MANDELA IS DEAD

Every newspaper, every website, every TV channel, even our online banking...

Check out <https://www.fnbc.co.za/>

Celebrities are falling over their feet to say something about the MSM puppet. Messiah, Saint, Forgiveness, Humanity, Humility, Peace...

We knew this was going to happen when he kicked the bucket, but this is just ridiculous. The first picture I saw that morning after he died on News24 was a white woman sobbing like a baby outside his house.

For fuck's sake... I doubt whether 90% of people who are struggling to go on with their lives now that the Black Jesus is gone even know what he did to bring 'peace' to South Africa? A bloodless revolution, they claim.

Yes with 14 000 blacks killed by other blacks between 1990 and 1994 it was one hell of a bloodless revolution.

Peace be upon the Prophet and Messiah, Nelson Mandela™.

Because with the ignorant masses who are oblivious to the Main Stream Media's propaganda, our children's children's children's children will probably pray to old Nelson.

He could've been much worse, but he's no Messiah and he did not bring Democracy to South Africa by himself.

That's all I have to say.

FARM ATTACKS ARE NORMAL... BECAUSE THEY'RE HUNGRY

Almost beaten to death for his dentures

Farm attackers (there's a term for them here - even though you can't actually attack a farm) almost beat a man to death close to Zeerust for his dentures, a cell phone and a shovel.

This blog is mine. I post about stuff that I feel strongly about. If you don't like it, go to a different site. You are free to start your own blog, with your own opinions.

If you live in the la-la land that SAB tries to present in ads and 7de Laan desperately attempts to portray South Africa as, you probably won't like this blog.

I AM NOT A RACIST. SO DON'T PULL THE RACE CARD WHEN YOU CAN'T DEBATE INTELLIGENTLY.

All people ARE NOT CREATED EQUAL. I have no ball skills, for instance, but I can play a mean guitar riff.

Some people are inferior to other people. I'm not a rocket scientist, so as far as intelligence and income goes, I'm inferior to

Stephen Joubert (61)

If it weren't for the fact that the attackers' pistol failed to fire a few times, Stephen Joubert (61) would've been dead. Due to his injuries and the loss of his dentures, he couldn't convey the details of the attack close to the pig sties on the farm, Vaalkop.

There was gold in the dentures.

Mariëtte van der Westhuizen said that her husband, Pieter, had to go to Johannesburg Friday evening. (29 November 2013). Pieter asked Joubert to feed the pigs. Joubert also lives on the van der Westhuizen's farm and is a partner in their safari-company.

Joubert went to the pig sties which are about 2km from the house on a motorbike. At around 20:45, Mariëtte started getting worried about Joubert and went to look for him with a torch, pistol and 5 vicious dogs.

"His hands were tied so tightly with wire that they were swollen and almost black. They kicked him, jumped on him and hit him with a shovel."

The attackers demanded that Joubert give them his dentures when they spotted a bit of gold in them. He sustained various stab wounds to his head and eventually fainted.

The doctor who tended to him in hospital said that if he remained tied for a bit longer, he would've lost his hands and feet due to impaired blood flow.

<http://www.beeld.com/nuus/2013-12-02-byna-doodgeslaan-vir-sy-valstande>

Basically, there would've been another cross at the 'white cross monument' in Ysterberg close to Polokwane if their pistol worked. So Stephen is just another 'lucky one' who got away with his life.

Tell me people; if your booty is a set of dentures, a shovel and a cell phone, do you need to do this to someone? Do you need to shoot him? I'm sure if you pointed a gun at me and asked for my dentures, my cell phone and a shovel, I would've given it to you without much of a fuss.

THIS WAS A RACIST HATE CRIME!

a rocket scientist. That doesn't mean that I'll allow a rocket scientist to treat me like shit. And it doesn't give him the right to treat me like shit.

I deal with a lot of black people every day. Most are nice, some are DICKHEADS. I deal with a lot of white people every day. Most are nice, some are DICKHEADS.

That should sum it up. It doesn't matter what color your skin is, if you are a DICKHEAD, I don't like you.

If you are uncultured, you like to rape and torture people, hurt animals, if you litter, jump queues, stand too close to me in a queue, talk loudly too close to me, if you drive like an idiot. I DON'T LIKE YOU. It doesn't matter if you're black, white, pink, green or orange. If your culture (or lack thereof) irritates me, I don't like you. I also don't like the ANC.

The comments on this site are mostly racist, black and white alike. I censor certain words, but apart from that I leave them on the site so people can say what they want to say. Because you can't do it anywhere else. The comments are not my opinions, so don't call me a racist because some comments are racist.

This is MY OPINION OF THE SOUTH AFRICA THAT I LIVE IN. I'm not expecting anyone to agree with me. If you want to insult me, fuck off. It's like water off the duck's back.

Into The Cannibal's Pot

In an attempt to assert its stance over the recent security mayhem prohibiting any media from publishing pictures of Jacob Zuma's Nkandla homestead, this morning Police Minister Nathi Mthethwa, under the instruction of State Security Minister Siyabonga Cwele, issued a warrant of arrest against City Press editor, Ferial Haffajee.

News of Haffajee's arrest, reminiscent to acts executed during the old apartheid regime, has send waves of shock, anger and disbelief across news rooms, with SANEF deeming it as illegal and downright unconstitutional.

"In a country that presents itself as liberal and democratic, a country where the right to information and freedom of speech is enshrined on its constitution, this happens? Is this Zimbabwe where journalists are arrested for writing truths about their pathetic government? This is shocking beyond measurable proportions, " said one unpleasantly surprised SANEF member.

