Herbert W. Armstrong approves new international 'Good News'

The following article is reprinted from the Sept. 18 Pastor General's Report.

PASADENA - Last Friday night [Sept. 11] at Bible study Pas-tor General Herbert W. Armstrong announced there will be an interna tional edition of The Good News

On his recent trip to Europe, Mr. Armstrong was told that many non-English-speaking brethren have no access to The Good News, The Worldwide News or Youth 81. Some of our regional directors have tried to translate significant articles from these publications for the members in their areas. But the efforts greatly varied and absorbed the already overstrained resources of the language departments.

Various departments here joined efforts to see how we could provide each language section with a stan-dard magazine that combines vital articles from all three publications. They suggested a 24-page, black-and-white edition of The Good News entitled The Good News of Tomorrow's World. This title works best in the other languages.

The material from The Good News in English can be translated well in advance. Same for material from Youth 81. The deadline for articles from The Worldwide News will have to be shorter to be certain the copy is still "newsy."

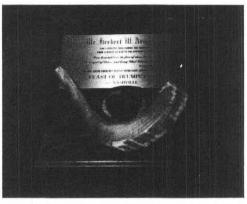

Dexter Faulkner, managing edi-tor of the English Good News, will be responsible for putting the new magazine together. That way each edition (German, French, Spanish and Dutch) will basically be the same. We want to "speak with one voice" — worldwide.

NEW MAGAZINE - The international edition of The Good News will feature articles from The Good News. Youth 82 and The Worldwide News in four languages.

But each regional director will have a three-page "window" in each issue that could be used for items of local interest. This might take the form of a one-page article in The Worldwide News section or a twopage article in The Good News section. Or even a three-page article using both. He may prefer to run the copy prepared for that section as is. The choice is up to him.

The 10 issues a year will be mailed directly from Pasadena to members worldwide, because the circulations are so small. With a standardized format and centralized production, Mr. Faulkner says it is easy to add other languages as the need arises. The new interna-tional edition of The Good News is a great blessing to help the multilanguage membership of the Body of Christ serve God with "one heart and one mind."

PASADENA - Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong spoke to breth-ren Sept. 19, 26, 29 and Oct. 3 in Calgary, Alta., Pasadena, Nashville, Tenn., and Minneapolis, Minn.

Some 3,343 brethren, many of whom traveled 250 miles, came from six states to hear Mr. Arm-strong deliver a Feast of Trumpets message in Nashville's Grand Ole Opry House, according to James Friddle, pastor of the Nashville church.

Following his sermon Mr. Armstrong addressed a ministers' meeting for one hour. The ministers presented him with a shofar (ram's horn) encased in velvet, inscribed with an emblem of Isaiah 11 and the words: "Mr. Herbert W. Sept. 19, Mr. Armstrong traveled to Calgary, where he addressed 2.260 brethren from Alberta, British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Montana, according to Neil Earle, pastor of the Calgary North

Mr. Armstrong told brethren gathered in Calgary's Convention Centre that the Church has never been more unified and cohesive than now, but that Satan could strike at any time.

Accompanying Mr. Armstrong were his wife Ramona, Mr. and Mrs. Fahey, Portland, Ore., pastor Dean Wilson, his wife Marolyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Roenspies. Mr. Roenspies is a member of the Ambassador College board of trustees and a local elder in Chicago, Ill. Also attending was Colin Adair, regional director of God's Work in Canada.

Nearly 2,500 brethren from churches in Pasadena, Glendale and Glendora, Calif., heard the pastor general speak in the Ambassador Auditorium in Pasadena Sept. 26, according to Robin Webber, assistant pastor of the Auditorium P.M. congregation. "Mr. Armstrong spoke powerfully about Christians" responsibility to endure to the end," said Mr. Webber.

Mr. Armstrong spoke to 2,156 brethren in Minneapolis, Minn.,

PASADENA - Just how important are Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong's two Holy Day sermons that will be transmitted to United States, Canadian and some overseas Feast sites this year? Sometimes we in Media Services get the feeling that something, or somebody, doesn't want them to be

For instance, do you remember last year how the Ali-Holmes fight was suddenly signed for Thursday, Oct. 2 — which normally would have tied up video projectors all over the country? You remember Oct. 2, don't you? It was the Last Great Day of the Feast. But Christ intervened, and we rented the projectors just ahead of the boxing promoters.

