Pastor general returns to Asia, receives royal Thai decoration

By Aaron Dean
BANGKOK, Thailand — Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong received the royal Thai decoration of "Commander of Our Most Noble Order of the Crown of Thailand" Feb. 3 from Maj. Gen. Pramarn Adireksarn, one of Thailand's five deputy prime ministers.

Aaron Dean, Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong's personal aide, transmitted this trip diary from Bangkok, Thailand, Feb. 3.

The decoration was presented to Mr. Armstrong on behalf of Thailand's King Bhumibol Adulyadej, in recognition of the pastor general's continuing efforts toward world peace.

Mr. Armstrong was in Thailand as part of an Asian tour through the Philippines, the People's Republic of China, Japan, Hong Kong, Thailand and Malaysia.

During the ceremony Feb. 3, the deputy prime minister proposed a toast in honor of Mr. Armstrong, noting the efforts of Ambassador College and the Ambassador Foundation in helping the Thai people.

In return, Mr. Armstrong proposed a toast to King Bhumibol, stating: "The king has lived up to his coronation statement: 'We shall reign with righteousness for the happiness and welfare of the people.'"

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Prime Minister Prem Tinsulanonda congratulated Mr. Armstrong.

Mr. Armstrong later met with King Bhumibol at Chitralada Palace to discuss the Ambassador Foundation's humanitarian projects in Thailand and around the globe.

"Because we are a private foundation and small, our contributions cannot be as large as many government contributions," the pastor general told the king, "but we do what we can to help."

The king replied, "What you are doing to help is very good."

The Ambassador Foundation has sponsored an education project to help Thailand's hill tribe people to grow commercial crops other than opium, and has assisted Ambassador College students in teaching English and Western culture to refugees in Thailand.

Mr. Armstrong also discussed Queen Sirikit's humanitarian projects. The queen is involved in similar self-help programs to help develop Thailand's human resources.

Mr. Armstrong kept his meeting with the king short because of a blood disorder the king contracted while working with a refugee project on the Thai border. Mr. Armstrong wanted to be considerate and allow the king to conserve his strength for his other duties.

The pastor general began his trip at the Burbank, Calif., airport Jan. 24. Aboard the Work's G-II jet with him were David Hulme, media liaison for the Church; Kevin Dean, Youth Opportunities United (YOU) director; Mr. Armstrong's personal aide Aaron Dean and Mr. Dean's wife Michelle; and the G-II crew.

The G-II touched down in Hawaii at 5 p.m. local time, an hour behind schedule because of strong headwinds.

Mr. Armstrong and his group were met at the airport by Honolulu, Hawaii, pastor Dave Fraser and his wife. They also joined Mr. Armstrong for dinner that evening.

Although Jan. 25 was originally scheduled as a time adjustment day for the group, Mr. Armstrong spent much of the day typing articles.

The G-II left Hawaii at 10:30 a.m. Jan. 26, stopping at Wake Island to refuel en route to the Philippines.

A sign on the side of the airport terminal read: "Where America's day really begins." Wake Island, a U.S. protectorate, lies on the other side of the international date line. Wednesday had now become Thursday.

After another fuel stop on the island of Guam, Mr. Armstrong and his party landed at the international airport at Manila, Philippines.

Guy Ames, regional director of God's Work in the Philippines, some of the ministry and members of the regional office staff, met Mr. Armstrong at the airport.

Larry Omasta, director of the Work's Media Services Department, and members of the Work's television crew filmed the landing.

The television crew had flown ahead of Mr. Armstrong and will document portions of the pastor general's Asian trip for The World Tomorrow and other Church media productions.

At noon, Jan. 28, Mr. Armstrong had lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Adamson and two of their four children. Mr. Adamson, along with his brother, was founder of Adamson University in the Philippines.

At 5 p.m. Blas Ople, the Philippine minister of labor, met with Mr. Armstrong in the pastor general's hotel suite.

The Ambassador Foundation, in a combined effort with the Philippine Ministry of Labor, has supported a rural workers project there. This project was recognized by the United Nations as an example for Third World nations to follow.

During the day, Mr. Armstrong conducted a meeting with Mr. Hulme and Mr. Ames to discuss the Church's media coverage.

Sabbath, Jan. 29, Mr. Armstrong completed his notes for a 4 p.m. address he delivered to Plain Truth readers in the grand ballroom of the Manila Midtown Hotel.

The 2,800 chairs were filled and another 150 to 200 people stood at the rear of the hall. About 1,200 of those attending were Church members.

For one and a half hours Mr. Armstrong thundered his most powerful message ever in the Philippines. No one there can say he was left without a witness of the troubles of this world and the coming solution of God's reestablished government on earth.

The group flew to Thailand Jan. 31, and continued on to Malaysia Feb. 5.

arrangements and Festival setup.

He noted that each site has different requirements for Festival planning, owing to the different geographical and cultural features.

"Each site is different, but we continue to work toward the goal of fostering more of the true meaning of the coming Kingdom of God," Mr. LaRavia said.

He added that the unity shown by the coordinators and managers during the meetings was "inspiring, and shows the promise that 1983 will be another fulfilling year for the Feast."

To give brethren an equal chance for Feast housing, the supplement that formerly appeared in The Worldwide News will be simultaneously distributed throughout the United States.

1983 Feast planning under way

PASADENA — Thirty-eight U.S. Festival coordinators, business managers and other personnel met here Jan. 25 and 26 for meetings conducted by evangelists Joseph Tkach Sr., Ellis LaRavia and Leroy Neff.

Mr. Tkach, director of Ministerial Services, Mr. Neff, the Work's treasurer, and Mr. LaRavia, director of Facilities Management, comprise a U.S. Festival coordinating team under Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong.

"We administer the Festival policies for the United States as set by Mr. Armstrong," Mr. LaRavia said. "Mr. Armstrong himself will announce the approved Feast sites... in March."

The two-day meetings were also attended by evangelist Leon Walker, regional director of the Work in Spanish-speaking areas, and Colin Adair, regional director for the Work in English-speaking Canada.

During the meetings the Festival coordinating team and support staff delivered guidelines for the U.S. Festival as set by Mr. Armstrong.

"We are continuing to grow more unified in our administration of the Feast," Mr. LaRavia said. "Mr. Armstrong has set high standards for the Feast and wants every site to reflect those standards."

Ministerial Services is responsible for scheduling the sermons and activity planning during the Festival.

"After the sermon schedule is set up, Mr. Armstrong goes over the list to approve it," Mr. Tkach said. "This year each U.S. Feast site will have only two traveling speakers, instead of three as some sites had in the past. This will enable each traveling speaker to spend half of the Feast at one site, and the other half at another, instead of traveling on a staggered schedule."

"Ministerial Services also coordinates activity planning, using the guidelines approved by Mr. Armstrong. Festival activities this year will have two general, overall purposes: to provide godly fellowship and fun together, and at the same time, set an example and standard that can be reflected in the churches worldwide for the rest of the year."

Mr. Tkach said: "The activities will point brethren toward the family unit and experiencing a millennial setting. The Festival coordinators were directed to keep this in mind."

Mr. Neff coordinates the selection of business managers for the Festival, and keeps an overview of budget planning for each U.S. site.

Under Mr. Neff's supervision, relations with area banks must be developed to allow for transfer of Holy Day offerings to the Work's Accounting and Mail Processing departments, plus covering of such on-site expenses as hall rental, transportation costs and activity fees.

Business managers are selected from the Work's Accounting Department and employees of the Work trained in fiscal administration.

Mr. LaRavia's area concerns the physical administration of each site, providing the meeting halls, seating

Literature requests top records

PASADENA — Literature requests for 1982 broke all-time records, according to Richard Rice, director of the Mail Processing Center (MPC), Feb. 2.

"It was just one eventful year from every conceivable angle," said Mr. Rice. "It was a phenomenal year of trying to keep pace, to work more and to catch up."

Ten records were set in 1982:

- Circulation of The Plain Truth topped five million, 22 percent over the previous record set in 1981.

- The World Tomorrow telecast appeared on 184 television stations in the United States as of December, 1982. The previous high was 107 stations in 1981.

- About 70 million pieces of literature were distributed worldwide.

- The Postal Center in Pasadena mailed 22,095,950 pieces of literature, 10 percent more than in 1974, the former record year. (Most Plain Truths are not mailed from Pasadena.)

- Tucson, Ariz., and Pasadena received 3,812,467 pieces of mail, a 6 percent increase over the previous record set in 1975.

- The Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) area received 611,033 telephone calls. Two thirds were responses to the World Tomorrow telecast. The previous high was 565,319 in 1975.

- U.S. Plain Truth subscribers requested 4,346,381 booklets, books and reprint articles. This exceeds by 3 percent a 1973 record.

- A total of 1.21 million new people were added to the U.S. Plain Truth subscription list — a gain of 35 percent over 1981's record 896,000.

- Total television response, including phone calls and letters, was 484,526 responses — a 9 percent increase above the record set in 1975.

- New students enrolled in the Ambassador College Bible Correspondence Course totaled 134,643, which eclipsed the 1973 record by 1,578.

Wayne Pyle, an assistant to Mr. Rice, noted that increased stations, both radio and television, and more Plain Truths, both subscription and newsstand, were partly responsible for the literature request increases.

