thomsen

RADFELD, Austria — In this tiny Tyrolean village nestled in the snow-covered Alps, more than 70 members of Youth Opportunities United (YOU) congregated for winter camp. The camp took place Dec. 21 through 31.

Young people from West Germany, Austria and Switzerland, along with visitors from Denmark, Scotland, England, Canada, South Africa and the United States, used their semester breaks to enjoy a gamut of winter sports ranging from traditional Alpine slope skiing and ice-skating to cross-country skiing and tobogganing.

YOU members in the German-speaking areas live far apart. By making the most of their time together, they quickly settle into a warm family atmosphere.

An American visitor noticed the friendliness. "I've met so many people. It's like three Feasts put together," said Scott Zhorne, a YOU member from Longview, Tex., temporarily living in Hilden, West Germany. "I'm definitely coming back next year if money permits."

The older YOU members watched over the younger ones, teaching them to ski and making sure they didn't get stuck in snowdrifts. Visiting parents joined most activities, adding an extra measure of family fun.

Youth-oriented Bible studies were presented by local ministers, along with a Sabbath service attended by many of the nearby Austrian members.

Other activities included an evening sleigh ride, a Tyrolean folk evening, a trip to Innsbruck, Austria, and a dance.

An additional Bible study was followed by a rousing sing-along led by Winfried Fritz, a local elder in the Bonn and Dusseldorf, West Germany, churches, and a native Austrian. The sing-along provided a wonderful way of saying auf Wiedersehen ("until next time").

Member survives truck accident

TAMPA, Fla. — Pulling 74,000 gallons of diesel fuel on his Phillips Petroleum semitrailer Dec. 11, at 1:30 a.m., Church member Charles R. Eubanks was halfway through his second run of the night from Tampa, when a car appeared suddenly in the path of his truck.

Reacting quickly, Mr. Eubanks swerved to avoid the approaching car. The truck jackknifed and Mr. Eubanks felt the vehicle skid and lurch over on its back.

The truck's interior light came on, enabling Mr. Eubanks to see the truck cab being crushed and compacted around him as it overturned. Finally, after what seemed like years, the fuel-laden vehicle came to a stop.

Reached by phone at his Tampa home, Mr. Eubanks said, "I feel that God intervened miraculously to save my life, as well as the lives of those in the automobile."

After the truck came to a stop, Mr. Eubanks escaped through a hole in the windshield. The engine was stuck at halfspeed, so he gingerly stepped across the remains of the hood to avoid belts and moving parts.

Lucky breaks?

Mr. Eubanks suffered only minor cuts, bruises and a lacerated ear. Recalling his thoughts, the 40-year-old driver said, "Halfway through the accident, I remember thinking: 'I'm not going to live through this,' so I must have been getting beat up pretty badly."

He said he was glad he wasn't hauling gasoline, because it is much more flammable than diesel fuel. The absence of huge showers of sparks prevented the truck's fuel load from catching fire.

received from local people, and by Sunday more than 1,000 essays had been received from high school and college students who have been invited to enter a contest on the meaning of Mr. Armstrong's message to them. The minister of culture will award the prizes next month — three for high school students and three for college students.

We have received new invitations to address other groups as a result of this most recent and successful visit. Hopefully in March, on our way to Australia, if our schedule permits, we shall return.

All of us live in Mr. Armstrong's party, Mrs. Armstrong, my wife, Joseph Katora, John Kinston, Henry Cornwall, Mary Ellen Dahlgren, as well as the television crew, feel especially blessed to have been able to participate daily and to witness with our own eyes all of the exciting events that unfolded before us.

Yes, Christ's apostle has certainly begun 1981 with a running start — 1981, which should be the biggest year yet in the history of the Work.

A Voice Cries Out: Arab Oil, Israel and the U.S.

-Peace Out of Conflict??

THE HOT SPOT of world news recently has been the Middle East. It has involved the 52 U.S. hostages in Iran. It has involved Arab oil. And it has involved the Arab-Israel struggle.

Could it be that out of this embroiling caldron of Middle East emotions and historic hatreds is beginning to emerge a new vision involved in the Camp David talks.