I'm certain most of you remember that while you were watching the sermonette on the first Holy Day how all of a sudden Tokyo News came across instead of our services. (This occurred at about 90 percent of our Feast sites.)

Our microwave and satellite consultant said he had never seen such a bizarre incident occur where once the customer's program was on the line to the satellite that someone would make a change. He was very disturbed about it and did not take it

international students

By Jeff Caudle PASADENA — Twenty-five percent of the Ambassador College student body here is represented by international students from 18 countries, according to the Student Services Office.

French- and English-speaking Canadians comprise almost half of the 128 international students, with Australian and British students next in number. Other areas represented include Nigeria, South Afri-ca, New Zealand, Malaysia, France, Bermuda, Trinidad, Mexico and Colombia, according to the Regis-

The college was first authorized to admit non-American students to the Pasadena campus in October, 1956. Hundreds of international students have since attended the Ambassador College campuses in Bricket Wood, England (now closed), Big Sandy and Pasadena. Now, only the Pasadena campus is authorized by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Department to admit non-U.S. residents, according to the Registrar's Office.

'PT' circulation sets record

PASADENA - Plain Truth circulation reached its highest point ever with the September issue, according to the Pastor General's Office here.

The four-color magazine went to 3,792,171 readers that month, including more than 1,650,000 newsstand copies distributed worldwide.

The previous high mark was set in September, 1975, when The Plain Truth, then a bimonthly tabloid, had a circulation of 3,750,000.

Combined subscription and newsstand circulation of the magazine in the United States is more than 2.4 million monthly, also a new record.

U.S. gets blame as world troubles mount

PASADENA - Human passions are running amok today. True the words of Paul to Timothy: "In the last days . . . men will be . . . ar-rogant, abusive, disobedient to their parents . . . inhuman, implacable slanderers . . fierce, haters of good, treacherous" (II Timothy 3:1-4, Revised Standard Version).

The main targets of abuse on the international level are the United States and other modern-day descendants of Israel. "The archers have sorely grieved him, and shot at him, and hated him: But his bow abode in strength..." (Genesis 49:23-24).

The commander of U.S. forces in The commander of U.S. forces in Europe narrowly escaped death in a terrorist ambush in West Germany, the 10th attack this year in West Germany against U.S. military per-sonnel. Claiming responsibility— which is what publicity-conscious terrorists do these days — is the extremist West German guerrilla band, the Red Army Faction. This group, a reconstitution of the old Baader-Meinhof gang, says it has declared "war against imperialist

The incident occurred just days after 30,000 demonstrators — com-munists, homosexuals and leatheriacketed anarchists - "welcomed" jacketed anarchists — welcomed U.S. Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig to West Berlin. "Hang the vulture; hang him higher," de-manded one placard. Others displayed an American flag shaped like a pig. One thousand anarchists broke ranks to insanely chop up storefronts and automobiles with axes. Completely overlooked in the din were the Soviet Union's 400,000 troops stationed in East Germany, some of them only a 20-minute march away. All the guilt was America's.

Castro's tirade

Also, a few days back, Fidel Castro went on a verbal rampage against the United States during an international conference in Havana. The Cuban president accused the Rea-gan administration of pursuing a fascist foreign policy, for unleashing biological weapons against his nation and for lying about Cuban support for leftist rebels in El Sal-

The Cuban government was host to the semiannual Interparliamen-tary Union, whose stated purposes are to work for peace and interna-tional cooperation and to strengthen representative institutions. (Why then meet in Havana?)

Delegates were startled by the vitriolic nature of the Cuban leader's hour-and-45-minute tirade (that's short for Mr. Castro). El Lider blasted the Reagan administration for what he said was "its haughtiness, its conceit, its arms race, its quest for military support at all costs, its attachment to violence and domination, its methods of blackmail and terror, its shameless alliance with South Africa, its threatening language and its lies." Mr. Castro blamed the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency for five plagues that have hit Cuba in the past three years: swine fever, tobacco blue mold, sugarcane rust, hem-orrhagic dengue fever and hemorrhagic conjuctivitis.