Plain Truth renewals and Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong's semiannual letters contributed to the year's record as well, he said.

Mr. Pyle noted that in the early '70s, the Work mailed more home subscription Plain Truths than it does now, but responses for literature offered in the magazine were less.

Mr. Rice said: "Much overtime was spent just trying to keep pace. We had to hire new people and to devise new programs to better use our manpower."

"We had to launch an Ambassador College student program to do night work to keep pace with the tremendous amount of mail."

"People are being double trained to be able to help in other areas in case of a crunch. This helps to economize our manpower and expenses."

"The team that we have here has been a remarkable example of sacrifice to God's Work. It was most inspiring... Everyone was eager to help in any way that he could and really had his heart in the Work."

America forewarned: Watch out for 1983!

PASADENA — Like an individual, what a nation sows, it also reaps. And America will soon reap the whirlwind — a lesson for all the world to see.

As Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong has warned continually, America is heading for a calamitous fall, because of mounting national sins.

Momentous Decision

January, 1983, is extremely significant when looking back at two almost back-to-back milestone events that occurred a decade ago.

Jan. 22, 1973, in the case of Roe vs. Wade, the United States Supreme Court by a 7-2 vote legalized abortion nationwide.

The court based its ruling on the concept of a "woman's right to privacy." Thus, this new right (which was described by others as a "woman's right to control her own body") followed logically in the stream of the nationwide "rights consciousness" begun in the mid-'60s.

As a result of this and subsequent rulings, abortions zoomed upward. In 1980, a record 1.55 million legal abortions were performed in the United States terminating about one of every four pregnancies. The 1980 figure was more than double the 774,000 legal abortions performed on demand in 1973, the first year of legalized abortions in the nation.

Of course in some states and localities the figure is even higher. For example, 31 percent (nearly one of three) pregnancies now ends in abortion—make that murder!—in Florida.

Last year, the editor in chief of The American Spectator, R. Emmett Tyrrell, took note of this irony: Some people are greatly fearful for the future of humanity ("Think of the children," they seem to say) due to the threat of nuclear warfare. At the same time the terrible toll in human life caused by legalized abortion on demand is overlooked.

"Maybe... we in the West are not as fervid for human life as the demonstrators would have it," said Mr. Tyrrell in the April 20, 1982, issue of the Los Angeles Herald Examiner. "Some rather gruesome practices have become the norm..."

"One and a half million abortions are now practiced annually. So what? In February [1982] the newspapers carried pictures of men disposing of a mound of fetuses, possibly as many as 2,000, found in formaldehyde in California. Their presence there remains a mystery, but, though they were being hauled off like trash, they looked strikingly like babies to me."

Vietnam peace?

Jan. 27, 1973, only five days after the momentous Supreme Court decision, the United States and North Vietnam reached accord on the Paris peace agreements. But there was to be no peace.

The pact merely secured America's ungraceful tuck-tail exit. The South Vietnamese and other Indo-Chinese were consigned to their brutal fate at the hands of a determined aggressor. The U.S. Congress shortly pared back its promised U.S. military aid to the Saigon government, eventually — and shamefully — cutting it off altogether.

Some Americans think their nation can simply walk away from assumed obligations to allies such as the Vietnamese, and the Shah of Iran (and as probably will happen to nations in Central America) without eventually paying a horrible price themselves!

The Soviets and Cubans shrewdly took advantage of U.S. timidity, commonly described as the "Vietnam Syndrome" — meaning prophetically America's loss in the pride of its power (Leviticus 26:19). The United States has been afraid to act in the only way that can really halt a further expansion of Communist inroads.

Author Max Singer observes this development in the December issue of Commentary:

"People around the world, friends and enemies, used to assume almost as a law of nature that, although the U.S. might make mistakes, we could not be defeated and would not let ourselves be humiliated or shown to be negligent or incapable of defending our interests

... succession followed bomb No. 2 on Nagasaki (Aug. 9), the Japanese offer of surrender (Aug. 10), the U.S. acceptance (Aug. 14) and the formal surrender (Sept. 2).

America was the world's uncontested No. 1 power, and remained so for nearly two decades. During the missile crisis of October, 1962, the Soviets, despite their growth in military power, were forced to back down (unlike today in the propaganda battle over nuclear missiles in Europe.)

But times were changing. On Aug. 5, 1964, 19 years after Hiroshima, almost to the day, the U.S.

"Certainly we would not let Communism expand in our own neighborhood [Central America]. But how many, even in our own country... are confident of this today?"

America's decline as world power

Looking back at fairly recent history we can see just how far down the United States has fallen in the 37½ years since the end of World War II.

The years 1945-1964 marked the high-water mark of U.S. power and prestige in the world. On Aug. 6, 1945, the American B-29 Superfortress dropped an atomic bomb on the Japanese city of Hiroshima.

Japan's fate was sealed. In quick

Congress overwhelmingly approved, at President Lyndon B. Johnson's request, the Tonkin Gulf Resolution. (On Aug. 2 and 4 North Vietnamese naval craft attacked U.S. vessels in international waters off the Vietnamese coast.)

The resolution authorized the President to "take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression."

Congress also approved the use of American military forces to come to the aid of allied states in Southeast Asia requesting assistance.

Thus the way was paved for an ultimately disastrous military involvement on the part of the United States in Southeast Asia. The years (See FOREWARNED, page 3)

Children and the Sabbath

Every parent has problems controlling his or her children occasionally, even in Sabbath services.

One member quite seriously told her minister, "I know I'll miss the next two years of services now that I have a new baby."

Is this the fate of parents with young children? Are new mothers and fathers doomed to embarrassment and, worse still, missing services for months because of untrained children?

The good news is that children can be trained to behave well during services.

I want to share with you this time valuable principles of our ministers, Alan Redmond of the Calgary, Alta., church, sent to me to aid members in training their children for Sabbath services. By the way, these principles can help you have happier, better-mannered children every other day of the week as well.

I Corinthians 7:14 shows that the children of Church members, apart from all other people in the world, are in a special category when it comes to receiving God's instruction.

What a great responsibility falls on parents!

How a person rules what God gives him to handle now, after all, will determine what he is given to handle — cities, people, spiritual responsibilities — in the world tomorrow (Luke 16:10).

Child-rearing principles

• Start early. Many parents reason that their children are too young to understand certain principles. Not so! Parents can't start training their children too early.

Though a child's mind is neutral — disposed neither to good nor evil — at birth, Satan immediately goes to work injecting carnal, selfish, evil attitudes (Psalm 58:3). Even if you neglect to teach your child, Satan will not! Without proper training and discipline, that sweet, lovable baby you now hold in your arms will soon become spoiled and nearly uncontrollable.

• Be diligent. Deuteronomy 6:6,7 tells us that children must be taught diligently by their parents.

Discipline alone — without teaching, affection, encouragement and reward for doing well — will only create resentment (Ephesians 6:4). Too many parents punish only after their children have already been warned several times, or only when the parents are angry!

There is little consistency or instruction. The child is left confused and, later, bitter. Correcting your son or daughter only on the Sabbath, or only in front of the minister, just breeds hostility. Teach first, then punish consistently for disobedience.

On the Sabbath, if your child knows you will not take him out for a spanking during services, then you have undermined your teaching from the rest of the week.

Be vigilant. Watch how your children act. Teach and correct when needed. At Sabbath services, are your children within your sight or running unsupervised through the building?

• Reward and punishment. God deals with us through reward and punishment (Deuteronomy 30:19). Wise parents will use this method of reward and punishment to teach children the principle of cause and effect. Children will repeat pleasurable experiences and avoid painful ones.

Do not hesitate to spank when needed, but let the punishment fit the crime.

Remember to show mercy and take into account the child's individual temperament and special needs. Discipline in love and show tender concern.

• See the big picture. God's law gives us the perspective we need in child rearing. The weightier matters of that law are "justice and mercy and faith" (Matthew 23:23).

Teach your child as he or she grows up to think according to the spirit of God's law: love to God and love to neighbor.

Remember your child is a child and should not be expected to act like an adult (Psalm 103:13, 14). Being kind and fair only enhances your office as parent (Proverbs 20:28).

Encouragement and praise change children, too (Proverbs 27:21). Be softhearted, but not soft-headed.

Training in action

Often the problem in child rearing lies in not knowing how to apply the principles to real-life situations. How can the foregoing advice apply to make next Sabbath much more enjoyable for all? Here are some examples:

Children need to be taught to sit still. Perhaps they could play church at home each day, sitting quietly and looking at books or pictures for an hour. A sermon tape could be played, or you could do your Bible study at the same time.

Explain Ecclesiastes 5:1 to your family, stressing good behavior in services. Put your instruction in language the children can understand.

About 10 minutes before services start, take the children to the washroom, feed the baby and settle them in their seats before services begin.

A firm "No!" in response to misbehavior during services should suffice. If it doesn't, take the child out, explain where he has disobeyed, and spank. Next Sabbath "No!" will probably carry more weight.

Older children can be taught to take an active part in services. If they are old enough to read comics, they are old enough to read notes or to follow the sermon in their own Bibles.