Sources close to the situation claims that the men in blue "just rocked up" and disrupted an editorial meeting held earlier on between Haffajee and her team.

One journalist, who wished to remain anonymous out of fear of following her boss lady to the docks, claims the police ambushed Ferial like the most wanted jail bird without as much as reading out what her charges where.

"It was like watching an episode of Molo Fish... We just stood there in total awe... The government is really desperate in trying to silence the media. Tax payers money was used to pay for Nkandla and covering such is in the interest of the public, not a security breach. We can't even write about what just happened without risking going to jail," lamented the distressed and fearful journalist.

According to a statement released just moments ago by the State Security Office, the arrest of City Press' editor is one of many to follow.

"...we unequivocally want to send a very strong message to members of the media who have blatantly and arrogantly ignored the state security's call to stop publishing pictures of the honorable president, Jacob Gedleyihlekisa Zuma's private residence, failing which WILL result in a federal offense punishable before the court of law..," the statement read in part.

"We also appeal to residents of the republic to report anyone seen publishing such on social media platforms, as this is an offense under National Key Points Act.... We intend on taking appropriate legal measures to ensure that all culprits are brought to book..." the statement further alluded.

Siyabonga Cwele added that it was the security cluster's constitutional mandate to protect national security and the security of the president. "We will continue to do that (and) we are not going to outsource our function to protect the president," he said.

Ferial Haffajee's arrest comes amidst the controversial Protection of Information Bill, which, to a large extend, will see government's [unwritten] self-enrichment policy come to pass without fear of ever being exposed. To add salt to injury, ANC's Jackson Mthembu, who did not mince his words when probed for comment, welcomed and celebrated the news.

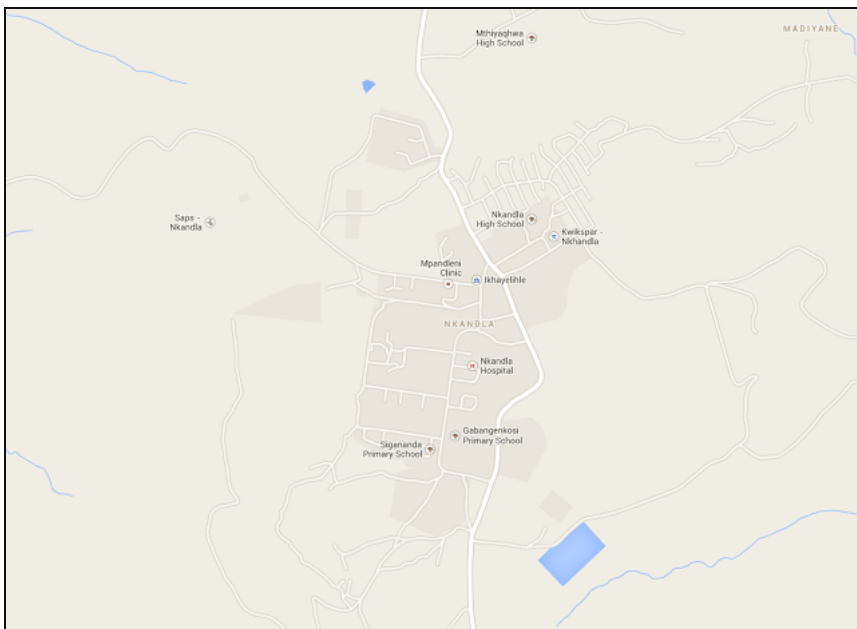

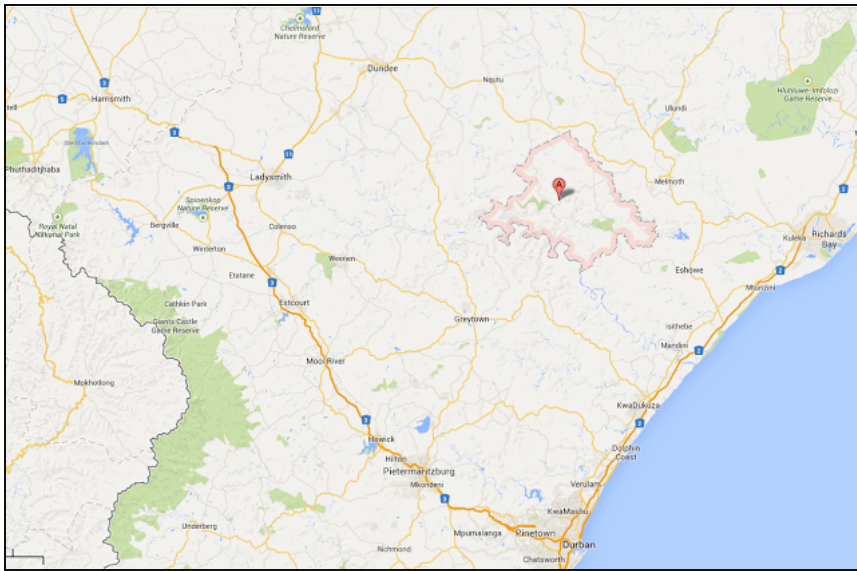

"Let this be a lesson to publications that are hell-bent on destroying the reputation of the ruling party. I am unashamedly rejoicing, and a track from my soon to be released single, "Don't buy City Press – Don't buy!", will be blasting on repeat.

"We are tired of these women trying to wear men pants. Thuli Mandonsela should follow suit..." said the visibly excited Mthembu.