The CIA has vehemently denied any such germ warfare charges. The particular strain of dengue fever now afflicting Cuba is endemic not in the Western Hemisphere, but in Africa. Cuban troops returning from duty in Angola probably brought it back with them. At any rate, perhaps Mr. Castro should hold up a bit on his ranting and railing, for the sake of his suffering people. God pinpoints the problem saying, "Him who curses you I will curse." The CIA doesn't have to do

Game generates violence

Human emotions also flew off course in another area — the tour of the South African national rugby team, the Springboks, to New Zea-land and the United States. Matches in New Zealand, principal stop on the Springbok tour, were played under near warlike conditions. Beleaguered police were confronted with the worse public disor-ders in New Zealand history. Fanatical demonstrators tried everything to disrupt the games, from scattering shards of glass on the fields to bombing stadiums with objects from airplanes.

In the United States, a bomb damaged the offices of the Eastern Rugby Union in Schenectady, N.Y., American host organization for the Springbok tour. And in Evansville, Ind., an explosion and fire completely destroyed the two-story building housing the Evansville Rugby Club. The Evansville team, which includes three black players, had merely expressed a desire to play the Springboks.

It's no picnic these days for those certain polecat or pariah countries South Africa, Israel and Chile being the chief ones — which are considered by the so-called world community to be leprous, noxious, repulsive, repugnant, reproachful and otherwise irredeemably evil And, of course, America is vilified as the monstrous imperialist, which keeps the above afloat, holding "na-tional liberators" at bay.

Churches side with Moscow

Should the West in general, or the United States in particular, look to this world's religious leaders for help in presenting a more balanced picture of world condition — forget it! The major ecumenical body in the world, the World Council of Churches, has been completely overrun by communist and libera tionist ideals.

Guess where the WCC, which represents most of the world's Prot-estant, Anglican, Orthodox and Old Catholic churches, had its latest international central committee convention? In Dresden, East Germany. Its leadership probably felt one of the biggest orders of business for the WCC is to annually dispense grants to guerrilla groups in Africa, allegedly given to combat racism. This year's biggest recip-ient, with a gift of $125,000, is SWAPO (South-West African People's Organization), the Namib

The writer waxes eloquent about the "evangelical action, of statechurch collaboration" in Cuba, and about that nation's "superiority of a planned socialist economy." Cubans, he writes, consider the choice of their society as "irreversible." So irreversible, one gathers, that 100,000 Cubans fled their paradise last year. (Guess where most of them went — to the "Great Oppres-

Predicting who will be con-demned by the WCC is easy, notes Charles Krauthammer in the Sept. 9 issue of The New Republic, "A practically infallible predictor of who will be singled out by the WCC is a country's ideological affinity with the U.S."

The WCC, for example, out Puerto Rico as needing "liberation" from the United States, even though Puerto Ricans continually vote for either continued common-wealth status or U.S. statehood. At the same time, an article in One full of classic Marxist lines such as capitalist forces in the international and national spheres join together to oppress the poor and keep them under domination." The council, according to a recent recommenda-tion, must "move beyond charity and involve itself in the redistribu tion of power."

Mr. Krauthammer notes that "the spirit of revolutionary self-con-sciousness" in WCC circles is cousciousness in WCC circles is cou-pled with pervasive "Western self-loathing." At one recent WCC con-ference a leading American dele-gate switched in his speech from English to Spanish to avoid, said

Mr. Krauthammer, "the very lan-guage of imperialism." All in all, Moscow could not be more happy. It's not a very pretty world. Modern-day Jacob is in for a lot of trouble.

Enduring despite all obstacles

One of the biggest success factors that — as the old saying goes — separates the sheep from the goats is endurance.

Endurance! It means to hold on

To last. To remain. To continue. Endurance is the ability to put up with pain. To persist under pres-sure. To deal with distress and fight

Stop and think about this characrattled by trials and problems. It means facing them with a large dose of calm — you don't overly worry, because you know everything is going to come out all right. You've read the book (the Bible) and know how it comes out in the end — we

In Revelation 3:10, an interesting scripture written to the Church of Philadelphia reads: "Since you have ter trait for a moment. As Christians we must develop it. Our eternal life depends on it. Matthew 24:13 says "He that shall endure until the end, the same shall be saved."