A little planning and diligence can make the Sabbath a lot more profitable for everyone! Children don't have to keep you from fully hearing God's Word expounded. They can be taught to behave during services and Bible studies. It takes consistent effort, but the results are well worth it. Faithfully applying these principles will make both the Sabbath and children more of a delight to us and to God.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Single parents

I am responding to the Worldwide News issue on single parents [Jan. 10]. It made me think how women married to husbands in the military, at times, are single parents.

A few of us in the Jacksonville, Fla., congregation are in this situation. We are not only spiritual widows, but sometimes for months on end physical widows.

We do need the support and fellowship of the Church. Military life can be trying since a tour of sea duty can have husbands in shore for a few weeks, then out to sea for a few weeks, then in for a few months and out again for a few months. Sometimes cruises are for six months to a year depending on the world situation.

We are forced to become more independent and handle both mother and father roles, trials that arise, payment of all bills, etc.

When our husbands return many of these responsibilities revert back to him, and we become more dependent again. A few weeks or months later the role switches again.

I look forward to the day when "swords will be beaten into plowshares, and spears into pruninghooks..." so husbands won't be separated from their families because of military duty.

Lifeline to headquarters

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the informative and interesting newspaper you publish. It fills us in on details of the Work and serves as a sort of lifeline with headquarters in Pasadena. Gene Hogberg's "Worldwatch" I devour, and Dexter Faulkner's column is very helpful and great food for thought.

With the many publications and literature and services, feasts and of course our own Bibles, we have many inspired sources of information that deal with all aspects of our lives and ensure we are constantly corrected. Please keep up the great job and our prayers are with this growing Work of God.

Surprise response

One evening, while listening to Mr.

[Herbert] Armstrong's World Tomorrow broadcast, I was working on our car frantically trying to get it back together so my wife would not miss her doctor's appointment the next day.

I was leaning over the fender with my arms and head in the engine compartment tightening a bolt, when the socket I was using fell off of the ratchet and rolled under the car. At this point, I was already very tired, having been up since 5 a.m., and had been working all day and most of the night.

With a sort of halfway exasperated "Why, Why" to myself, I noticed a pause in the broadcast; the very next words of Mr. Armstrong were: "Because we're going to be in a period of captivity... that's why!"

I had to laugh at myself, and thought about the time coming when we won't be frustrated with physical things.

Director deals with differences between nations in Caribbean

By Jeff Zhorne
PASADENA — God's Work in the Caribbean is "administered linguistically," to the 25 million plus, predominantly Spanish-speaking inhabitants, according to Stan Bass, regional director in the English-speaking areas of the Caribbean, during an interview here Jan. 26.

That means that although most persons interested in the Church speak English, the French and Spanish Departments also deal with French- and Spanish-speaking persons in the area.

Mr. Bass, who was baptized in 1954, moved to San Juan, Puerto Rico, in February, 1974, and has served as office manager since.

Lincoln Jaijal, a local elder and 1982 Pasadena Ambassador College graduate, also serves in the San Juan office.

Mr. Bass pastors biweekly Sabbath services in Dominica and St. Lucia, in addition to conducting monthly Bible studies in Antigua and St. Croix.

"The problem is we are accumulating an embarrassing amount of money," said Mr. Bass.

He added: "Of course that's just in one area of the Caribbean. Other areas are suffering from lack of funds."

"And the island governments do not allow transferring funds or converting currencies from one island to another," Mr. Bass continued. "How to get the money out of one area to make it usable in another" is the problem.

The reason for such a disparity in incomes from island to island traces to the 1974 oil crisis, he explained. Fluctuating oil prices spur economic prosperity for some, yet mean disaster for others.

In a sermon in the Ambassador Auditorium Jan. 22, Mr. Bass urged Pasadena brethren to pray for a balance in income and for constructive ways to spend the moneys in those areas containing excess funds.

Variance seems to be the factor determining the status of the Church on certain islands, as well. Some island governments recognize the Church as a nonprofit organization, for instance, and grant a tax-exempt status.

A nonprofit organization, however, cannot always be registered as such, Mr. Bass remarked. "So in some areas we're pushing, pushing, pushing for registration with the Department of Inland Revenue, so brethren can deduct their contributions."

Work being blessed

Though Mr. Bass pointed to some problem areas, "They are nothing like Mr. [Herbert] Cisneros' ["Members Deal with Terrorism," W/N, Jan.

24]." Mr. Bass said God is definitely blessing the Work in the Caribbean.

The islands and countries under Mr. Bass' jurisdiction are the Bahamas, Barbados, Bermuda, Jamaica, Guyana, Grenada, Grand Cayman, Turks and Caicos, the Virgin Islands, St. Kitts, Antigua, Dominica, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Trinidad and

STAN BASS

Tobago, St. Martin, Montserrat and other islands.

Members view videotapes of the World Tomorrow television program and hear tapes by Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong and evangelist Gerald Waterhouse.

Literature is airmailed in bulk from Pasadena to one address in each Caribbean island and Guyana, where a full- or part-time employee repeats the literature to brethren by local post or delivers it by hand at Sabbath services.

Brethren on some isolated islands receive literature directly from Pasadena.

The largest church in the Caribbean is Port of Spain, Trinidad, with an attendance of 420, more than half the 829 baptized members in the Caribbean. Fifty-one of those 829 were added just last year.

In an effort to have more personal contact with the Caribbean brethren, the regional director plans more travel for 1983.

More than 22,000 Plain Truth newsstand copies accent a "strong 30,000" regular subscribers, according to Ron Urwiller of the International Mail section of the Work's Mail Processing Center in Pasadena. Fifteen people receive The Plain Truth in Cuba.

In November Mr. Bass completed four public Bible lectures in Guyana, where about 50 attended. "Sometimes up to 25 percent of those who come to the lectures end up being baptized. That's overall," he said.

"We've received letters from Puerto Rico, Ghana and Nigeria asking us to help people go to the United States," Mr. Bass said.

Mr. Bass believes difficult economic conditions cause some to request sponsorship to the United States. A Filipino leper has even requested the aid of the Caribbean Office.

"We get mail returns from all places too," he said. "I paid 85 cents for a piece of mail once and it was from Wisconsin!"

Letters from professionals seem to be increasing, Mr. Bass remarked. Most are in response to The World Tomorrow.

Mr. Armstrong's television programs air once weekly in Bermuda and Jamaica, with the Bahamas soon to be added. Viewers can watch the telecast by cable three times a week in San Juan, said Mr. Bass.

"Radio station managers appreciate the World Tomorrow tape because it's technically a very good program — whether they agree with it or not."

"And because it's 28 minutes 14 seconds or 40 seconds, stations can add a minute of advertising to fill a 30-minute time slot and they like to do that," Mr. Bass added, referring specifically to WOSO-radio in San Juan.

Most islands carry the radio broadcast — some even seven days a week like Radio Antilles in Montserrat, a 200,000-watt station heard throughout the Caribbean.

Rocky roads

Mr. Bass braves rugged conditions in some areas.

Plane schedules are the worst, according to Mr. Bass. Since U.S. President Jimmy Carter deregulated airlines in 1978, schedules in the Caribbean have been greatly affected, he said.

For example, when Mr. Bass conducts Sabbath services in Dominica, he must leave San Juan by Thursday afternoon at the latest and fly to Antigua. There he stays overnight and flies out of Antigua Friday morning, arriving in Dominica that afternoon.

During crowded tourist seasons, Mr. Bass may not get back to San Juan until Monday or later — he may have to take the long way: by way of the United States. Air carriers cater to tourists traveling to the Caribbean (See CARIBBEAN, page 12)

GET READY FOR SEP!

PASADENA — The deadline fast approaches for applying to the 1983 Summer Educational Program (SEP) in Orr, Minn.

Feb. 14 is the last day staff applications may be postmarked. Camper applications must be mailed by March 14.

Activities such as skiing, swimming, canoeing and a water show accent education classes and camp-outs — all designed to provide campers and staff with three weeks of learning experiences and fun on the shores of Pelican Lake.

The three SEP sessions take place June 7 through June 27; June 29 through July 18; and July 22 through Aug. 10.

Ask your minister for an application and mail it right away to Youth Opportunities United, 300 W. Green St., Pasadena, Calif., 91129.

Forewarned

1964 to the present have witnessed the steady erosion in U.S. power and prestige.

Politically, the 1972 Watergate scandal sapped the power of the U.S. presidency, forcing out a strong head of state, Richard Nixon, in 1974 and ushering in, in 1977, the disastrous (in terms of foreign prestige) four-year tenure of Jimmy Carter.

Power shift in United Nations

The year 1964 was also significant in other regards. It was a turning point for the United States in the United Nations.

America's ambassador to the United Nations, Jeane K. Kirkpatrick, took note of this power shift — and the watershed year of 1964, as she called it — in a speech she delivered before the Heritage Foundation Conference in New York City June 7, 1982:

"Eighteen months is long enough for me to have observed at firsthand the relative powerlessness of the United States at the United Nations.

"Today there are some 157 members of the United Nations . . . The big influx of the former colonies into the UN occurred alongside the beginning of the decline of U.S. influence.

"Someone noted that 1964 was a watershed year. During that year 17 new nations were admitted to membership.

Rights instead of responsibilities

The year 1964 was also a critical one for the United States on the home front as well. On July 2 of that year President Lyndon B. Johnson signed the Civil Rights Act, which greatly increased the federal government's power to combat racial discrimination.