HERBERT W. ARMSTRONG

Prominent Egyptian leaders and editors abroad were assassinated following this initial peace gesture. Sadat's life was threatened.

After receiving military aid from the Soviet Union, President Sadat had canceled this program and ordered Soviet military aides out of Egypt. Since 1977 Mr. Sadat and Egypt were left with the sole partnership among nations of the United States.

Then came the Camp David peace talks. Mr. Begin joined Mr. Sadat in participating. It is not easy to give up could be that out of this embroiling caldron of Middle East emotions and historic hatreds is beginning to emerge a new vision of world peace and happy abundance?

In a world whose No. 1 problem now is human survival—in a world of competitive preparations for a world war of nuclear weapons, chemical warfare, poison gas and nerve gas—a war capable of erasing all life from this planet, it's already a bit late for us all to become intensely concerned.

I repeat again and again, there has to be a CAUSE for every effect. There is a basic CAUSE for mankind's problems man is incapable of solving. There is, conversely, a way that could CAUSE peace, universal prosperity and well-being!

Very recently I returned from personal conferences with Prime Minister Menachem Begin in Jerusalem, and President Anwar el-Sadat in Cairo. Could it be possible these two Middle East leaders have started something with President Carter at the Camp David conferences that finally show the world the way to CAUSE PEACE?

And not only Middle East peace, but world peace?

The Egyptian president gave me details of his proposed $70 million World Peace Center to be erected at the base of Mt. Sinai, symbolic of peace between nations and between religions. Religious antagonisms have caused many wars through world history. His new peace center will consist of a walled-in complex including a mosque, a synagogue and a church, emblematic of peace between the three major religions predominant in the three nations

involved in the Camp David talks.

I repeat, there is one root cause of wars not only, but all this world's seemingly unsolvable troubles and evils. I term it, for brevity, the way of "GET"—self-centeredness, and hostile competition leading to strife, violence, war and destruction. The opposite way I term "GIVE"—cooperation, helping, sharing, outgoing concern for the good and rights of others.

Where emotional hostility has prevailed down through the centuries, only vision, willingness to sacrifice ("GIVE") and personal courage in leadership could start the way toward peace.

While she was prime minister of Israel, Golda Meir said to me in her executive office: "I wish Arab heads of state would be willing to sit on the other side of the table with me in friendship and peace. There is so much we could do for their peoples. Our scientists and technicians could help them and their peoples to so much more prosperity and abundance."

On November 20, 1977, President Sadat had the vision and the courage to take the unheard-of, unprecedented step to DECLARE PEACE—instead of war—toward Israel. On that date this leader, braving personal and political risk seldom if ever taken by a world leader, went to Jerusalem and addressed the Israeli Knesset in a gesture toward peace.

Egypt had fought Israel in four wars within 30 years. It was an incredible demonstration of personal courage. Egypt was the acknowledged leader of the Arab world. The headquarters of the Arab League was in Cairo.

the United States.

Then came the Camp David peace talks. Mr. Begin joined Mr. Sadat in participating. It is not easy to give up something one has gained. But Mr. Begin gave large portions of the Sinai Peninsula back to Egypt. Now these men are looking toward resolving the touchy question of autonomy of the West Bank and the Gaza Strip.

And President Sadat plans his World Peace Center emblematic of cooperation in peace at the base of Mt. Sinai.

It is all a BEGINNING of the way of "GIVE"—of cooperation instead of hostility. I for one commend and give honor publicly to these men making a beginning in a harsh world of "GET" to the one and only way to peace—that of "GIVE." I am not naive enough to expect all leaders and all peoples to follow in that way.

We have in this world the way that leads to the ecstasy of winning and the agony of defeat. Too many still think they enjoy the "ecstasy," and are willing to risk the "agony." I hope these pages are causing some to THINK!

Because, agree or disagree, this voice is sounding the warning. If we mortal humans don't, it is very soon now going to be done to us! That unseen "Strong Hand from Someplace" is going to intervene in world affairs and force a stubborn humanity to enjoy peace, happiness and universal abundance—His way, the way of "GIVE."