The past two weeks has seen a war of words between the security cluster and Public Protector Thuli Madonsela, where the government approached the courts for an interdict to stop the release of her Nkandla report. The court action was later withdrawn as the cluster did not "have any appetite for running in and out of courts".

Presidential spokesperson, Mac Maharaj, could on be reached for comment.

FUCK YOU, JACOB ZUMA! ARREST ME...

DELUSIONS OF GRANDEUR

You know, what pisses me off the most of these African 'BIG MEN' is that they suffer from ridiculously inflated ego's.

Like Julius Malema who was going to take on Twitter, Facebook and Google...

Nathi SeTETman, what are you gonna do? You going to start invading the US and UK and start confiscating pictures of Nkandla? To protect you 'honourable' fucknut of a president?

You ain't gonna stop the internet, you imbeciles... You got the 'freedom' you wanted, now deal with it.

Just another FUCK YOU to Zuma:

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO THE ANC

Just when you thought the ANC couldn't come up with anything more ridiculous, they struck again.

This time, Gwede Mantashe blabbered on and on about how the 'Tripartite Alliance' is like the Holy Trinity.

<http://gatewaynews.co.za/mantashe-comparison-of-tripartite-alliance-with-holy-trinity-blasphemy-burger/>

Isn't it funny how quickly Communists become Christians when they need the votes?

The Gospel according to Gwede Mantashe:

"...the organisation [ANC] is Biblical with all respect..."

"...look at the number 3, the Holy Trinity and the Tripartite Alliance..."

"...the number 3 is important, as well as the number 12..."

"...Jesus had 12 disciples and the ANC had 12 presidents in its first 100 years of existence..."

"...We also have our own Moses; In 1993, a week after the assassination of Chris Hani, Oliver Tambo died. Then in 1994, Nelson Mandela led us through the river [sic]..."

Gwede, I'm no theologian, but I think Moses led the Israelis through the sea. You may want to actually read the Bible if you want to make these statements. Or maybe just try reading in general.

I assume that Saint Mandela also brought the tablets of the constitution down from Freedom Hill some time after 1994. It must have been after he had a conversation with Winnie's burning bush.

All we need to complete the story is a few million bloodthirsty Palestinians to give the ANC a constant headache. But, you're on their side, huh... So this makes no sense Gwede.

But like all Communist parties the ANC just doesn't make sense...

The Gospel according to Jacob Zuma:

February 2011:

"When you don't vote for the ANC you should know that you are choosing that man who carries a fork ... When you are carrying an ANC membership card, you are blessed....When (Jesus) fetches us we will find (them) wearing black, green and gold, the holy ones belong to the ANC."

October 2013:

"Whether we like it or not, God has made a connection between the government and the church. That's why He says you, as a church, should pray for it (the ANC) ."

May 2008:

"It (the ANC) is even blessed in Heaven. That is why we will rule until Jesus comes back."

I wonder what Jesus would say about Zuma's harem...

MEDIA BIAS AIN'T A NEW THING

Just a quick one, cause it's almost 0:00 and I have to go to bed as I have to get up early to WORK.

Yes, contrary to popular belief, some white South Africans (previously advantaged, blah, blah...) do actually WORK for a living. In fact I've just stopped working about 10 minutes ago.

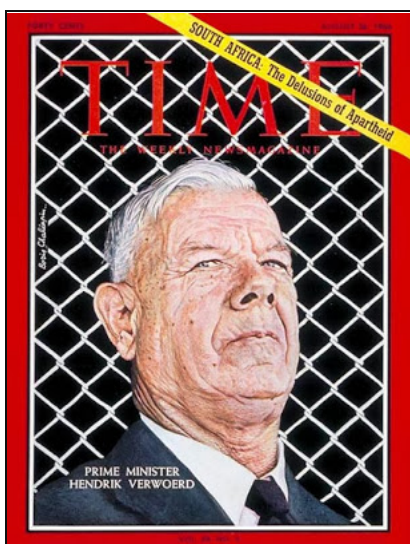

Anyway, I saw a few pictures of H.F. Verwoerd the other day. Just did a quick Google image search and the 1960's media bias just popped out from the screen. There's very little about his life and policies on the internet, apart from the fact that he was obviously the Antichrist reincarnated.

Just as in science, where you come up with a theory first and afterwards try to prove it or disprove it, media bias works on the same basis. You decide beforehand that someone (or a party) needs to be portrayed a certain way and then work your way backwards from there.

For those of you who don't know, this is what Verwoerd looked like:

But the picture sent out to the rest of the world? At the same time that massacres took place all over Africa and were being dismissed as 'growing pains', this is what they made him look like:

Whether I agree or disagree with his policies (which he inherited from the British anyway) doesn't really matter. What I'm trying to say is that the media controls A HELL OF A LOT of our perceptions of people.

Just take Bashar al-Assad, the president of Syria as an example. The US wants to bomb the shit out of Syria for reasons that have nothing to do with the liberation of the Syrian people. In fact, they are openly supporting Al-Qaeda in the civil war against Assad. So they try to make him out as a monster. He's been compared to Hitler. But he seems like a nice and educated guy who wants peace in his country.

LUCKILY, TODAY, WE'VE GOT A LITTLE THING CALLED THE INTERNET.

So if you open your eyes and you refuse to believe the bullshit the powers that be want you to believe, there's a chance you might just stumble on the truth along the way.

AFRICANS UNITE... EUROPEANS ON THE OTHER HAND...

You gotta admit that blacks in South Africa have one thing we should all learn from. They UNITE. They've got this strange almost mystical ability to sing and dance in unison. I always wonder how they know the words to all the songs. It's like watching a musical sometimes. And they all CAN SING.