Despite its clearly defined intent and purpose, however, the legislation unfortunately gave ideas to certain self-proclaimed nonracial "minorities" seeking relief from what they claimed was discrimination.

Causes such as gay rights, the fem-lib movement, the right of abortion on demand, even "kids' rights," began to show strength. In universities, students clamored for the right of "free speech."

The fabric of society was being torn to shreds. Individuals began to think primarily in terms of their rights (licit or immoral) rather than responsibilities.

One wonders what 1983 will bring to an America in accelerating decline, heading for the time when God says He "will rejoice over you to destroy you and bring you to nothing" (Deuteronomy 28:63).

For the Record

PASADENA — Donations postmarked by Dec. 31, 1982, were credited for 1982. In The Worldwide News, Jan. 24, the final postmark date for donations was incorrectly listed as Dec. 21.

How to Use Wills and Trusts to Give to the Church

Many members and co-workers have requested information on how best to make a gift to the Worldwide Church of God, either during their lifetime or upon death, through wills, trusts or other means.

If you desire to receive information regarding such gifts, the Legal Department of the Church is available to advise and serve without cost or obligation. Merely write:

The Legal Department regrets that, because of the variance of laws of other countries, such legal information is only applicable to residents of the United States and Canada. However, in such cases the department will be pleased to furnish whatever limited information it may have available.

HOW TO DOUBLE YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS*

(*WITHOUT GIVING ONE DIME MORE)

It's no gimmick; it's possible. You might be able to double your tithes and contributions and yet not give one more dime of your own money.

The answer is found in a tax benefit the Internal Revenue Service grants certain companies when they donate to a nonprofit educational organization. Because of this, many companies have set up what is generally called a "gift-matching program" for their employees. Under these programs employers match donations of their employees to nonprofit educational institutions.

The procedure is simple but highly beneficial to God's Work. You need only ask your employer if he has such a gift-matching program. If he does, obtain a gift-matching form and mail it to us.

This form would merely request verification of your contributions to the college. After we return the verification, your company would contribute a matching amount. It's just as simple as that, and yet you have in effect doubled your tithes and contributions.

If your company does have such a program, please be certain to write and inform us immediately. To aid in the processing of your letter, please write to: Ralph K. Helge, Legal Department, Box 111, Pasadena, Calif., 91129.

Don't put it off. Contact your employer today.

British Regional Office relies on Plain Truth to help carry Gospel

By Michael A. Snyder
BOREHAMWOOD, England — Less than a mile from the movie studios that helped produce Star Wars stands Elstree House, site of the English Regional Offices of the Worldwide Church of God.

Including serving the English-speaking peoples of the Republic of Ireland and the United Kingdom, the Borehamwood Office has a potential audience for God's truth of more than 412 million people, spread over 12.3 million square miles on two continents, an area three times the size of the United States.

Evangelist Frank Brown, regional director for God's Work in the United Kingdom, Ireland, the Middle East, East and West Africa and Scandinavia, heads the regional office under Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong.

"It might, at first glance, seem odd that we cover such a broad area," Mr. Brown said. "But at closer inspection you can see that many of these areas were once part of the British Empire. What that means is that many of the communication links from Britain's former colonies to London are still in place.

"Thus, we often find it easier to contact the Borehamwood Offices from Africa, rather than call from one country in Africa to another."

Sharing responsibility

In Africa, the regional office often shares responsibility for a country such as Cameroon with another regional office, in this case, the French.

"We have areas where the major language is English, and some where the major language is French, or some other language," Mr. Brown said.

"We cover the areas where English is mainly spoken."

The English Office also covers the Middle East. "We basically only have members there who have been assigned an engineering or other position by their company, and temporarily moved there.

"At one time we had several members living in Israel. Only two English-speaking members and one French-speaking member live there now. We counseled with the others and recommended that they move due to the military situation. All Israeli citizens must serve in the army, unless specifically exempted for religious reasons.

"Even then, it's difficult to obtain [the exemption], and not worth the trouble, since none of the members involved were native Israelis and possessed citizenship from other countries," he said.

Spreading the Gospel

"Because of governmental constraints on electronic media, we have to rely on The Plain Truth to carry the Gospel to most of the countries we administer," Mr. Brown continued.

"In the '60s, the Work broadcast The World Tomorrow through pirate radio stations aboard sailing vessels moored just outside the territorial boundaries of England.

"Many of our present members came in through those broadcasts, but we now have no way to continue any electronic involvement.

"In England we also have the dual problems that the Worldwide Church of God is looked upon as an American religion.

"As Mr. Armstrong has pointed out, God's Church is not an American religion, but . . . [that concept] is something that we have to overcome here in England.

"The other thing we face here," Mr. Brown said, "is that the Bible is not regarded with having the same authority as it does generally in America.

"Most Britons are not as familiar with the Bible as Americans, and either regard it as a collection of ancient myths or know little about it.

"When ministers visit people for the first time, that is often the first thing they must establish: the authority of the Bible. Also, many Britons view the American born-again trend as illogical fanaticism. If they have any religion at all, they want it to be proper, low-key and private."

"Britons also have the heritage of full centuries where politics and religion were one and the same. Even today the titular head of the Church of England is the Queen.

"That heritage makes them suspicious of any new type of religion," Mr. Brown continued.

Ongoing circulation programs help develop what Mr. Brown termed a "quality audience for The Plain Truth."

"In Africa we could have a circulation in the millions almost overnight. As a free, four-color, glossy publication, it overshadows many of the magazines used in Africa. Thousands would request it merely to practice their English," Mr. Brown said.

"So we have to be careful and send it to the people who are really interested in the message it contains."

He added that he has seen The Plain Truth being sold in used bookstores while on trips there.

"There is a certain prestige about having such a quality magazine in your home," he said.

Office? "Obviously, there is much yet to be done. Ancient Israel's prophets said that a great work would be done in Ephraim before the close of the age, but we also have many more people to reach with Christ's message carried through Mr. Armstrong.

"We will continue to walk through open doors as Christ opens them," Mr. Brown said. "Until then, we will keep praying and working — as I hope the brethren are praying for us."

Melanie attends the Washington church with her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Fozard and her younger brother.

MELANIE FOZARD

Her brother Jeff is a sophomore at Big Sandy Ambassador College.

The Tate Family

Around the world you may find Youth Opportunities United (YOU) members who belong to the Tate family. Let me introduce you to some of the Tates.

First, let's meet Dic Tate, who wants to run everything. He wants to make all the decisions and have all the authority.

Dic has a brother named Ro Tate. Ro Tate is constantly trying to change YOU activities and policies to suit himself.

Their little sister, Imi Tate, wants her local chapter to be just like the one she visited last summer in New City.

You may have met Hesi Tate and Vege Tate — they're cousins. They usually want to wait until next year to try out any new activities. One of their distant relatives is Medi Tate, who spends so much time thinking about whether or not to join an activity, that the opportunity has passed before the decision is made.

Is there a Commen Tate in your YOU? She wants to do all the talking during meetings. Gravi Tate thinks the entire YOU should center on him. His sister, Levi Tate, thinks her input is more important than that of the other members.

The twins, Agi Tate and Iri Tate, often attend YOU trips. They stir up trouble by not following instructions and refusing to cooperate.

The last member of the family is Ampu Tate. Ampu Tate doesn't want to participate in meetings or activities. He cuts himself off completely from YOU.

You may have met several of the Tate family before. They are not pleasant company. However, they needn't be members of your YOU chapter.

Attend meetings and activities, participate, listen to adult advisers, cooperate and be responsible. Be 100 percent committed — that's the only way to rid YOU of Tate family attitudes. The quality of your chapter depends on YOU! Pam Andruschow, Westlock, Alta.

Activities span spiritual, physical at SEP camps in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa—The Work here conducted three Summer Educational Program (SEP) camps for 151 teenagers of God's Church in December.

Roy McCarthy, regional director of God's Work in southern Africa, said Jan. 28 that the three camps were at Wagendrift Dam in Estcourt, South Africa, and at Elgin Orchards Farm in Elgin, South Africa.

One hundred twenty-seven teenagers from Swaziland, Transkei and South Africa participated in the two camps at Estcourt, with Russell Duke, pastor of the Kansas City, Mo., East church, and Pasadena Ambassador College students Nathan Berg and Bertha Brandon serving on the staff during the second camp there Dec. 13 to 30. The first camp was Dec. 7 to 23.

Those camps marked the ninth year that SEPs have been conducted in South Africa, Dr. McCarthy said.

The Estcourt camp was directed by John Bartholomew, pastor of the Durban, South Africa, church.

A 10-day camp at Elgin was directed by Pieter van der Byl, a local church elder from Cape Town, South Africa.

"SEP improves every year," Dr. McCarthy said. "Campers [were] much more enthusiastic about God's Work and the Church. There is a genuine interest and desire to be part of the Work, hence an excellent approach to SEP."

Continuing, he said: "The three staff members who came halfway around the world to assist, served the camp and campers very well and made SEP South Africa feel part of an important aspect of God's Work. Our camp director's visit to Orr, Minn., in 1982, helped in refining activities and the general organization of the camp."