I suggest you read my cover story in Quest/81, on newsstands about March 20, on the Middle East controversy, its origin and President Sadat's planned World Peace Center. Quest/81 is quite generally regarded now as No. 1 in the quality magazine field—a publication advocating "the pursuit of excellence."

A Voice Cries Out: An Open Letter to President Reagan

A Heartfelt Message of Encouragement

MR. PRESIDENT: You've assumed the most important office in the world on a landslide vote—a virtual mandate.

I know something of the stupendous problems with which you now must grapple. I have discussed world and national difficulties with heads of state on all continents. I know something of how difficult, knotty and often impossible of human solution are the conditions you now face—greater than those confronting any other head of state.

In late December the question blared forth in the media whether, on inauguration, you should declare an economic emergency. But, as you know, we are now deep in much more than an economic emergency. We're in a social emergency, a moral and spiritual emergency, foreign and international emergencies and the frightening LIFE-AND-DEATH emergency of human extinction. Never before since mankind inhabited the earth have weapons of mass destruction existed that can erase humanity from this planet. You have taken over the helm at a time when problems and troubles exceed in difficulty and complexity those faced by any President before you.

If ever a President needed the help of this great people he leads, it is now. Some are asking, can you turn the United States around? They look to problems of inflation, unemployment, energy, taxes, budget, business, defense. But those are materialistic problems. In the materialistic area we have fared better than we realize. This nation has led the world in materialistic advancement. In fields of science and technology, business and industry, knowledge production (our educational system has become almost wholly materialistic), our progress has been awesome. We have sent men to the moon and safely returned them. We've sent unmanned spacecraft to send back mind-boggling close-up photographs of Jupiter, Saturn and the Martian surface. We've produced computers and the most marvelous instruments.

But we can't seem to solve troubles between husbands and wives, parents and children, groups and factions, nation and nation. Our nation is in trouble. The whole world is in trouble! And those troubles and evils, however we may characterize them, are spiritual in nature. In every case, it seems, the individual, the group, the faction, the nation, is seeking only self-interest. It's all in the way we live!

I've said repeatedly in these page messages there is an unseen spiritual LAW in relentless motion—the law I simplify by the term “GIVE.” It's as inexorable as the law of gravity. Break it, and it breaks you! This nation has been breaking that law, and our beloved country is being broken by it! That law is a WAY OF LIFE—that of cooperating, helping, serving, sharing—of outflowing LOVE! But our people, and the whole world, are living the diametric opposite way transgressing that invisible spiritual law—the way I term “GET.” We've been actuated by self-centeredness, vanity, covetousness, envy, competition, hostility, violence, war.

The other day I had a personal meeting with Prime Minister Zenko Suzuki of Japan, in Tokyo. He recently called on the Japanese people to continue working hard, and to remain united to protect the peace and the democracy of Japan. Loyalty to country and faithful hard work on the job are spiritual values that are paying off in Japan.

It is vital that our beloved country remain loyal AND UNITED! Not divided in the home, in the factory, in the office. It took a war for Franklin D. Roosevelt to unite us in one common accord. We need desperately now to be united in PEACE—in what we can do for our country, not what it can do for us!

You, Mr. President, cannot of yourself solve this nation's problems and rid it of its evils. That can be done only if WE, THE PEOPLE, STAND BEHIND YOU not only, but CHANGE OUR WAY OF LIFE FROM “GET” to “GIVE.”

During the campaign you mentioned that we are a nation founded under God. God is LOVE manifested! He set in relentless motion the spiritual LAW that will CAUSE peace, happiness, abundant well-being for all—if we, the people, will turn to it! THAT'S HOW THIS COUNTRY NEEDS TO BE TURNED AROUND. Lead us in that way, Mr. Reagan, and God help us to follow you in it. I, with countless others, shall be praying for you in that.

COORDINATORS MEET — Richard Frankel enjoys a moment with Colin Adair from the Canadian Office during the Festival coordinators' meetings on the Ambassador College campus in Pasadena. More than 45 coordinators, business managers and support personnel gathered here Feb. 3 and 4 to discuss plans for the 1981 Feast of Tabernacles. Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong will release site information later in the spring, according to members of the Festival coordinating team serving under him. [Photo by Michael Snyder]

MONTREAL, Que. — Evangelist Dibar Apartian, director of God's Work in French-speaking areas, conducted a ministerial conference here Jan. 30.