Commitment to the end

"Endure" here means to stand pain or fatigue, to bear, to undergo, to put up with. It means to tolerate, to last, to continue, to remain. It means to bear pain without flinching, undying dedication, commit-

I'm encouraged every time I read this scripture. Let me explain why.
A central part of the meaning of endurance in the Bible is patience Patience is another meaning for many words translated "endur-

Endurance, then means not being kept my command to endure patiently, I will also keep you from the hour of trial that is going to come upon the whole world to test those who live on the earth" (New International Version). Enduring means holding tightly against all odds. ("And after he [Abraham] had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.") It means that when you get to what seems to be the end of rope, you tie a knot in it and hold on for dear life. The word carries with it a flavor of determination. You have set your mind and energies on a goal in front of you, and nothing is going to deter you. You are an irresistible force like a glacier.

Don't give in

As Winston Churchill put it:

"Never give in! Never, never, never never. In nothing great or small, large or petty — never give in except to conviction of honor and good sense." Good advice when it comes to obtaining our Christian goal in life — salvation and God's King-

We are in a life-and-death battle. but when the smoke clears, even though we may be sitting down because we can't stand up anymore, we must still be there.

The word also carries the conn tation of making the best of a bad situation — this world in general, living with a belligerent, unconverted mate, a catastrophic illness, poverty, losing friends or relatives, other personal trials — we face them with courage because we know everything is working to our good (Romans 8:28). "Behold we count them happy which endure" (James

Some pain is expected when running a race (ours is a spiritual race). Unless we concentrate on our goal of finishing the race, we are going to let that pain get to us, and we'll think: What am I doing here? I'm going to give up and quit! And many runners do just that. Often when they have only a few more yards to go, they quit. A runner must be extremely motivated to achieve the goal. Keep in mind Galatians 6:9,"Let us not grow weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap, if we do not lose heart" (Revised Standard

Victory belongs to the Christian who accomplishes in spite of pain. Who persists ander pressure. Who deals with distress. Who fights fatigue. Who endures

Greetings from Japan!
Today I would like to express my hearty thanks to you and your staff for what you have done for me by editing that article about me in the May issue of the WN!

You see, since that article appeared, I have been receiving letters from mem-bers all over the U.S.A. and other parts of the world and still new letters are com-ing! I did have quite a correspondence list before, but I think it has more than doubled in these few months. I have gotten to know so many new people of God's Church: some even came to visit me in Church; some even came to visit me in Japan. In fact, I never had so many visitors all the time before as during those past few summer months! Catherine Okano Abiko, Japan

HWA examines 'PT' programs

The following article was written by Robert Fahey, executive assistant to Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong

By Robert Fahey

PASADENA — A long-awaited meeting took place yesterday [Sept. 24]. When Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong was away from Pasa-dena, the people under him who oversee our major media departments had no opportunity to sit down with him together to receive his direct supervision and coordination.

These media departments include Plain Truth Editorial, Mail Processing, Radio and TV Produc-tion and Publishing (including international printing and circula tion programs). Because of the multifaceted and overlapping nature of these operations, coordination and personal direction from Mr. Armstrong are vital if we are to speak

While Mr. Armstrong was in Tucson, evangelist Ellis LaRavia faithfully carried over various ideas, programs and specific items for Mr Armstrong to review. This bridged the gap during that time. But now that he is here in Pasadena, the one whom God has used to start all these activities is able to chair the meetings himself.

For the first meeting, Boyd Leeson, U.S. Plain Truth circulation manager, gave an overview of pro-grams in use to add subscribers to The Plain Truth in the United States. It was a comprehensive presentation that included a history of U.S. circulation from 1968 to the present and each program used over the years, such as newsstands, lit cards, gift subscriptions, newspaper inserts, renewals and direct mail. Mr. Armstrong and the rest of us were given the total picture of developments in circulation

As the details were covered one by one the four department heads. Dexter Faulkner [Plain Truth edi-torial], Richard Rice [Mail Processing], Larry Omasta [Radio and TV] and Ray Wright [Publishing] would comment on their areas of responsi-bility. It was clear to us all that like four legs on a chair, these four departments each carry part of the load of our media efforts. Mr. Arm-strong modified several things, but gave the green light to all the circula-tion programs presently in use.