Activities at the Estcourt camp included canoeing, riflery, swimming, waterskiing, basketball, soccer, softball, volleyball, rock climbing, an obstacle course and ballroom dancing classes.

The three camps also had educational classes using Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong's booklets.

Robert Klynsmith, pastor of the Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, church, taught the educational classes at the Estcourt camp, focusing on principles of leadership and the Seven Laws of Success and Ten Commandments booklets.

Owen Visagie, a local church elder serving in the Retreat church in Cape Town, conducted educational classes at Elgin. Topics covered included music, health and dating.

Mr. van der Byl discussed the seven laws of success and John White, pastor of the Cape Town church, spoke on the human potential, the world tomorrow and emotional maturity.

Sabbath sermons at Estcourt included "How Youths Can Honor God," by Mr. Klynsmith; "You Are Special to God" by Dr. McCarthy; "Unification of Europe" by Mr. Armstrong on tape; "How to Serve Your Parents" by Mr. Duke; and "Contentment" by Mr. Bartholomew. Campers there also viewed the Behind the Work — 1982 16-mm. film.

Mr. Visagie spoke at Elgin on character development.

SEPs 'rewarding,' say students

By Gary Fakhoury
PASADENA — "Rewarding," "Beneficial." "Overwhelmingly positive." These were just some of the words used by returning Pasadena Ambassador College students to describe international Summer Educational Programs (SEP) in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

Gary Fakhoury is a Pasadena Ambassador College freshman.

Twelve students from the Pasadena campus flew in mid-December to the three sites to be counselors and instructors at the camps.

The Lake Moogerah, Australia, camp took place at Church-owned property in southeast Queensland, a two-hour drive from the Work's regional office at Burleigh Heads.

During the Dec. 28 to Jan. 13 camp, 260 Australian teens took part in more than 20 activities, including rock climbing, photography, lapidary, water sports and horseback riding.

Set in a semimountainous area by a lake, the campsite was suited for camp activities, and offered the campers a sense of being in the wilderness, according to junior Russ O'Quinn.

"Most of the brethren that we worked with had traveled hundreds of miles spending much of their own money to help out the campers," he said. "We were all impressed by their attitude."

Weather at the camp was reported as exceptional, except for three days of downpours that made tent living challenging — as water soaked through waterproof cloth because of the severity and consistency of the rains, Mr. O'Quinn said.

From Dec. 24 to Jan. 7 more than 160 teenagers from New Zealand took part in an SEP camp on the island of Motutapu, about two miles off the coast of North Island, six miles from downtown Auckland. The island was leased to the Church by the New Zealand school system.

Activities included a 40-mile ocean sailing trip and an obstacle course built by the New Zealand army.

"There was a real family atmosphere there," said junior Donna Ramon, "and the entire camp was unified. We all ate, played and worked together."

Senior Maria Kosior agreed, adding: "The facilities were closely situated, so it helped unify the group. Everyone was very eager, genuine and helpful."

In the province of Natal, South Africa, 110 miles from Durban, teens enjoyed similar activities to their counterparts in New Zealand. The South African camps, attended by about 127 campers, were served primarily by brethren taking time off from duties at home to help out.

"It was a real labor of love for those people," said senior Nathan Berg, "and it was quite a sacrifice for them. Many of them brought their whole families along, and each member of the family would help work."

The camp featured many of the same activities as the other two, and took place from Dec. 14 through 30. A third camp took place in Elgin, South Africa.

New Zealand SEP draws teens from three nations

By Rex Morgan
AUCKLAND, New Zealand — More than 160 campers and staff from New Zealand, Fiji and Tonga assembled on Motutapu Island in the Hauraki Gulf here Dec. 24 to Jan. 7 for the New Zealand Summer Educational Program (SEP).

Rex Morgan is a local elder serving as the Plain Truth circulation manager in New Zealand.

The 1983 camp marked the second time the island facility, a converted army camp 6 miles (9.6 kilometers) from downtown Auckland, was used.

Activities during the two-week program included canoeing, sailing, waterskiing, swimming, rock climbing, archery, bushcraft, dancing and volleyball.

Youth Opportunities United (YOU) members and staff tested their skills on an obstacle course constructed by New Zealand army engineers.

New Zealand regional director Peter Nathan served as the camp's director and taught SEP education classes. Donald J. Engle, a preaching elder serving in New Zealand, assisted Mr. Nathan.

All campers completed an essay on the seven laws of success and took a test on the Ten Commandments.

Overnight camps complete with camp-fire sing-alongs were popular, as was an overnight canoe trip to another island.

Some campers also took a day trip on a 45-foot oceangoing sailing vessel (ketch), complete with sophisticated radar and satellite tracking facilities, provided by a businessman.

Five Pasadena Ambassador College students: Stuart Huse, Jay Brothers, Scott Gjesvold, Maria Kosior and Donna Ramon served as counselors during the camp. Mr. Huse worked the first week on the waterskiing crew before flying to Australia to assist with the SEP there.

Peter Thomas and Jan Dowell, 1982 Ambassador graduates, also served as counselors.

Contact with the graduates and Ambassador students stimulated interest in attending Ambassador College, and a meeting was conducted for 20 YOU members interested in applying.

A farewell talent show, dance and presentation of merit awards concluded the camp.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

AKRON, Ohio, members Dec. 25 attended their annual spaghetti dinner with Canton, Ohio, members as guests. Various table games, including a euchre tournament, followed the dinner. The event helped raise funds for the YOU, Lori M. Orosz.

The ALBANY, N.Y., church's annual Bible bowl social Dec. 25 started off with a buffet meal, followed by Bible baseball for the children 12 and under. In the main Bible bowl, in which 19 teams with four members each participated, the team of Lorraine Englehardt, Gabby Grant, Claude Armstrong Jr. and Margie Welty was the winner. Greg Dely.

The third annual game social for the BAKERSFIELD, Calif., congregation occurred Dec. 25. Group games included Simon Says led by Jeff Jones, a cakewalk with Allan Hambleton as master of ceremonies and Tic-Tac-Know organized by Craig Jackson. Pastor Al Mischnick was umpire for three games of Bible baseball. Gloria Frederick, Ruthie Johnson, Cyndi Jackson and others provided games and prizes for the children. Brad Rosenquist presented some humorous awards at the close of the evening. Craig Jackson.

The theme of the BEAVER VALLEY, Pa., church's family night social Dec. 25 was "The Feast of Tabernacles." More than 400 brethren, including guests from the Pittsburgh, Pa., churches, enjoyed a meal of covered dishes and desserts. Feast sites brethren attended this past year were represented in displays including information, brochures and photo albums. In a YOU boys' basketball game Pittsburgh defeated Beaver Valley, but the Beaver Valley YES-age boys were victorious in a competition during half-time. A play was presented by the children, after which table games were played. Recorded music and dancing rounded out the evening. Bonnie Yeager.

The BOISE, Idaho, church had a potluck social Dec. 25. An auction sponsored by the Girls' Club took place after the meal. Women and girls of the church decorated boxes containing a dessert, which were auctioned off by Larry Lindsley. The girls plan to use the money for corsages for the older women during the Spring Holy Days and for the seniors at the spring senior banquet. Later in the evening a movie and cartoons plus a film on the Holy Land were shown. Irene Zeppenfeld.

A potluck supper followed the Dec. 25 services of the BOONE and LENOIR, N.C., churches. Later the brethren were entertained by the combined YOU, directed by pastor Ken Smylie, with Linda Webb at the piano and Tom Fox and Wesley Medford with lights and sound. Music for the dance that followed was provided by the Lenoir church band, composed of Ronnie Harrington, Amos White, Melvin Clark, Steve Miller and Bud Clark. Starr L. Reynolds.

Brethren of the BOSTON, Mass., church attended their second family night of the season Dec. 25. Following a meal and dessert, activities included soccer for the children, a volleyball tournament and a basketball game. Mark Palmerino.

The CALGARY, Alta., SOUTH church played host to a sports social for the North and South brethren Dec. 26 at the Dr. E.P. Scarlett Senior High School. The events got underway in the afternoon with volleyball, basketball, board games, cards and supervised activities for those under 6 years of age. After a break for a potluck dinner the movie Hawmps was shown. The evening wound up with a sock hop in the gymnasium. Emily Lukacic.

The CAMBRIDGE, England, church's annual winter social was Dec. 18. Punch, various cheese flans and an assortment of cakes were provided. Entertainment included skits performed by John and Sylvia Lowe, music by the Travelers Folk Group, the children directed by Fiona Peacock, pianist Anna Nichols, a trumpet solo by Duncan Maclean, a comedy magic act by Brian Peacock and a selection of poems written by Canadian member Eva Sonnenberg. The evening's master of ceremonies was Alan Taylor, who also introduced the children's and adults' games. G.R. Nichols.

The yearly country fair of the CHARLESTON, S.C., church Dec. 26 offered games, food, cakewalks, a country kitchen, arts and crafts and plays. Jo Morris.

The CHICAGO, Ill., SOUTHSIDE church presented its annual talent show Dec. 19. There were musical selections, singing, dancing and acrobatic acts by participants ranging in ages from 4 to senior citizen. The Chicago Cosmopolitan band also performed. Refreshments provided by the brethren were sold. Willie Turner was master of ceremonies, and Douglas Bragg was the band leader. Barbara Williamson.