Just go to an African funeral. And yes, I've been to a few...

THE CONTRAST PART 1 - AFRICANS

Diepsloot Murders:

This Tuesday, the 15th of October, two toddlers were found murdered in a toilet cubicle in Diepsloot.

The naked bodies of two-year-old Yonelisa Mali and her cousin Zandile Mali, 3, were found in a public toilet cubicle in Diepsloot at 5am on Tuesday. This is, of course, tragic. But I'd just like to give my opinion about this as well. Seeing as I'm allowed one.

My Opinion:

I have a 3 year old son. We NEVER leave him on his own. If he's playing outside in the yard and we don't hear his voice for a second, we go out and call him. He's not allowed to go outside our yard and he knows this. He goes to a pre-primary school while we're working.

Now, I can hear the comments already... But the residents of Diepsloot are poor, they can't afford day care. There's also more than 50% unemployment in Diepsloot, so chances are very good that at least one of the parents don't work.

Our neighbours have a 5 year old girl. They are black. No problems there. She comes over to play with our son almost every day. She comes home from school (grade R) on a bus and walks alone all the way from the bus stop. She then has to wait at the gate of the security complex until someone else opens the gate when they arrive, because she doesn't have a remote for the gate.

Her elderly grandmother and other siblings (much older) are supposed to look after her in the day when her parents are at work. Sometimes they are not at home when she comes home from school and she comes over to our house because she can't get into the house. Sometimes she's here for hours before she goes back home. Nobody ever comes over to our house to call her. We have to tell her to leave when we know they're home and when it's dinner time.

Neither of her parents have been to our house, although we've spoken to each other when we're outside. They know nothing about us. Yet, they let their daughter come over and stay as long as she wants. She does the same all over the complex.

This is the African way. I've heard a lot of people say the same thing. The 'community' is expected to raise their children. Well done. Maybe 500 years ago this was a great way to raise children.

So, as much as I feel bad for these 2 girls who were murdered, I also think that the parents should be held accountable as well.

How many times do you see small black children playing next to busy roads in townships, without any supervision?

Diepsloot Outrage:

On Tuesday, when residents found out about the murders, they went nuts. Granted, we're all outraged if 2 toddlers get raped and murdered.

Video of Diepsloot Riots

So, as I said the residents went nuts. Normal shit, they burnt tyres, looted foreign owned shops (even though the girls' parents are foreigners). Police had to bring them to order with rubber bullets. Nothing funny there.

Malema's EFF

The residents vowed that they would vote for Julius Malema's EFF party in the next elections. They complained about this and that and the other and the fact that the police should protect the children. (How can you expect the police to look after your children?) I'm sure Malema's police stations will all have day care centers right next to the holding cells.

http://www.iol.co.za/news/politics/diepsloot-residents-pledge-to-vote-eff-1.1594346#.UmLwa_mVP84

ANC's Gauteng Premier

So next step... The Gauteng Premier, Nomvula Mokonyane, is wheeled into the township in her shiny Merc to address the angry residents. Desperately trying to cling on to votes, she accuses the EFF of trying to score political points from a tragedy.

<http://ewn.co.za/2013/10/18/Diepsloot-recovers-from-emotional-day>

His Excellency, Jacob Zuma

Even our esteemed president jumped on the bandwagon, taking valuable time off from satisfying his harem:

President Jacob Zuma said in a statement: "These gruesome incidents of extreme torture and murder of our children do not belong to the society that we are continuously striving to build together."

Mr Zuma condemned the murders and appealed to residents to work with the police to identify the perpetrators, rather than taking the law into their own hands.

"We condemn these murders in the strongest possible terms. Whilst we appeal to the communities not to take the matters into their hands, we also want to urge them to work with law enforcement authorities to find the perpetrators and prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law."

<http://www.independent.co.uk/news/world/africa/murder-of-two-toddlers-whose-bodies-were-found-in-toilet-sparks-riots-in-south-africa-8883550.html>

The Conclusion:

The ANC probably got every detective in the country to look for the murderer and the police quickly offered a reward of R100 000.

<http://www.news24.com/SouthAfrica/News/R100-000-reward-for-Diepsloot-murder-info-20131017>

On Friday, 4 or 5 guys were already arrested and taken into custody. If you want results in this country. BURN A FUCKING TYRE!!!

Angry residents gathered at the police station where the suspects were held and demanded that the police release one of the men SO THEY COULD BURN HIM.

<http://www.news24.com/SouthAfrica/News/Diepsloot-residents-protesting-20131018>

The Diepsloot double murder was the first in a series of child killings which sparked national debate.

On Wednesday, the bodies of two young girls were found in a field in Zonkezizwe outside Katlehong on Gauteng's East Rand. (it is now believed that the mother killed the children)

The next day, a one-year-old girl and her mother were hacked to death with an axe in Limpopo.

And today (Saturday) a new born baby (with its umbilical cord and name tag still attached) was found, wrapped in a plastic bag in a river in Diepsloot. His mother sent his father a text message to say that she dumped the baby. Police are looking for her.

<http://ewn.co.za/2013/10/19/New-born-found-in-Diepsloot>

THE CONTRAST PART 2 - EUROPEANS

David & Ralie de Villiers

On the same day, David (87) and Ralie de Villiers (86) were murdered on their farm in the Eastern Cape. It just took me about 30min to find the article on News24.

News24 - An elderly couple was killed and a relative injured on Broadlands Farm, near Elliot, on Wednesday, Eastern Cape police said.