This was encouraging to everyone in fact, applause broke out when he said, "It's fine; go ahead with it all!" That showed that although certain things needed adjustment, the efforts in circulation had basically been on track! The gaps of time and distance had been faithfully bridged.

(Continued from page 1) bizarre split schedule with an extra set of playoffs, before the regular playoffs. The networks, which air all the post-season games, including the World Series, always buy satel-lite time in order to show all the games across the nation and to the armed forces overseas.

But what does this have to do with the Feast of Tabernacles you may ask? Well, the regular baseball playoffs, with four divisional champion teams, start Tuesday, Oct. 13, the first day of the Feas

And when does the World Series start? You have probably guessed, Oct. 20 - the Last Great Day!

What usually is an easy assign ment — to rent satellite time — became an arduous task, because the networks had not purchased the brokers who own satellite transponders were not renting out time because each one felt they had an inside shot of having the networks sign with them.

I'm certain most of you remem-ber during April of this year the launch and spectacular landing of NASA's Columbia — the reusable billion-dollar space shuttle. The launch time for the second series of tests was scheduled for the early part of October, with the reentry and landing set for (you guessed it) Tuesday, Oct. 13.

NASA [National Aeronautics and Space Administration] usually requests and receives a block of sat ellite time on several satellites before, during and after launch and reentry dates to cover itself.

Christ certainly is looking out for His Church. He has intervened, and we have now rented satellite time on Sat Com I. Also, mysteriously, a faulty fuel-loading line dumped s eral gallons of corrosive rocketengine propellant over the nose and down the side of the space shuttle, loosening scores of heat-resistant tiles, thus delaying the flight by at least a week.

Remember Paul's warning — that we wrestle not with flesh and blood, but against wicked spirits in high places. Just how important are Mr. Armstrong's Holy Day Feast transmissions? Don't underesti-

A student from the Netherlands watched his currency devalue upwards of 50 percent since March against the dollar, a loss of more than $1,000, Mr. Suckling noted.

International students must also prove to immigration officials they can meet college costs before entering the United States, he said. Mr. Suckling added that most international students are in the United States four years and by law may not work more than 20 hours a week during the school term. There-fore, Mr. Suckling said, "extra con-sideration" is given to their financial needs at Ambassador.

Culture shock

International students must also adapt to cultural differences in the United States. Frustrations include learning to use English as a primary language.

Routine situations can baffle students. For example, imagine trying to mail a letter through a city trash can, mistaking it for the red mail-box in use in Britain, or sorting through a myriad of TV and radio

Many international students tend to have a good background in world

AMBASSADOR ACTIVITIES

AMBASSADOR CLUBS

The first meetings of Ambassador Clubs and Ambassador Women's Clubs in Pasadena for the 1981-82 school year took place the first week of September. Men's clubs meet weekly on either Tuesday or Thursday evening, while the Women's Clubs mee on Monday or Wednesday evening every two weeks.

Chancellor Herbert W. Armstrong wrote in the Ambassador-Spokesman Speech Manual: "The value and importance of your . . . club to you, and to God's Work, is beyond evaluating . . . It is training in character, in personality, in speaking, in social experience . . . ''

All students are automatically assigned to clubs upon enrolling at Ambassador College. Both the Ambassador Clubs and Women's Clubs teach students how to express their thoughts effectively through speeches and tabletopics.

While Ambassador Club is more formally structured, with business conducted through parliamentary procedures, the women have dinner meetings centered around themes such as the Proverbs 31 woman, current events, motherhood and personal appearance.

The goals for Women's Club. according to the handbook, are to develop poise and a positive approach to a woman's role in the home and Church as well as an appreciation of culture.

Janet Burbeck, a senior at Ambassador College and Overall Women's Club President, said of this year's clubs. "The club atmosphere is conducive to an attitude of wanting to learn and develop the attributes of true womanhood.

OUTREACH BEGINS NEW YEAR

The Ambassador College Outreach Program opened a new year of service to the Church and community Aug. 20 with a kickoff meeting, according to Karl Reinagel. Outreach director and Ambassador College senior One third of the student body volunteered to serve this school year in Outreach programs.