CUMBERLAND, Md., brethren stayed after services Dec. 25 for a potluck. Many continued the fellowship through the afternoon and into the evening as they watched those who practiced their parts for the coming variety night show. Leftovers were served for the evening meal. Samuel Metz.

The FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., church's second social of the winter season was Dec. 18. The young at heart and young of age formed a progressive circle and square danced to recorded calls. Charles May and Jim Northup organized the evening's dance. Refreshments were served at intermission. Leslie Alan Baker.

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. Wright Baird was the site of a FLORENCE, S.C., church social Dec. 26. The afternoon was spent in relay races and games of tag. Afterward the brethren enjoyed a meal of barbecued turkey and venison. Entertainment was provided by the Davis family, which consisted of guitar playing by Winston and Cheryl and performances on the violin by D. Gordon Davis. A sing-along featured country and western music. Charles B. Edwards.

Dec. 4 GLOUCESTER, England, brethren presented pastor David Bedford and his wife Carol with a case of cut-glass goblets in appreciation of their four years' service. A cake was made for the occasion by Sheila Pritchard. The church will now be part of the Midlands church area. Oliver Willis.

The annual progressive dinner of the GRAND FORKS, N.D., church took place Dec. 18. Gary and Carol Kapity were hosts for the hors d'oeuvres and wine. The 29 adults then journeyed to Terry and Vicki Berg's home for the main course. The last stop for dessert, coffee and hot spicy cider was at Dave and Cindy Wambeck's home, where many people stayed and played cards. Polly Edington.

Eighteen widows of the HOUSTON, Tex., NORTH church attended a luncheon Jan. 2. Each widow was presented a cookie jar with her initials engraved on the front. The gifts were presented by Jessie Turner, who along with his wife Merdell planned and coordinated the luncheon. Afterward three of the widows, Elwyn Brockway, Lorraine Smith and Doris Carter, spoke to the group. Rick Baumgartner.

"The Good Old Days" was the theme of the HULL, England, church social Dec. 11. Baked potatoes were served with 12 fillings, followed by homemade cakes and desserts. In a decorated hat contest the most beautiful creations were judged to be worn by Josie Womack, ladies; Joanne Powell, teens; and Heather Brompton, children. A moustache contest was won by Joanne Benn and David Brown. Special mention was given to pastor David Magowan's whiskers. Children's games were followed by miming charades with two teams led by Malcolm Taylor and Stuart Powell. The subjects were people, events and songs connected with the turn of the century. The evening was rounded off with hot chestnuts and a sing-along accompanied by Josie Womack on guitar. Stuart M. Powell.

Brethren of the JACKSONVILLE, Fla., church surprised Mr. and Mrs. Roy Merriman and their son Robert with a going-away party after services Dec. 25. Pastor Allen Bullock presented a gift of crystal wine glasses to the Merrimans. A women's sextet sang a song to them, and a decorated cake, sandwiches and soft drinks were served. The Merrimans are moving to Big Sandy, where Mr. Merriman will be employed in the cabinet shop at Ambassador College. Sharon Shiver.

The LAS VEGAS, Nev., church invited the Pasadena singles to a camp-out the weekend of Dec. 19 at Lee's Canyon, where the group was surprised to find 2 feet of newly fallen snow. Sabbath services were conducted by pastor Bernie Schnippert. Saturday night the brethren were involved in a penny roll, cards, games, a talent show and a sing-along. Hiking, sledding, skiing and snowball fights were the other activities of the weekend. Terry Hoover.

"Roots Night" was the theme of a potluck dinner for the LONG BEACH, Calif., brethren Jan. 2. Members dressed in native costumes of their forefathers, and prizes were awarded.

Entertainment was provided by brethren who performed a variety of songs and dances representative of their ancestral homeland. Some of the acts included Mr. and Mrs. Matt Picinic, who performed a Yugoslav courtship dance; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hartunian, an Armenian handkerchief dance; and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Cholerton, who performed a bamboo dance of the Philippines. Two special guests included Donald Duck (Alex Wilson) and a Scottish harmonica-playing comedian (pastor Les McColm). Roland Clark was master of ceremonies for the program. Lateef Edalere and Josef Forson and their families, international students of Ambassador College, from Nigeria were guests. Raymond Newby.

The LONG ISLAND, N.Y., EAST and WEST churches joined for a combined Sabbath service Dec. 25. After pastor Frank McCrady's sermon, the brethren enjoyed a potluck lunch, followed by the showing of the film Behind the Work. Larry E. Rowson.

More than 100 people from MELBOURNE, Australia, joined in the family camp Dec. 24 at Lake Eppalock for five days. Despite the devastating drought, with its moonscape effect and the few scrawny, starving animals, there was plenty of water for skiing, canoeing and sailing. Gavin Cullen, pastor of the Melbourne North church, was pleased with the bond of unity generated during the activities. Sabbath services and daily morning studies helped to orient brethren. Mr. and Mrs. Dieter Bosnjakovic stretched the kitchen and their resources to the limit with great skill in feeding so many with plenty of nutritious food. Geoff O'Neill.

The first picnic of the year for the MIAMI, Fla., brethren took place Jan. 3. The variety of games included volleyball, horseshoes and cards. The YOU kicked off its annual fund raising by selling sodas and candy, as well as collecting empty aluminum cans to be sold for recycling. Shirley Segall.

Camplin and the women of the church. Arthur Greenwood introduced each dish and explained its origin. During each course traditional music of the country of the dish was played by Ross Andrew on the piano and Russell Hayhurst on the guitar. The excess money collected for the dinner was donated to those going to SEP. David Klenner.

About 700 members of the PASADENA Auditorium A.M. church enjoyed a winter social at the Ambassador College student center Jan. 15. The social's theme was "Behold How Good and Pleasant For Brethren to Dwell Together in Unity." Activities started off with fellowship and a hunt by the church's youths for members whose name tags they had prepared. Then brethren were served a potluck. Master of ceremonies for the evening was Jim Roberts. Games were led by Mark McCulley, and prizes were awarded for a youth poster contest on "My Friends, My Pets and I in the Millennium." Dancing to Mark Kersh's modern country and bluesgrass band concluded the evening. Donald D. Schroeder.

About 150 RED DEER and WETASKIWIN, Alta., brethren took part in a winter activity Dec. 19 at the Earl St. Denis farm in Winfield, Alta. An afternoon of skating, hockey and cross-country skiing was followed by a bonfire and a supper of roasted hot dogs. The activities were supervised by pastor Will Wooster. M.E. Morrison.

RENO and SACRAMENTO, Calif., members romped in the snow on the slopes above Lake Tahoe Dec. 26 at the church's annual snow party. The brethren went sliding down the hills on inner tubes, while Chuck Calloway defended himself against a barrage of snowballs. Hot drinks, chili and hot dogs added to the success of the outing. Naomi Yurzy. More than 200 RICHMOND, Va., brethren attended a potluck and games night Dec. 25. The most popular game was bingo. Prizes brought by the brethren were given to the winners. Children played with toys and participated in a version of the game Simon Says. Other games included chess, checkers and Monopoly. Chip Brockmeier.

The last activity of the year for the ROCKHAMPTON, Australia, church took place Dec. 27. Brethren met at a park near the beach of Coocoo Bay, where the activities available were tennis, cricket and swimming. The children enjoyed exploring the rock pools near the ocean. Morning tea and a barbecue lunch were provided. Katherine Jones.

The SAN JOSE, Calif., church had a frontier days social and square dance Jan. 2. After a dinner of chuck wagon stew, salad and pie, brethren enjoyed a skit put on by the YOU and three hours of square dancing to a professional caller. There were movies and balloons for the children, and the evening ended with a sing-along. Bonnie Ferranti.

After Sabbath services Dec. 17 the VANCOUVER, B.C., church had its second movie night this season. The cafeteria of the Thompson School was opened for dinner, and a clothing exchange took place with separate tables for men's, women's and children's wear. Cartoons and the feature comedy Cold Turkey were projected in the auditorium. Fred Whitehead.

A semiformal dance for the WASHINGTON and BELLE VERNON, Pa., and CLARKSBURG, W.Va., brethren took place Jan. 2 in Washington. A donation of $2 per person was requested to help defray the cost of the hall, the four-piece Joe Tazs band and a variety of hors d'oeuvres. Dale M. Crouch.

Jan. 5 the WASHINGTON, D.C., church concluded a citrus fruit sale that raised $5,000. Gary Weckerly, who organized the sale, contracted with a Florida grove to buy 2,000 20-pound cases of juice oranges and red grapefruit. Pastor Richard Frankel and his assistant, Steven Elliott, directed the unloading of the shipment Dec. 12. Mr. Frankel plans to use the funds to sponsor church activities and also to play host to more regional activities. Daniel Peacock.

More than 100 WINDSOR, Ont., brethren attended a church social Dec. 25. Each family brought a pot of homemade chili, a salad and some dessert goodies, and it was all served buffet-style. After the meal table games were played. Patricia Klein.

CHECKLIST FOR CHURCH NEWS WRITERS

Since "Local Church News" is such a great way for you to let others know what's happening in your area, here are a few helpful suggestions in telling your story. You can use this as a checklist whenever you are the reporter for a big happening in your area.