The man and woman, both in their 80s, were stabbed several times, Captain Ursula Roelofse said.

Their daughter found them. A relative injured in the attack was taken to hospital.

"The motive of the murders is unknown at this stage and forms part of the investigation."

The attackers gained access to the farmhouse through a small window. Nothing was stolen and no arrests had been made.

<http://www.news24.com/SouthAfrica/News/Elderly-farm-couple-killed-in-Eastern-Cape-20131016>

This is all they got on News24. Two people, almost 90 years old have their throats slit in their own home and the above is what they get in the press.

And to make matters worse, they used a stock photo of a white hand with a knife, dripping with blood.

No protests, no burning tyres, no outcries, no rewards offered, no task forces established, no condemnation from the president, the premier, the police chief, no political parties involved. Nothing.

Just another elderly white couple murdered on a farm in South Africa.

At least Steve Hofmeyr had something to say about it:

And Beeld had more details about the murders:

<http://www.beeld.com/nuus/2013-10-17-2-vermoor-oor-toe-kluis>

I could go on and on and on... I just don't want to think about it too much, like most white South Africans. Ignorance is bliss. And if it weren't for 'racist' blogs like this, nobody would know about these people.

3 year Old Willemien Potgieter shot execution style:

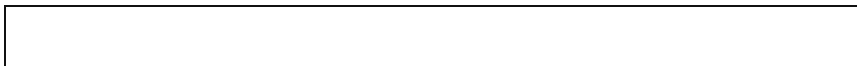

<http://www.thetruthaboutsouthafrica.com/p/3-year-old-white-girl-killed-with.html>

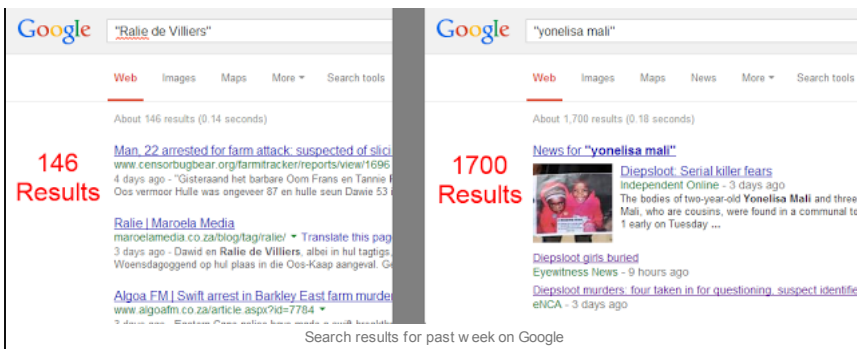

5 month old Wiehan Botes strangled:

<http://www.thetruthaboutsouthafrica.com/p/5-month-old-baby-strangled-in-delmas.html>

When a handful of local residents protested after these murders, everybody condemned them for being racist.

What the fuck is wrong with this picture?

CONCLUDING EUROPEAN STYLE:

And this is probably where it will stay. Our protest is done on the other side of a computer screen. And I admit my guilt as well. We bitch and moan in cyber-space. Something the residents of Diepsloot don't have access to.

When we do organize protests, like Sunette Bridges did with RED OCTOBER, nobody turns up. Because we've got jobs and the Rugby Final is on. When we do protest, we also get laughed at, called racists and condemned by our own race. I was completely taken off guard with all the liberal whites in South Africa who condemned the RED OCTOBER protests.

Anton Taylor:

Watch this video below by a wanker called Anton Taylor, who's obviously one of those typical English Johannesburg / Cape Town liberals who went to a private school and had loads of "middle class black friends". His daddy probably still pays for him to fuck around as a (not funny) comedian. He probably also lives in a highly secured complex with razor wires, electric fences, infrared intruder alarms and armed response.

But Anton, your black friends are coconuts, my friend. They are just as white as you and me. And they grew up middle class, with TV's and running water and electricity. You ain't seen an angry machete wielding township adolescent with a politically induced hatred for whites in your life. Not in Sandton or wherever the fuck you hide away in your multicultural paradise.

I'd love to see you try to explain to the tsotsi's that they shouldn't rape your wife, drown your children in boiling water and torture you to death because you have "a lot of black friends". You got a white skin china. They'll fucking chop you up like any other white.

Two words for you, Anton Taylor: AMY BIEHL Oh, and FUCK YOU. In no particular order.

The Problem:

The problem here is of our own making. It's evolution, I reckon. With the advent of European ideas such as free speech, liberalism, equality and free thought, we engineered our own demise.

The uneducated, uncivilized, unemployed and un-thinking masses of Diepsloot can UNITE AS ONE and protest, whether their protests make sense or not. They can loot foreign owned shops while their at it, because they don't subscribe to our notions of free-thinking etc. They act like wildebeest, stampeding, wrecking and trampling, without thought.

And while they're doing it, Europeans are analyzing, debating about the legitimacy of the concept, arguing about the definitions of 'genocide', the accuracy of the statistics, the concept of this and that. We are divided about the smallest insignificant shit.

And in the meantime, we're being wiped out. The Muslim Brotherhood is taking the reigns. Third world immigrants are turning Europe and the USA into shit holes. South Africa's minority is being picked off one by one, our agriculture is going down the shitter, which causes food prices to go up, which causes blacks to get hungry, which causes blacks to get angry and which causes idiots like Malema to come to power.