At a combined Sabbath service the next day, with 541 brethren from the Montreal A.M. and P.M., Sherbrooke and Trois-Rivieres churches, Mr. Apartian raised Donat Picard to the rank of preaching elder. Mr. Picard will pastor the Montreal churches.

Colin Wilkins, who has served in the French ministry for 18 years, will return to his homeland to pastor the Glasgow, Scotland, church, according to Mr. Apartian.

Mr. Apartian found the Montreal brethren to be warm and friendly and solidly behind Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong.

Mr. Apartian and Robert Fahey, regional director for the English-speaking churches in Canada, are working in close harmony to serve the churches here, Mr. Apartian said.

On his return trip to Los Angeles, Calif., Mr. Apartian said he was surprised and delighted to see a stewardess who is a baptized member of God's Church, whom he had met in Paris eight years ago. She has never missed a Feast or Sabbath service because of her job, he said.

Accident

After seeing the smashed truck, his wife Shirley said, "You must have had four guardian angels that night." Mr. Eubanks added, "One would have been enough."

Mr. Eubanks was anointed at the hospital by Tampa pastor Ron Lohr, and most of his cuts and the ear laceration healed soon after.

Not the first time

Mr. Eubanks previously enjoyed protection from God in June, 1973, he said, when a pair of hijackers forced him to empty his load of gasoline [WJN, Aug. 19, 1974].

Despite being held at gunpoint and being chained, Mr. Eubanks wasn't worried then. "I was confident in knowing that whatever happened, I had extra protection."

Enlightening experience

Mr. Eubanks said the threat of truck accidents is part of the job. "I wish people could ride in the right seat of a professional rig for two eight-hour shifts sometime," he said. "I'm surprised at all the terrible driving we see."

The driver of the vehicle that struck Mr. Eubanks' truck was cited for improper driving, according to the police accident report.

BONN, West Germany — More than 30,000 new subscribers were added to the Klar und Wahr (German-language Plain Truth) circulation in 1980, stated regional director Frank Schnee.

He attributed part of the success to a spring and fall advertising campaign in which ads were placed in major German newspapers and magazines, including Der Spiegel

PASADENA — God's Work is well established in the Caribbean, but the members scattered across the islands are not living in a "tropical paradise."

Gilbert Carboneel, our pastor in the French-speaking island of Martinique writes: "Here, all is calm for the time being, but it's the calmness of a dormant volcano. Like everywhere else, unemployment is rising and it's the young who are the most affected."

"They are without work and worried about the future, therefore vulnerable to the propositions of those who say: 'Let's upset everything, what do we have to lose? Maybe something good will come out of it.'"

"On the other hand, the elderly, on the whole, don't really want to attempt independence because social security in Martinique, although leaving much to be desired, is far superior to that of neighboring islands of the Caribbean."

and the national daily Die Zeit.

Also noteworthy, according to Mr. Schnee, was the acceptance of Plain Truth advertising on 1.5 million train schedules distributed on standard express and Trans-European Express trains. He reported that more than 3,000 subscriptions were received from the December effort.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — More than 9,000 Plain Truth subscription cards were distributed in less than two months through an innovative idea by local Church members, said Virgil Petcu, a deacon in the St. Louis North congregation and coordinator of the newsstand and PT cardholder programs here.

Henry and Ethel Butler, a retired couple, came up with an idea to place the cardholders in bus shelters throughout the city. Mr. Petcu asked the Butlers to get permission from the bus company, which subsequently granted approval.

Several cardholders were taped inside the shelters, and distribution jumped from 200 cards a month to several thousand. "Our response was just tremendous," Mr. Petcu stated. "We concentrated the cardholders in downtown shelters where there is a lot of traffic and people."

The coordinator reported that the effort is being expanded to include the St. Louis South congregation, which will begin distributing cardholders when a 20,000-card order from Pasadena arrives.