1. Include your complete name, address and phone number on the article itself (not just on the envelope or accompanying letter).
2. Include date and location of the event in the article. Reports lacking the date of the event cannot be run.
3. Give complete, accurately spelled names of all people mentioned. Include first and last names.
4. Label pictures. Identify people in the photo, tell what's happening and give the photographer's name.
5. Write in the third person; use he, she, they, not we or I.
6. Type article or print legibly. Always double-space.
7. Reports must be postmarked no later than 14 days after the event takes place.
8. Be creative, but brief! Tell the story in 250 words or less.
9. Ask a minister to sign your article.

a sing-along. Oliver Willis.
The KINGSPOINT, Tenn., church was host for the YOU district volleyball and basketball tournaments Dec. 18 and 19. A Bible bowl and services Sabbath were followed by a slide show of the area around Petra presented by Ken Smylie, pastor of the Lenoir and Boone, N.C., churches. After the basketball games Saturday evening, the brethren enjoyed a square dance. A concession stand raised funds for the YOU activities. The next day the girls' volleyball tournament was played.

Kingsport YES children and their parents enjoyed a fun-filled evening Jan. 1. In a costume contest Steve King won first place for the most original costume. Second prize was awarded to Elizabeth Elkins, and third place went to Martha Garretson. Games were played, and prizes were distributed to the winners. Snacks were provided by brethren of the church. Ribbons were awarded for the best drawing of Noah's ark. Lola Parham.

The Saskatchewan YOU district family weekend took place in NORTH BATTLEFORD Dec. 24 through 26. Teens arrived Friday evening and attended a Bible study conducted by pastor Owen Murphy and Kim Wenzel, minister in the Prince Albert, Tisdale and Big River churches. Saturday morning started with brunch and a hymnal sing-along led by Terry Roth, pastor of the Prince Albert, Tisdale and Big River churches. Sabbath services by minister Jonathan Buck and Mr. Roth were followed by a chicken buffet and a dance, where a slide show of the year's events was shown. A Sunday morning pancake breakfast ushered in the day's activities, which included downhill skiing, skating, curling and a hot dog meal before departure for home. Hali Bourke.

The OLYMPIA, Wash., church sponsored a preteen party Dec. 30. Some 59 children climbed aboard for a train-ride theme at the Black Lake Fire Department hall, where they played games stationed about the hall. Games included a Frisbee fling to recite one of the Ten Commandments, being blindfolded to pin the loose caboose on a train and coloring a picture drawn by the father and son team of Ben and Leo Nichols. After the games the children enjoyed popcorn while watching movies. The party concluded after a tour of the fire engines and equipment. Decorations were prepared by Mrs. Randy Finden. Nickie Johnson.

Girls of the PALMER, Alaska, Candles and Lace Homemaking Club put on a Mexican dinner for their dads Jan. 2 at the John Orchard home. The menu, decorations and music were in keeping with the Mexican theme. Melissa Griswold introduced the entertainment by Teresa Wilcox, giving humorous readings about fathers; vocalist Lara Blake; Tara Orchard with a clarinet solo; Wendy and Mandy Eckman, Jessica Emery and Brenda Registe, who played flute solos; and Mandy and Tara in a skit.

The Palmer Busy Betsy members learned about the basic food groups at their meeting Jan. 2. The girls and their mothers cut out magazine pictures and constructed collages for each food group. A demonstration was given on how to fold and store grocery sacks neatly. Amy Whitened served some vegetable snacks. Linda Orchard.

The RYCROFT, Alta., YOU sponsored a midwinter moose barbecue Dec.

26. The day began with hockey and broomball. After lunch the activities continued with a carnival, balloon stomp and musical chairs. The supper of barbecued moose, lamb and turkey followed. The day concluded with musical entertainment and a sing-along. Gerhard Richter.
TO COMA, Wash., church children ages 5 to 12 attended a costume party at Carl and Maggie Hilliker's home Dec. 28. Mrs. Laurel Baker organized a skit from Annie, which involved several of the children. The fun started with a costume parade, followed by games and rides on an outdoor cake. Cupcakes and punch topped off the day. Maggie Hilliker.

Children's Corner

A Soft Answer

By Vivian Pettijohn

"Did!"
 "Did not!"
 "Debbie, you did!"
 "I did not, Chris!"
 "You did, too!"
 "No, I didn't!"
 "Children!" Mother exclaimed, interrupting the argument and frowning as she hurried into Chris' bedroom. "Lower your voices and tell me what's wrong, Chris?"
 "Debbie took the new catnip mouse I bought for Chessie and hid it and won't give it back! I wanted to watch Chessie play with it before I go to bed."

Chessie, a half-grown kitten, startled by the loud voices, had hidden under Chris' bed. Now she peeked out, wanting to play.
 "No, I didn't, Mr. Smarty Pants," Debbie argued, with her eyebrows drawn closely together. "I just picked it up to look at it, and it dropped on the floor. It must have rolled or bounced somewhere."

Just then Dad walked into the room. "What's all the ruckus?" he asked.
 Mother explained, and then she suggested: "All right now, let's look around and see if we can find the mouse. I'm sure Debbie was telling the truth."

Daddy felt around under the dresser. Mother looked inside the open closet. Debbie looked under a pair of blue socks on the floor.

Suddenly Chris exclaimed, "Look at who found the mouse — Chessie!" He scooped the kitten up in his arms and laughed as the small cat's teeth hung onto the toy.

"Oh, oh, Chris," Dad said, "it looks like you owe your sister an apology for accusing her of something she didn't do."

"I guess so," Chris admitted, looking a little embarrassed. "I — I'm sorry, Debbie. I should have just asked if you knew where the mouse was, or asked you to help me look for it."

 Dad put an arm around each child and led the family into the living room, where they sat together on the sofa.

"This is a good time," Dad said, "to talk about the verse in Proverbs 15:1 that you children were supposed to learn today. What was that verse?"

"Verse? Oh yes," Chris said. As he repeated the words slowly, Debbie joined in: "A soft answer turns away wrath, But a harsh word stirs up anger."

After a pause, Chris continued, "I guess we learned the words but didn't learn the lesson, huh?"

"That's right," Dad agreed. "Now, how about acting out that verse right now to show what it means? You need to really understand it so you can put it into practice. Chris, you think of a real situation that could happen. Act angry and see if Debbie can give a soft answer to turn away your wrath."

After thinking a minute, Chris stood. "Debbie," he said, pretending to be angry, "here we are at school and you want me to wait 15 minutes for you after school is out while you clean chalkboard erasers! What bad thing did you do so that the teacher made you stay after school? Come on, tell me. I don't like to have to wait on you!"

"Why, you meanie!" Debbie began angrily. Then she paused, laughed at herself, and spoke in a calm voice. "I want to stay a few minutes and help Mrs. Schultz because she doesn't feel very well. Would you be real nice and help so the job can get done faster?"

Debbie looked inquiringly at her parents and asked, "All right?"

"That was fine, Debbie," Mother answered as Chris sat down. "Now you think of a situation where a soft answer would make things better, and Chris is to give the soft answer. When you're ready, begin."

"All right," Debbie said. She stood, pretended to pout, and in a whining voice said: "Chris, you won't let me go up into your tree house in the backyard. You call it your clubhouse and say that it's just for boys! You make me so mad!"

"Well," Chris said impatiently, "no silly girl..." He caught himself and stopped. Then he smiled and said: "The only reason the tree house is just for boys is that I'm afraid you'd get hurt if you tried to climb up the rope ladder Tommy and I made. But tomorrow I'll try to make the ladder stronger, and I'll help you climb it if you want me to. Okay, sis?"

Dad laughed. "You both have done fine — that is, after you remembered to stop and think before you blurted out something that would make the other person angrier. This is an important lesson we all need to learn. Lots of fights might be stopped if we would all learn to give the soft answer."

Suddenly Dad quit smiling. Then he frowned and raised his voice impatiently. "Now you children get to bed this very minute. Don't you talk back. Just do as I say!"

Both children looked startled, but rose immediately to obey, saying quietly, "Yes, sir."

Dad stopped frowning, then laughed and hugged the children. Mother looked relieved.

Dad said: "It's all right. I was just taking my turn acting out a situation that could cause anger. But you children, just by obeying without argument, gave me a good soft answer. Actually you both may have 15 minutes to play with Chessie before bedtime. OK?"

Back in Chris' bedroom Debbie picked up Chessie and tenderly stroked the soft gray fur.

Chris held the catnip mouse up to the kitten, asking, "Want this, Chessie?"

The kitten took the toy in her mouth and purred softly. Debbie laughed quietly and said, "Now that is a very soft answer!"

NEWS OF PEOPLE, PLACES & EVENTS IN THE WORLDWIDE CHURCH OF GOD

UPDATE

PASADENA — Thirteen French-speaking ministers are attending the Ministerial Refreshing Program from Feb. 7 to 17, according to evangelist Dibar Apartian, regional director of the Work in French-speaking areas.

The ministers will also attend administrative meetings to discuss La Pure Verite (French PT) circulation and "the synchronization of the mailing and accounting systems," according to Mr. Apartian.

French Department staff will translate the program and Sabbath services for the ministers and wives.

Countries represented are Canada, France, Guadeloupe, Martinique, Switzerland and the United States.