The Outreach Program began in the mid-'70s with a student entertainment group, the Ambassador Choraliers, which performed in convalescent homes.

From this, Outreach branched into four other areas. Volunteers tutor handicapped and orphaned children at two neighboring schools and students at Imperial Schools. Outreach members often visit elderly and widowed Church brethren, which "helps both the students and the elderly" feel more involved in God's Church, Mr. Reinagel commented.

Chosen for the 1981-82 dance team are: Kathy Brunz, senior: Germaine Damore Karen Jermakowicz, Wilma Niekamp, juniors: Debra Chapman, Ronda Kelly, sophomores; and Suzy Catherwood, Eileen Dennis Prenny Parnell and Edie Weaner, freshmen

Outfitted in royal purple and gold sweaters and skirts, the team will dance during time-outs and halftimes of the women's and men's games. The Ambassador College Pep Band will provide music. The first Saturday night game is scheduled Dec. 12.

BIG SANDY CAMPUS STUDENT COUNCIL

Scheduling and organizing activities for the 1981-82 school year in Big Sandy were the main topics of discussion at the first meeting of the student council Sept. 17.

Seven members, all sophomores, comprise the council: Mark Mounts, student body president; Sherri Means, overall Women's Club president: Bruce Daque sophomore class president Bob Jones, Ambassador Clubs representative; Rick Morris men's dorms representative: Sandi Borax, women's dorms representative; and Tom Delamater, Ambassador Portfolio editor.

PT' program restarts in Britain

LONDÓN — The July marriage of Prince Charles and Lady Diana Spencer gave God's Church a special reason to celebrate. Following five years of inactivity, the British Plain Truth newsstand program restarted with an issue featuring the royal couple on the cover.

Since it is impossible to obtain

Since it is impossible to obtain time on government owned television and radio in Britain, God's Church has few options available to transmit Christ's Gospel.

A major newspaper advertising program from 1968 to 1970 was combined with airing The World Tomorrow broadcast over off-shore ship stations. The newstand program began in 1972, after the British government outlawed the ship stations

More than 90 percent of magazines purchased in Britain are distributed through newsagents. Only a small minority are distributed through subscriptions.

After much negotiation and After much negotiation and prayer on the part of the Church here, Plain Truth newsstand distribution was arranged through one of Britain's two main news retail outlets. The program rapidly multiplied, eventually reaching a monthly circulation of more than 300,000 copies in 1976. But, later that same year, the program was curtailed when subsidies from God's Work in the I loited States were cutrailed.

the United States were curtailed.

The five-year lapse between the close and restart of the program was not spent idly. Much time was spent evaluating the effectiveness of the previous program.

Shops in England generally won't distribute a magazine unless paid to do so. British news outlets have limited space — only when they are paid can you claim a definite commitment from them mitment from them.

Also, the last few years have seen the addition of several free publications. The Plain Truth magazine is not now unique in this aspect. Many stores won't accept one free publication for fear of receiving pressure from others.

The restarting of the program was also hampered because our former distribution chain declined to accept The Plain Truth.

to accept The Plain Truth.

London, the major population center, was chosen as the focal point of the program. Plain Truth outlets were secured in heavy traffic areas, insuring exposure to a broad segment of the population.

A card is stitched into the magazine offering a free subscription.
The program has already produced a response of between 2 and 3 purcent. Many of the new subscribers live outside of Britain, reflecting London's international character.

London was also chosen to give maximum awareness and visibility of The Plain Truth to government, finance and communications people who populate the city. The Plain Truth has already attracted attention from a socialist magazine, which has contacted us and alleged that we promote fascist ideas. Such reaction is nearly unavoidable, and reflects the country's sensitivity to small religious groups.

Plans now call to maintain PT newsstand circulation between 40,000 and 50,000 magazines monthly, but increasing the number of outlets.

AICF opens new season; HWA congratulates artist

PASADENA — Soprano Montserrat Caballe performed before a sellout crowd in the Ambassador Auditorium Sept. 27 that included Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong and various dignitaries, concert artists and series subscribers in the Los Angeles, Calif., area.