"This is an excellent example of what can be done with a little ingenuity in a local church area," stated Boyd Leeson, U.S. Plain Truth circulation manager. "This effort by thousands of brethren helps build a strong reading public of The Plain Truth, giving Mr. [Herbert] Armstrong a larger audience."

PASADENA — Opera soprano Renata Scott's return to the Ambassador Auditorium Jan. 28 was well-received, according to Los Angeles, Calif., newspaper critics.

Playing to a full house, Ms. Scott's performance featured two encores, according to the Los Angeles Times. Mark Swed of the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner reported that Ms. Scott's singing was "often radiant." He added that "Scott's soprano is still a magnificent instrument."

Richard Stiles of the Pasadena Star-News praised the soprano, stating that she was "more attractive and appealing than ever."

The performance was part of the Ambassador Foundation's "Great Performer Series," which includes flutist Jean-Pierre Rampal, mime Marcel Marceau, the National Chinese Opera Theatre and the Philadelphia Orchestra with Eugene Ormandy conducting.

Plain Truth mailing list, about two thirds of them in Canada. Eighty-four French-speaking people were baptized last year, with 65 of them from outside Canada, and 535 students completed 12 lessons of the Correspondence Course.

Australia

Last year finished with encouraging figures — income for year up 27 percent, mail up 9 percent, and more than 300,000 booklets and articles were mailed out.

In January, David Hulme arrived from the Canadian Office to assist in media and advertising. While in Australia, Mr. Hulme was assisting regional director Bob Morton in setting up a newsstand edition of The Plain Truth.

Over the past weeks Mr. Hulme has traveled extensively throughout Australia and is involving the local pastors in developing and maintaining the newsstand program.

As he visits each church area, he speaks at Sabbath services and conducts Bible studies, explaining to members our media and advertising plans for 1981, and how they can participate.

The groundwork also is being laid to air Herbert W. Armstrong's radio and television programs. Newspapers and magazine advertising is planned.

VIP visit

Roy McCarthy, regional director in southern Africa, reports that Nov. 20, five of the office personnel, including evangelist Gerald Waterhouse, visited the Honorable H. H. Smit, a cabinet minister. They showed him the Young Ambassadors Feast film, which he watched intently and commented on favorably.

Dr. McCarthy presented him with a copy of the 1980 Emvov. He stood looking at a photograph of Mr. Armstrong and said, "A remarkable man!"

God continues to bless His Work in southern Africa. Income was up 24 percent in 1980. More than 120,000 copies of The Plain Truth are printed each month in South Africa, with 16,000 going to Zimbabwe. Of the remainder, 40,000 are for South African newsstands.

A film of Mr. Armstrong's sermon at Tucson on the Last Great Day of the 1980 Feast, was sent to all overseas areas, so they could view the message United States and Canadian members saw by microwave. It had quite an impact on a number of churches in South Africa.

Personnel on move

Bernard and Linda Hongerlost arrived in Pasadena where he will be a translator for the French Department. Mr. Hongerlost formally worked in the Montreal, Que., (French) church.

Bernard Andrist, pastor of the Geneva, Switzerland, church and manager of the Geneva Office, will leave soon for a three-week baptizing tour of French-speaking countries in Africa.

Trevor Cherry was ordained a local elder Jan. 10. He serves in the Calgary, Alta., South church, and was formerly a ministerial trainee.

Gerald Waterhouse returned to the United States after a tour of overseas churches lasting about six months. On Jan. 24, he concluded his European tour with a service in Paris. He previously spent an intensive week speaking to churches throughout Germany, Switzerland and Austria.

Church attendance in Canada topped 9,000 in December. Many new visit requests were received, and 319 people were baptized in 1980.

German Office manager John Karlson and his family visited the lone member in Poland, Viktor Przybylla. News that they were suffering food shortages caused by the labor unrest prompted our Swiss brethren to take up a collection for them. Food was purchased and taken to Poland by the Karlsons.

The Karlsons arrived safely back in Bonn Jan. 2, to report that Viktor and his family are managing to get by, thanks in part to the help and concern of brethren in Western Europe.

Graham Hawkins was ordained a local church elder in the South London church by regional director Frank Brown and pastor Robin Jones Jan. 3.