So, Anton Taylor, you go ahead, do what you do, I'm sure you've got a British passport in your safe. You're gonna need it in a few years' time. Cause while you're chowing down your T-bone at a restaurant with all your 'many black friends', the guy in the township is getting hungrier, because there are less and less farmers around to grow mielies for his 'pap'. And all the while he's got Malema whispering anti-white hate in his ear.

Multiculturalism is a ticking time bomb. The only logical conclusion is that we all go down to the lowest common denominator.

The Solution:

I DON'T KNOW... DO YOU?

FARM MURDERS AND BLACK ON WHITE ATTACKS - OCTOBER 2013

These are just the murders and attacks on White South Africans that I found on Beeld's news page for the last 3-4 weeks.

Strange that Beeld completely disregarded the Red October campaign, but they probably know how many racially motivated hate crimes and murders take place every day. I'm sure they don't publish even half of the stories.

For a more accurate account of black on white murders, please visit: <http://www.censorbugbear.org/farmitracker/>

Or for a list of black on white murders from Jan - Oct 2013 compiled by Adriana Stuijt, please visit: <http://censorbugbear-reports.blogspot.com/2013/10/jan-oct-2013-whites-2013-murder-toll-by.html>

The number of whites murdered in HATE CRIMES from the beginning of the year is 138. These are not farm attacks, but MURDERS.

So, I'll pick up where she left off:

The last month (reported on Beeld.com)

17 October 2013

60-year old murdered in townhouse, Bloemfontein, throat slit, nothing stolen.

DEAR JULIASS...

I'm happy that you've finally dropped the cANCer and started your own party. This might give the ANC some much needed competition and would mean that they can't just push everything through parliament.

There's just a few things that I would like to bring to your attention as I assume that mathematics and history are not your strong points (neither was woodwork, apparently).

Revolution:

Now we all know that Che was one cool motherfucker. Hell, I had a T-shirt with his face on. My friend still has a poster of him in his house.

On a visit to Perth in 2006, I waited for a friend of mine at the University of Notre Dame in Fremantle and picked up the Uni newspaper. I found a very interesting article in the newspaper. Some student decided that he would do a survey. He asked every person in Perth he encountered who wore a Che Guevara T-shirt who Che was and where he came from. Something like 90% of the people couldn't tell him.

I personally wore a Che T-shirt because Rage Against the Machine made it famous. So, yeah, if the guy asked me who Che was, I wouldn't have been able to tell him. I knew he had something to do with Cuba. But I certainly didn't know that he came from Argentina and that he was a qualified medical doctor.

I wonder if you know?

I do like your new style, though. You look the shit. And the berets, well, you've got something going there. I wonder if you have a hand in the pie of the company who sells them?

I assume that you know that Che Guevara was executed and had his hands amputated and sent to Argentina to verify his fingerprints. His watch was also taken.

Just make sure you keep your Breitling in a secure place.

Later in my life, when I came to the realization that although Rage Against the Machine made awesome music, Marxism doesn't work and has been a failure everywhere, I bought a different T-shirt, which makes more sense. It looks like this:

Now, with your limited intelligence, I don't know if you'll understand what the picture is trying to convey, so I'll explain it to you.

You see the 'R' of Revolution and the 'Star' on the beret are both red?

If you take the red out of the picture, you'll notice that the picture now only has a monkey with a beret and the word: Evolution under it.

Basically, if you give a monkey a badge, they'll try to start a revolution.

It is also a part of Evolution for monkeys to start Revolutions. Capicé?

It's awesome that you would like to help your fellow uneducated and underprivileged black brothers in South Africa to gain economic freedom. I just think that you need to make a few adjustments to your plans and I have done a few calculations to help you, seeing as your math skills are obviously a bit lacking:

Commercial Agriculture:

South Africa's staple food is pap. Pap is made from maize, or mielies as we know them. I'm sure your supporters all eat Pap. I don't know about you, because you've always seemed to be rolling in money, so maybe you eat out most of the time.

Mielies are grown on fertile, agricultural land by commercial farmers. In South Africa, most of these farmers are white. You don't like the fact that they are white - you've said it quite a few times.

I don't know if you've noticed that, after all the propoganda on SABC news, they usually show commodity prices. This includes the price of mielies per ton. Now, dear Julius, a ton of mielies is a fuckload of mielies. It won't fit in your Range Rover.

At the moment, the price of mielies is around R2300 per ton. That may seem like a lot of money, but you have to remember that you need to buy the seed, you have to pay workers, you have to pay diesel and interest on your loans, accountants, vehicles, tractors and.... tax.

So, let's say for argument's sake that you can produce a ton of mielies for R1150 (I'm sure it's way more than that, but let's keep it simple for you). So, your profit will be? R1150, that's right, Juliass.

Now, South Africa has a total area of 1221037 km². It sounds like a lot, doesn't it? But Juliass, you have to remember that most of South Africa is semi-desert. I don't know if you've heard of the Karoo or the Kalahari, but basically if a place is semi-desert, you can't grow plants there.

12% of South Africa's land is arable (this means that you can grow shit on it). So, all in all, only 146524 km² of South Africa can be used to grow crops. This translates to 14652444 hectares. Now, a hectare is 100m X 100m.

Juliass, you say that you want to divide all the land between all the people of South Africa. So, I guess it includes whites, coloureds and indians as well. We have a population of 36 670 471 people above the age of 15.

So Juliass, if we divide the arable (remember what that means?) land between these people, each person will have 0.004km² of land. That is 0.4 hectares per person. This is 4000m² per person. About 64m X 64m.

So, now that everybody in South Africa has a piece of land, we still need to eat our pap. So we still need mielies. But that's no problem, is it Juliass?