Miss Caballe's performance marked the first of the Ambassador International Cultural Foundation's (AICF) seventh concert season, according to Wayne Shilkret, performing arts director.

Mr. Armstrong went backstage to congratulate Miss Caballe after the performance. Mr. Shilkret said the meeting was "warm and they got along exceedingly well."

Mr. Shilkret remarked that "Miss Caballe is a wonderful, wonderful artist. It took nearly four years before she was able to find time to appear at Ambassador last year. We enjoyed her so much and the feeling was mutual, so she changed her schedule to allow her to open our schedule here."

The previous night Miss Caballe performed with the San Francisco, Calif., opera company. "This is very unusual for an opera star," Mr. Shilkret said. He noted that most opera stars schedule days of rest between performances because of the stress from physical and mental exertion.

Also in the-evening's audience were television and Broadway actor Richard Thomas and his wife, and Metropolitan Opera soprano Lenona Mitchell, who is scheduled to perform in the 1982-83 AICF concert season.

Mr. Shilkret said he had every reason to believe the evening "heralded the opening of a great season for the Ambassador Auditorium," but added that one can never foresee artist cancellations.

He reported that all indications point toward a "very successful season," as subscriber sales were up more than 50 percent.

"We had an extraordinary response to our series announce-ment," he continued. Some of the AICF series completely sold out before single seats went on sale, "and we now have a waiting list for future years."

Soprano Leontyne Price, Big

Soprano Leontyne Price, Big Band director Count Basie and several others were scheduled to appear in September and October, according to Mr. Shilkret.

INTERNATIONAL DESK BY ROD MATTHEWS

PASADENA — Herbert W. Armstrong's half-hour television special, China: Inside the Wall, was aired Aug. 10 on the only television channel in Accera, Ghana, free of charge. It was aired in prime time, at 7 p.m., just before the main news.

The Accra church pastor, Melvin Rhodes, made this film and the 1980 Young Ambassadors Feast film available to the British Council (a body promoting education and the arts in Ghana), who in turn make films available to Ghana Broadcasting Corp. (GBS) for television showing.

We expect the Young Ambassadors film to be aired soon, and hope that this will lead to an opening in radio. (Television reaches only the wealthiest people in the major urban centers — 1 to 2 percent of the population.)

Philippines

Although the Philippine economy is in a serious condition regarded by some as worst since 1949 — God's Work there had a 69 percent increase in income in August, bringing year-to-date increase to 25 percent. Eight hundred fifty new students enrolled for the Correspondence Course in August and 2,900 were added to the Plain Truth mailing list.

Guy Ames, the regional director, continued his trip; to churches throughout the country, now having reached all but one since his arrival last January. He visited the Naga City and Legazpi churches for the first time in August as well as conducting a Festival planning conference in Cebu City with elders from that area.

Australia

For the first time in four years, the Australian edition of The Plain Truth was printed in Australia. Previously it was printed in Singapore to take advantage of cheaper labor and postage, but delays were experienced in getting the magazine to Australian readers.

The September edition was

The September edition was printed in Sydney, Australia, and mailed at a special rate negotiated with the Australian post office. Printing quality and delivery time were both improved.

were both improved.

More than 5,600 requested copies of The United States and Britain in Prophecy, as a result of Mr. Armstrong's last semiannual letter.

Spanish-area moves

Recent months have seen several ministerial transfers in the Spanish-speaking area of God's Work. Pablo Gonzalez, pastor of the Bogota, Colombia, church, was moved to San Juan, Puerto Rico, to pastor the church there. The Bogota church will be pastored by Mario Hernandez, assisted by Mauricio Peres, who returned to Colombia after attending Ambassador College until last May. Just before the Feast, Mr. and Mrs. Alberto Sousa, stationed in Puerto Rico, were scheduled to move to Argentina to pastor the Ezeiza church.

Solomon Islands

The membership in the Solomon Islands increased by more than 28 percent — two more baptisms. An August tour conducted by Bill Sidney from the Australian Office, accompanied by ministerial trainee Bruce McNair, resulted in the baptisms, bringing the membership to nine. One man on a remote island was reached after a two-hour trip in a motorized canoe. He had been receiving The Plain Truth for 20