PASADENA — Evangelist Gerald Waterhouse spoke to the Auditorium AM church and the Auditorium PM church with the Imperial and Spanish churches watching on closed-circuit television, Jan. 29.

Ministerial Services released the following dates and cities as Mr. Waterhouse begins his eighth worldwide speaking tour.

Feb. 12, Fort Worth, Tex., Sabbath services; Feb. 13, Lawton, Okla.; Feb. 14, Ada, Okla.; Feb. 15, Fort Smith, Ark.; Feb. 16, Fayetteville, Ark.; Feb. 17, Tulsa, Okla.; Feb. 19, Wichita, Kan., Sabbath services; Feb. 20, Hays, Kan.; Feb. 21, Salina, Kan.; Feb. 22, Topeka, Kan.; Feb. 23, St. Joseph, Mo.; Feb. 24, Columbia, Mo.; Feb. 26, Kansas City, Mo., Sabbath services; Feb. 27, St. Louis, Mo., and Belleville, Ill., combined Bible study; and Feb. 28, Mount Vernon, Ill.

PASADENA — A concert by tenor Roger Bryant, pianist Ruth Walter and the Los Angeles, Calif., Chamber Orchestra in the Ambassador Auditorium Jan. 23, was characterized as "certainly an outstanding performance" by Ellis LaRavia,

RUTH WALTER

ROGER BRYANT

vice president of the Ambassador Foundation.

Mr. LaRavia said Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong "saw the potential of their musical skills and decided to schedule a performance by them."

"Gerard Schwarz [conductor] said he recently interviewed 40 tenors for an opera in Washington, D.C.," Mr. LaRavia said. "He told me Mr. Bryant's performance was superior to them all."

Mr. Bryant, who holds bachelor's and master's degrees, directs the 40-voice Ambassador Chorale in Big Sandy and teaches voice and speech classes at the college. His wife Lyna Jane often accompanies him on the piano and teaches piano at Big Sandy Ambassador College.

Mrs. Walter, who also attained a master's degree, has studied under Alexander Uninsky at Southern Methodist University in Dallas and Carlo Zecchi in Salzburg, Austria. Her husband Eugene, an East Texas businessman, was chairman of the Music Department in Big Sandy from 1967 to 1977.

PASADENA — The Ambassador College project in Amman, Jordan, is proceeding as scheduled, according to Joe Locke, principal of Imperial Schools here and director of the project, Feb. 1.

Dick and Pat Weber, the couple who are preparing the project in Jordan, are also doing well, according to Mr. Locke, who is in regular telephone contact with them.

Mr. Weber is an Ambassador College senior. The Webers' daughter Stacy is also with them in Jordan.

Tim Lindholm, 23, a plumbing contractor from the Minneapolis, Minn., congregation, is in Jordan assisting the Webers, according to Mr. Locke.

They are remodeling part of the Bunyat Special Education Center, a school for mentally retarded children, in Amman. In August eight Ambassador College students will leave for Amman to help teach at the center ("Jordan Project Moving Ahead," WN, Sept. 13).

Mr. Locke said: "The potential for this project is awesome. I request the prayers of the brethren for it."

"Rather than include the supplement in the WN as we did in the past, this year we're planning to bulk ship the supplement to the pastors. On a yet-to-be-specified Sabbath in April, the supplement will then be distributed to every member," he said.

International Festival information, including applications for the Feast in Jerusalem, will appear in an April edition of The Worldwide News.

"We're looking forward to an inspiring, family oriented Festival," Mr. LaRavia concluded. "We're off to a good start."

Poor interisland connections often require Mr. Bass to wait in airports. "My wife has taken up crocheting," he said.

Mr. Bass says he's greatly helped by his Jamaican wife Millicent, who "has a knowledge of the Caribbean way of thinking."

Married since 1967, the couple traveled to four Festival sites together last October.

"That's too many," he says. "This year we're planning to visit two or three sites instead."

Last year 2,687 brethren attended the Feast at seven English-speaking sites in the Caribbean: Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica, Barbados, Tobago and St. Lucia, in addition to Guyana, South America.

INTERNATIONAL DESK

BY ROD MATTHEWS

PASADENA — It is sometimes difficult to recall all the progress God's Work made in areas around the world last year. But additional year-end reports recall both the activities that filled the year and the scope of the Work.

Southern Africa

Roy McCarthy, regional director for the Work in southern Africa, reported: "With the doors of television and radio still closed, we depended solely upon the Plain Truth magazine to reach the people in this region.

"Presently our subscribers total 102,000 with an additional 41,000 magazines being distributed via newsstands. Our subscriptions have in the main come from the advertisements in the national magazines and newspapers, newsstand cards, blow-in cards and by word of mouth.

"In 1982 we added 61,000 new subscribers — up 61 percent, and now have 24 percent more subscribers than in December, 1981."

An ongoing renewal program keeps an active and interested list of subscribers. The Good News is sent to 4,217 subscribers (up 9.3 percent), and will now be offered to another 6,000 Bible Correspondence Course students. Mail received was up 23.3 percent over 1981. The mail readers processed 206,180 items (more than 800 every working day).

Membership is now 1,431, made up of 1,084 in South Africa, 227 in Zimbabwe, 40 in Mauritius, 30 in Zambia, 14 in Transkei, 14 in Botswana, 12 in Lesotho, eight in Swaziland and two in Namibia. Baptisms were up 16.8 percent in 1982.

Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong's visit to South Africa Nov. 5 to 9 was certainly the most inspiring event of the year. Mr. Armstrong spoke in Johannesburg to 1,246 and to 388 in Cape Town. Other members heard him by telephone hookup in Durban, Pietermaritzburg, East London and Port Elizabeth, and on tape in outlying areas.

In me for the year increased 23.5 percent, of which 76 percent was contributed by our faithful members.

Canada

A record month in December for income encouraged brethren in Canada. For the first time income topped $1 million (Canadian) for a regular month, and the year's income finished with a 14 percent increase over 1981.

The blessings God has given in Canada are felt by the Work in many underdeveloped areas of the world, which are recipients of funds from Canada.

Mail processed (more than 527,000 pieces) in Vancouver, B.C., also set an all-time record, and was up 79.2 percent over 1981. Booklets mailed out in response totaled nearly 1.5 million, with The United States and Britain in Prophecy, Never Before Understood — Why Humanity Cannot Solve Its Evils and The Plain Truth About Christmas being requested most.

More than 500,000 Plain Truths are distributed monthly (207,511 subscribers in English, 76,377 in French, 300,000 newsstands in English, 35,000 in French). Good News circulation stands at 13,413. Youth 82 was at 5,488.

Church attendance averages 10,000 each week; membership is 6,052. New visit requests increased 33.4 percent in 1982 to 1,083.

New Zealand

Peter Nathan, regional director for New Zealand and the South Pacific, summarized the year as one of solid growth. The year began with a series of Mr. Armstrong's full-page ads being run in

New Zealand's two top daily newspapers, plus a series of full-page Plain Truth promotional ads in the country's highest circulation magazine.

In October, four stations began airing The World Tomorrow every Sunday evening — the first time Mr. Armstrong has been heard on New Zealand radio since 1978.

The Plain Truth newsstand program distributed just less than 500,000 magazines during the year, an increase of 331 percent over 1981. About 5,500 newsstand response cards were returned to the office, up 364 percent over 1981, with 50 percent of these people requesting The United States and Britain in Prophecy along with a regular subscription to The Plain Truth.

In addition, an average of 42,350 copies of The Plain Truth were mailed to subscribers each month. As of December, it is calculated that one in every 13.7 New Zealand households received the magazine.

Tough economic conditions and a government-imposed yearlong wage and price freeze began to affect the income as the year progressed.

Mail income ended the year at an increase of 13.7 percent over 1981. This lagged a little behind the inflation rate, and new growth will be prevented next year unless the income picks up.

Numerous opportunities are available, and the possibility of private television opening its door to the Work next October is an exciting prospect.

During 1982 the New Zealand Office received 78,491 letters, 76 percent coming from New Zealand and 24 percent from the Pacific islands — a slight reduction from the 1981 total.

An encouraging indicator of potential Church growth next year was an increase of 51 percent in the number of new visits conducted by ministers in 1982.

Last year was a notable year for overseas visitors. Plain Truth editor Herman Hoeh and his wife Isabell were in Tonga, New Zealand and Fiji for Passover and Unleavened Bread. Dr. Hoeh spoke in four locations, reaching some 85 percent of the brethren in New Zealand and the Pacific islands.

Richard Rice and Ron Urwiler of the Mail Processing Center and Sam Lennon of the Data Processing Center in Pasadena, visited the Auckland Office in June.

Dexter Faulkner, managing editor of the Work's publications, and George Patrickson of the Vancouver Office, visited for the Feast of Tabernacles. Mr. Armstrong was with New Zealanders too — by means of live video satellite link. November saw a visit by evangelist Gerald Waterhouse, who spoke in every Church area in New Zealand.

The Church in New Zealand and the Pacific islands ended the year with 665 members, 600 co-workers and 1,658 donors. The Church meets in 14 locations, with an average monthly attendance of more than 1,000. Good News circulation increased 18.6 percent to 1,423, and Youth 82 circulation of 1,638 was seven times greater than that of Youth 81.