You see, the average yield per hectare of irrigated (that's when you give the plants water) land is 8.6 tons of mielies. This is if you use the soil properly and let pieces of it stand for a year or two, put fertilizer in the soil etc. So, you have to know what you're doing. You also need to buy proper seeds. You can't just use the seeds from your last mielie batch. But I'm sure you'll educate everybody who gets land on these trivial matters, right?

So, if you get 8.6 tons per hectare on your 0.4 hectare piece of land, you'll get 3.44 tons of mielies per year. Remember we worked out how much profit you make on a ton of mielies, Juliass? It's R1150.

So now every person gets a total of R3956 PER YEAR from their patch of land. This is if they didn't sit under a tree drinking the whole year and put effort into their crops.

This works out at a profit of R329 per month. But remember, Juliass, you also won't get the money every week, like the white boss used to pay you. You'll have to borrow the money at the beginning of the year and then pay off the debt plus interest until you receive your R3956 at the end of the year.

It sounds great, this having land thing, ne?

Blatant Racism:

<http://www.news24.com/SouthAfrica/News/EFF-killing-banner-causes-outrage-20131014>

I don't know if you know about it, Juliass, but your EFFIE members had a banner at your party's launch which says: "A revolutionary must become a cold killing machine motivated by pure hate."

Maybe you should have a chat with these guys, because this doesn't seem like a good message to be sending out to the population and the rest of the world.

Apparently there were also posters that read: "Honeymoon is over for white people in South Africa" and "we need to kill them like they killed us".

You also ended your speech by singing: "Kill the Boer", which I think isn't a very good idea.

You see, Juliass, the world is watching us. And South Africa needs foreign investors to grow our economy. They don't like investing in countries where people with political clout openly call for the genocide of a minority.

The other thing I'd like to talk to you about (and I'll do that in the next lesson, because I know you have problems paying attention in class) is international rating agencies.

You see, contrary to popular belief, the tax that SARS collects every year pays off loans (installments - like you pay for your cell phone). The loans have interest. And the interest is calculated on the basis of the risk that the people who give us the money think we have of not paying back the money.

Your brothers at Marikana managed to get all the rating agencies to downgrade South Africa when they smeared themselves with muti that made them invincible and charged the police with machetes and spears.

If I were you I'd have a nice little chat with them and try and explain to them that if they do something like that again, we'll be downgraded even further and they'll end up paying more for their KFC and pap.

Kind Regards,
A concerned potential EFF voter

RED OCTOBER

Wiehan Botes

When I started this blog I was angry. I was BEFOK. A 5 month old baby was just strangled in Delmas and when whites came together and protested about the violence against whites, the whole establishment called them racist. The DA even jumped on the band wagon.

Apparently, it's racist to protest when a 5-month old baby gets strangled for a cell phone by a black who obviously hates white people.

We should be concerned about all crime in South Africa, not just crimes against the minority of whites.

Why can we not voice our concerns when our babies are strangled? Why the fuck is that racist?

If a white man kills a black person in South Africa, they come out in their numbers to protest against the racist whites. Remember the white boy who went nuts in a squatter camp in Swartruggens a while ago? Media outcries the world over.

And who can ever forget the famous picture of Hector Pieterse, which we'll see until the end of time? It's the double standards that make me so angry. You won't ever have seen this picture of Wiehan again.

But this picture, my dear friends - this picture made front pages all over the world.

I'm sure the photographer also still lives off the royalties, because he won endless awards for capturing the true 'crime against humanity' that Apartheid was.

Helen & Alice Lotter

Mrs Helen Lotter, 57, and her bedridden mother Alice, 76. Tortured to death with broken beer bottles in their anuses and vaginas – the attack had been so horrendous that the post-mortem examiner was unable to find any of Helen Lotter's sexual organs at all; her breasts were partially cut off and broken bottle-shards were inserted in her vagina and anus as part of the hours of torture she and her mother Alice had endured –her cervix and uterus were completely shredded.

The mother's front teeth were bashed out; her entire body was 'covered in bruises, chafing and stabbing wounds. Her sexual parts were mutilated extensively also internally. The old farm woman had died due to 'asphyxiation after breathing in blood from penetrating stabbing wounds in her neck and throat'. They were then both left to die.

Mrs Helen Lotter's death-bed confession identified the killers as a gardener, Joseph Hlongwane, 22 who had only started working for them a few months earlier, and an associate Joseph Khumalo, 21. The forensic DNA and fingerprint evidence confirmed Helen Lotter's death-bed confession. "Kill the Boer" had been daubed in the women's blood on the farmhouse walls.

And what happened when white people took to the streets in the town where the court proceedings took place?

ANC mayor, Mrs Mataba Leeto led an anti-Boer protest at the law court where the trial was held. They chanted genocidal hate-speech songs such as 'Kill the Boer, kill the Farmer' in support of the two killers' getting bail. Mrs Leeto has not been put on public record as expressing any kind of sympathy nor outrage over the way the two Lotter women had been tortured to death. Instead, she led a group which was protesting against the 'racism' of local Afrikaner residents who had held a 're-enactment' of the way in which the women were tortured to death to illustrate the community's deep anger. Both men were found guilty and sent to prison.

Red October

So, today, white South Africans and whites all over the world, who can see what is happening here took to the streets peacefully and tried to bring the white genocide in the making to the world's attention.

And what response do we get? Can anyone guess? The card they always pull? C'mon...

We're racists. The lot of us. We're stupid, we're backward, Apartheid sympathizers. Crime knows no color in South Africa. We all suffer, not just you...

YES, BUT WE DON'T DISEMBOWEL YOUR GRANDPARENTS WITH BROKEN BOTTLES AND WRITE 'KILL THE BOER' ON THE BEDROOM WALL IN THEIR ROOM WITH THEIR BLOOD. CAN YOU SEE THE FUCKING DIFFERENCE, YOU ARROGANT LIBTARDS?

I've said this many, many times before: There is a difference between one drunk black guy killing another drunk black guy with a knife in a shebeen because the guy stole his beer and RAPING, TORTURING AND DISEMBOWLING A FARMER'S FAMILY without stealing anything.

CAN YOU UNDERSTAND THAT? IS IT SO HARD TO COMPREHEND?

The Press and Social Media

What pissed me off most about today is how the media ridiculed the Red October marchers.

Beeld, which is supposed to be an Afrikaans news paper had NOTHING on their website about the marches. Probably shit scared to be called racist.

The screenshot shows the Beeld newspaper website. At the top left, it displays the location 'Johannesburg' and the temperature '19°C'. The main navigation bar includes categories like 'VOORBLAD', 'NUUS', 'SPORT', 'SAKE', 'OPINIE', 'KUNS & VERMAAK', 'MULTIMEDIA', and 'BYLAE'. Below the navigation, there are several news snippets. Two are circled in red: 'Beskuldiges in moord op ma laat vaar borgaansoek' and 'Boervrou van Noordwes vermoor'. Other visible headlines include 'R133 000 vir Nandos in 'n maand' and 'Hidrobreking in Karoo 'n stap nader'.

Ironic that there are two articles about black on white murders on the frontpage, though. One of a farmer's wife murdered yesterday. BUT THERE'S NO FUCKING PROBLEM. We're just racists.

Eye witness news, which we all know is a puppet of the DA had the following to say:

The screenshot shows an 'EYE WITNESS NEWS' article. The header includes the logo 'EYE WITNESS NEWS' and the tagline 'IN TOUCH, IN TUNE AND INDEPENDENT'. The date is 'THURSDAY, 10 OCTOBER 20:58 CAT'. The article title is 'Red October is lunacy'. Below the title is a photograph of a Red October march in Pretoria, with people holding red balloons. To the right of the photo are social media sharing options: Email, Share, Print, Keep for later, and a Facebook Recommend button with 539 recommendations. The text of the article reads: 'CAPE TOWN - Many South Africans have taken to social networks to voice their utter disgust about Red October. Several cities are expected to take part in Red October marches throughout the country. Protesters will be voicing their concern against what they term the "slaughter of white people" in South Africa.'

They went on to post only tweets that OPPOSED the march:

The huh? for Red October

2013-10-10 14:05
Lauren Hess, News24

Cape Town - A series of protests around the country and in cities in other parts of the world against an apparent white genocide in South Africa has been met with a mixture of support, disgust and confusion.

#RedOctober was one of the top trending topics in South Africa on Thursday as activists staged protests in Cape Town, Pretoria and other cities, according to the Red October website.

The event's organisers believe that whites are being targeted in hate crimes in South Africa.

Protesters in Pretoria marched to the Union Buildings where they handed over a memorandum demanding an end to what they call a white genocide in South Africa.

Protesters in Cape Town marched from the Cape Peninsula University of Technology's Cape Town campus to the main Naspers building in the CBD and then to Parliament.

See pictures of dozens of people protesting in the Red October march to oppression of and violence against white South Africans.

I won't even bother posting the comments. I need to calm down first. Most accuse the marchers of being 'racist', having 'Apartheid nostalgia', being 'insane'.

A lot of them also tell whites to just get out of the country if it's so bad.

It doesn't sound too bad until you look at the 'individual pillars' of competitiveness.

2013 Report

The Good News:

It's not all doom and gloom. But the good news is not BECAUSE of the ANC, but DESPITE the ANC. Our financial institutions are world class. In fact the banks that 'ol Juliass' EFFIES want to nationalize, managed to go up to the 3rd place. YES, our banks are the 3rd best in the world, people.

We also rank 1st out of 148 countries for the following:

- Strength of auditing and reporting standards
- Efficacy of corporate boards
- Protection of minority shareholders' interests
- Regulation of securities exchanges
- Legal rights index

The Bad News:

The ANC and their Unions have managed to fuck up things to the point where we now rank:

- 141/148 for Business costs of crime and violence
- 120/148 for Favoritism in decisions of government officials
- 101/148 for Quality of electricity supply
- 144/148 for HIV prevalence
- 146/148 for Quality of the educational system
- 148/148 for Quality of math and science education

And we can thank the unions for the whopping results in the labour market:

- 142/148 for Pay and productivity
- 144/148 for Flexibility of wage determination
- 147/148 for Hiring and firing practices
- 148/148 for Cooperation in labor-employer relations

If we consider the fact that the quality of our Math and Science education is now the WORST IN THE WORLD, the guys in the Unions will probably think that 148/148 is pretty good. After all it is 100%.

When the Unions in Marikana started all the shit, they also couldn't grasp the idea that if they kept striking for months on end, the mines they work for, which were already struggling with high production costs and low platinum prices, would end up firing loads of them.

Now they're striking because the mines are going to retrench thousands of their workers.

BAM! More lay-offs next year.

But what do you expect from a bunch of idiots who believe that smearing themselves with Muti from the local witch doctor will make them 'bullet proof'?

Once again, the ANC's policy of 'liberation before education' has paid off.
